

COMMUNISTS BLAMED FOR DOCK STRIKE

By ALEX SINGLETON

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Union leaders today condemned Britain's spreading stevedore strike, paralyzing the island's great ports and menacing the measure ration system, and declared the walkout was being encouraged by communists and others.

The national docks group committee of the Transport and General Workers union in a statement said "there is definite evidence that the present stoppage had been seized upon by people connected with certain political organizations who had ready prepared machinery at their disposal for encouraging and maintaining strike actions."

Blames Communists

Questioned as to the identity of the political organization, Arthur Deakin, a union official, said "the revolutionary communist party."

J. Donovan, another union official, said however, that the action was not confined to communists and there were other "elements among certain sections of employers and shipowners prepared to foment the difficulty."

The committee declared there was no "justification for prolonging the stoppage by a single day."

Meanwhile troops ordered into the seven-mile long Liverpool docks, began unloading 12,000 tons of urgently required foodstuffs from five freighters and nine coasters.

Strike Spreads

The strike spread to Edinburgh, where 1,000 Scottish dockers quit work in sympathy with the English strike.

In London, Strike Leader Thomas Powell warned that the huge port would be tied up completely by Monday unless a settlement is reached over the weekend.

Most major ports already were throttled as stevedores ignored return-to-work pleas of union leaders, despite a government statement that negotiations could be conducted only through regular channels between union officials and dock owners.

A possibility that the shutdown would spread to the south coast was raised by a spokesman for a delegation of workers from Southampton, where thousands of American soldiers have been embarking for home. He told a meeting of London strikers that "Southampton is willing from noon today to back you up all the way."

OUTBREAK QUELLED BY PORTLAND COPS

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 12 (AP)—Five negro soldiers were arrested today in an outbreak at a colored district cafe which ended in a police riot call.

Patrons of the Acme club reported that the soldiers came in brandishing revolvers and that two of them took money from a checkroom cashbox.

While police moved into the club, several soldiers appeared at the Keystone cafe across the street, ordering five customers to hold up their hands.

Floyd Mack, leaving the cafe, said he was struck down when he told the soldiers to desist, and was robbed of a diamond ring. He was treated at Emergency hospital.

Five negro soldiers, all from Vancouver barracks, were booked on charges of carrying concealed weapons and threatening to commit a felony.

FORMER TEACHER DIES IN PORTLAND

Mrs. Cornelius Janssen, 43, formerly a Klamath county school teacher, died October 11 in Portland following a lengthy illness. Her death occurred at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evans. Final rites will be held Saturday at the Presbyterian church at Aurora, with McGinnis and Wilhelm Morland funeral home, Portland, in charge.

Mrs. Janssen is survived by her husband and four children, Sadie, Mary Lou, Cornelius Jr., and Harry, all of Antelope Valley. Mrs. Janssen was born in Aurora, Ore.

During her 13 years of residence here, Mrs. Janssen was active in school work.

If we are to learn anything from the causes of war, it is to moderate our concern for preserving the delicate balances of power and deepen our concern for moral values.—Rabbi Nathan A. Perilman of New York City.

Employers Asked To Keep Disabled Persons In Mind

This week, which has been proclaimed "Employ the Physically Handicapped" week, is drawing to a close, and employers are asked to remember the slogan when filling vacancies in their staffs.

News stories which appeared in Oregon papers this week show the potentialities of persons with some physical disability.

One story stated that blind women were being taught to do their own housework. If they can do it for others, with a little patience at the beginning and careful training. Both men and women who are blind are being taught handicrafts at the Oregon blind trades school in Portland, and learning typing and Braille reading.

Another story carried in the Coos Bay paper tells of Alleen Lattin, a young lady who, paralyzed by poliomyelitis, leads an active life from her wheel chair.

If business managers will cooperate to place a person, when called by the employment officer, the designation of this week as "Employ the Physically Handicapped," will have completed its purpose.

We now realize more than ever the need for real international cooperation in health and we hope to march side by side with our comrades in the United Nations in securing it.—Sir William Jameson, chief medical officer, British Ministry of Health.

What is Peace?

Peace is more than the absence of war. Peace is a friendly handclasp, small talk on a front porch, friends in for dinner.

Peace is a birthday party, a Christmas tree, an Easter service in a white church. Peace is telling someone where the Smiths live, laughing at a joke, asking a neighbor what you can do when there's sickness in his house.

Peace is people helping instead of hurting one another, trusting instead of suspecting, tolerating instead of hating.

Peace is forgetfulness of creed and color. It's meeting on equal terms. It's honoring a man for what he is instead of defaming him for what he isn't.

This is peace. And until we have this, we won't have real peace—the feeling in our hearts that all is right once more.

Right now, we can make a good start towards this goal. For, right now, in our local community campaign, we have the chance to help our neighbor. To help him regardless of who he is or how he worships. To act together in mutual trust and confidence.

And this is democracy in its finest expression. This is part of all we are fighting for. This is what you help to bring about when you contribute to the local community fund. Make your contribution today—and make it as big as your heart!
