The Deadline Is October 15

By EARL WHITLOCK

I hope, as you do, that your man in the service will be happily home before Christmas. But there's no use blinking facts and the probability is that, in spite of all the army and navy can do, a great proportion of the boys and girls now overseas will NOT be able to be brought home by then.

The great and complicated problems of logistics enter into that. There aren't enough ships to do the job as quickly as we wish.

All of which leads up to the matter of that Christmas package for overseas men. Don't forget, will you, that October 15 is the last day for mailing those packages if they are to be delivered by Christmas Day.

The war isn't over for those in far places. The shooting may have stopped but they're still a long ways from home and they thirst and hunger for home ties. It wouldn't be any great loss if your boy did get home by Christmas Day and the package you sent happened to be still overseas. But it would be tragedy if the package were still at home and the boy overseas.

So get it bought and properly wrapped and addressed and in the mail.

MITSCHER SAYS HEAVY CARRIER FORCE NEEDED

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 8 (AP) Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, deputy chief of naval operations for air, said today that our carrier supremacy should be maintained in the postwar period and declared that "carrier based air power" is the present day medium for enunciating the principles of naval warfare.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the brigade of midshipmen at the U. S. Naval academy, which is celebrating its centennial this week, the former commander of Task Force 58 of Pacific fame said:

"In seeking a basis upon which to establish the composition of the navy of tomorrow we must not for a moment lose sight of the fact that our carrier supremacy defeated Japan and that carrier supremacy should be maintained.

"With the passage of time, there will undoubtedly appear weapons to challenge the carrier, but remember this—we have proven the efficacy of carrier air power and until such a time as other weapons are proven to be superior we should not neglect the power that is carrier supremacy."

Carriers in Secondary Role (James J. Streb, Associated Press aviation editor, reported from Washington last night that it had been learned that the navy has drawn plans for its postwar fleet allocating a secondary role to aircraft carriers, despite the role played by aviation in the winning of the war.

(Streb said that battleship-minded top officials had forbidden discussion of these postwar plans by the so-called "air admirals," and that proponents of a larger role for aviation were hopeful that congress would insist on hearing from the men who directed the carriers against Japan, such as Admiral Mitscher.)

As part of its drive for a 30 per cent wage rate increase in the automobile industry, the UAW has asked for strike votes at General Motors and Chrysler as well. Dates for these two votes have been set.

Coal Conferences As the soft coal conferences were resumed in Washington, John L. Lewis, leader of 163,000 miners away from the pits, was absent. He was expected to join the conferees later today.

The strike has shut down some 600 pits in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee and Indiana and has threatened to spread nationally.

In Hollywood, at least 12 strikers and two policemen were injured in fighting at the entrance to the Warner Brothers studio as law officers cleared a passageway for workers. It was at the same gates that some 25 persons were injured Friday in a similar melee.

In response to an appeal from President Truman, 3500 express truck drivers and helpers in the New York metropolitan area reported for work despite their plans for a strike early today.

Eastern Star—Alpha chapter, Eastern Star, will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Masonic hall, Sanford Selby will act as chairman for the refreshment and program hour which will follow the regular business meeting. All Masons are invited to come to the social hour as special guests.

and my fervent gratitude for your unwavering loyalty." Truscott, in accepting the command, told Patton:

"It is only in a sense that you take leave of this army, for as long as any man who has served under you shall live, your place will remain sacred in his heart."

Band Breaks Forth The band broke forth with "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" as Patton stepped down from the platform.

Spearheading the drive for the free press requirement is Rep. Clarence Brown (R-Ohio), a newspaper publisher.

Russia never worried about fraternization. If her people wanted to mix with the Germans, that was all right with her. There has been no ban on political parties or political activity in the Russian zone. The Russians are apparently perfectly confident that they can handle anything that develops.

They probably can. Their methods of handling such developments are a bit rough, but they seem to be efficient.

It's not the purpose to say here that the Russian method is right and our method is wrong. This writer doesn't know. He hasn't been able to find anyone over here who does know—or even professes to know.

Here in Europe, where we are beginning to rub up against them, the Russians are as great a mystery as they are to our people back in the States.

About as far as anyone here is willing to go, for publication, is to HOPE the Russians turn out all right.
