

CONGRESS HOT OVER PROPOSAL TO HALT LOANS

By CLAIR JOHNSON
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—Congress reacted warmly today to a house committee's proposal that America withhold loans to Russia and Britain until they make certain policy changes.

But several key officials said they wished the committee had not been so blunt. They expressed fear that what they termed "undiplomatic language" would place added strains on relations between the United States and its war time allies.

The suggestions concerning American lending policy came from the postwar economic policy committee headed by Rep. Colmer (D-Miss.).

Just returned from a two-month tour of Europe the group urged specifically that before any loans are made:

1. Russia be required to accept an "open door" attitude toward American technicians and press.
2. Britain unlock trade barriers "inimical" to United States interests.

Congressmen questioned were unanimous in approving the committee's views.

However, Chairman Bloom (D-N.Y.) of the house foreign affairs committee told a reporter:

"They said what most congressmen probably believe, but that's not the way to promote good relations. You can't fight your way through this world. You have to sit down and talk things over with your neighbors."

COUNCIL NOT SATISFIED ON JURY VERDICT

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 11 (AP)—A committee that won a church council demand for an inquest into the police shooting of a negro declared today it was not satisfied with a verdict that the shooting was justified.

A coroner's jury ruled last night that City Detective Bard Purcell acted in "performance of duty" and in protection of himself and fellow officers when he fatally wounded Edwin Jones, 37, last August, while seeking another negro.

At the inquest, demanded by the Portland council of churches and other groups, police said they forced their way into Jones' home when he refused to open, and fired in response to two shots from within the house.

The Jones' family and neighbors testified that the police did not identify themselves, causing the dead man to think that robbers were entering. Police denied this.

The committee of churches and businessmen said it would "continue efforts to achieve the principles of justice represented in the Jones case."

In a formal statement the group charged that the inquest was "unfair" because of "exclusion of negro citizens from the jury, the refusal of the coroner to permit a public examination of jurors, and refusal of the police sergeant witness to produce the official report of the killing."

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 11 (AP)—Oakland police released Christian Weinberg, 57, last night and announced investigation had convinced them he had nothing to do with the miner's pick slaying three weeks ago of Rodger Greene, 2nd, 75, son of a former Washington state supreme court justice.

Weinberg, who had lived at Greene's home for years, was taken into custody for questioning several days ago. Inspectors said they believed an anonymous "confession" note written on Weinberg's typewriter had been an effort by someone else to throw suspicion on him.

One small lightning fire resulting from Tuesday night's electrical storm was discovered Wednesday afternoon by forest lookouts near Weyerhaeuser camp 4 on the Greensprings highway.

Rainy weather has lessened fire danger to some extent, according to KFFA officials, but smoke has drifted in from other areas and made lookout visibility very poor. Small lightning fires may still be undiscovered because of this.

The smoke is thought to be coming from California and from Jackson county.

JUST PLANE HAPPY BIRTHDAY

If there's a birthday coming up for an air-minded member of your family, give him (or her) a block of flying time or flying lessons. Nothing would be more appreciated by someone who's wanted to fly ever since he was old enough to glue a model plane together. And don't worry about his being too young. Children have the inherent ability to fly. The CAA, realizing this, has reduced the minimum age from eighteen to sixteen years.
