of America (CIO) continued to seek court aid in keeping their jobs going. When injunctions were obtained the AFL unions away its pickets.

Olympia, five mills employing 900 men resumed operations this morning, Burk Christensen agent of the IWA reported. The local court restraining order yesterday.

Workers at the United States Plywood corporation here planned a meeting of their IWA local today to decide whether to walk through picket lines tomorrow morning and open the plant. Kruger said pickets would be massed at the plant gates.

"Our men have been instructed to avoid violence," he said. "We aren't going to fight. We'll be there, but if any CIO worker wants to go through, he can. We just want them to know we don't like it."

No Pickets

At Portland, AFL pickets failed to appear yesterday at IWA-manned plants and all reopened.

Pickets from Seattle and Tacoma moved to Olympia yesterday and their lines shut down mills employing some 900 IWA workers. The CIO union obtained a restraining order and said its men would be back on the job today. The IWA in Aberdeen asked that temporary anti-picketing injunctions be made permanent and it was indicated in superior court the decision may not be made for a day or two.

Forest Fires More Numerous This Year

PORTLAND, Oct. 10 (AP)—Forest fires started by hunters have been more numerous and have covered larger acreage this year than in 1944, Assistant Regional Forester Otto Lindh said today.

Largest blaze attributed to a hunter covered 1500 acres in Columbia national forest, north of Vancouver, Wash. There also have been many smaller fires, Lindh said, warning that forests are now very dry. Many blazes are caused by morning fires which hunters do not put out, he said.

was not fully accepted by the operators who said their willingness to negotiate should not be taken as any retreat from their position that foremen should not be unionized.

After the UMW chief rejected their counter-plan, Schwelb prepared a revised proposal which he hoped would be acceptable to both sides and bring settlement of the 20-day old work stoppages in mines in six states.

More Steelworkers Quit

Additional steelworkers were forced to quit work because of coal shortages and production in many mills was cut by the closing of blast furnaces and open hearths. Miners off their jobs by the strikes included 75,600 in West Virginia; 58,467 in Pennsylvania; 27,500 in Kentucky; 8,000 in Tennessee; 8,000 in Ohio and 5,000 in Indiana. With no coal to move, 50 trains and 300 employees of the Louisville &

Nashville railroad in Kentucky were idle.

New York's crippling port-wide strike of 35,000 to 60,000 longshoremen left the world's busiest harbor virtually idle again today, the 10th day of the walkout in a dispute over a new contract. Thousands of tons of cargo were unremoved as 369 ships were tied up.

Delaying Return

The strike, said Capt. Hewlett R. Bishop of the war shipping administration was delaying the return of "thousands of troops," and 17 Liberty ships had been ordered to leave their cargo behind and sail for Europe immediately to pick up loads of returning servicemen. Army and UNRRA cargo previously had been carried by the vessels on trips to Europe. He said more than 110,000 tons of relief cargo and army supplies have piled up, including 8,000 tons of perishable meat for the army.

Today all local unions of the AFL International Longshoremen's association were expected to vote on whether to return to work tomorrow.

DECLARES DIVIDEND

three hits during the day, giving him a total of 11 safeties for this richest of all series and deadlocking him with Stan Hack, the Cub third-sacker, for the championship of this fall classic, just one less than the record for a seven-game set.

After the Cubs picked up a second run in the fourth, the Tigers came back with another in the seventh on a walk and Richards' second two-bagger. The final two Tiger tallies came off Claude Passeau in the eighth on a walk to Webb, Eddie Mayo's double down the left field line, an infield out and a long fly by Hank Greenberg, who thus wound up with seven runs batted in for the series.

Greenberg Outstanding

This left Hank, the outstanding individual star of this series, one below Bill Nicholson, the Cub right-hander, in the important run-batted-in department. Nicholson took the title with his run-making double in the eighth.

Following up Monday's silly sixth game, the boys settled down to breaking some of the more interesting records in the book today. The dozen runs batted in for this game, gave the two Clubs a total of 58 for the series, six more than the seven-game record total the Tigers and Cardinals chalked up in 1934.

Nicholson's eight runs batted in deadlocked him with Goose Goslin of the 1924 Senators and Al Simmons of the 1932 Athletics for most scores sent home in a seven-game set. The all-time series record, however, is nine, knocked home by Lou Gehrig in the four-game 1928 series.
