

MARSHALL ASKS ONE MILITARY DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall told senators today this country no longer can depend on "coffee cup" intelligence work but must have a world-wide espionage system.

The general of the armies urged maintenance of an over-all intelligence setup as an adjunct to the proposed merger of the army and navy into one military department.

"We should know as much as possible about the intent, as well as the military capabilities, of every country in the world," he testified before the senate military affairs committee.

Marshall said that before the war this country depended on information that could be obtained by military attaches "over the coffee cups at some dinner." He had a vague recollection, he said with a smile, that congress discouraged any other kind of intelligence network.

Business Basis
At the same time, the five star general said, all of the rest of the world was finding out what the United States was doing. He insisted that henceforth, this country must put its intelligence on a "business basis."

"We must know the facts for our own defense," he declared. Marshall, pleading for a unified postwar army-navy department, said the navy neither "consulted nor informed" the army when it made its postwar plans.

The chief of staff told the committee it had been exceedingly difficult during the war to get agreement on conflicting ideas of army and navy leaders. That's why, he said, a mere continuation of the wartime joint chiefs of staff isn't enough. Marshall declared the navy department recently sent congress its plans for a postwar navy and marine force, and added: "The war department has neither been consulted nor informed."

CONSTRUCTION AWARDS

Flashes of Life

STRAIGHT AND NARROW
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 18 (AP)—Miss Emma Lou Hamilton took a cab to a local hospital where she was to assume her duties as a Red Cross gray lady. She paid her fare with what she thought was a $1 bill and hurried in.

Walking through the hall a few minutes later she was confronted by the taxi driver. "Lady, you gave me a $5 bill and didn't get your change. I had to hunt quite a bit to find you."

He then gave her five one dollar bills. Considering this too much of a good thing, Miss Hamilton pointed out to him that she really desired to pay something for the ride.

GI FASHION NOTE
CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (AP)—GI Joe will become Dapper Dan Sunday when the State street council will present a fashion show of civilian male attire before 3000 servicemen in the Servicemen's center. The models will be soldiers and sailors about to receive their military discharges.

FIRE HUNTING
EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 18 (AP)—Evanston firemen had to haul 15 tons of coal from a basement of an apartment building to the street before they could extinguish a small fire.

The blaze was in the middle and at the bottom of a bin filled with more than 60 tons of coal and before the firemen could reach it they had to move 15 tons. Only a few squirts of water were necessary to douse the fire.

BOOKLET PICTURES SON OF KF WOMAN

Mrs. Rosa Pederson, 922 Gobi street, has received a booklet, "200 Missions, 401st Bomb Group," printed in England and showing activities of the group in which her son, Cpl. Walter Joseph Ambrogetti, was flying on a B-17 at the time he was killed in action, September 17, 1944.

Young Ambrogetti, who was born in Klamath Falls and entered the service in 1943, is pictured leaving his plane following a mission over Germany. Ambrogetti is buried in the United States military cemetery at Cambridge, England, 42 miles northeast of London. His widow, Florine, and infant son, live on Martin street in this city.

Margaret Watts, staff assistant for Klamath Falls USO center, starts her new position by tacking up a notice of the football game which will be held this Friday.

Margaret Watts Will Serve As Staff Assistant At USO

Margaret Watts arrived in Klamath Falls Saturday to serve as staff assistant for the USO as representative of the Salvation Army. Miss Watts, a native of Michigan, attended Columbia university, and worked in a General Motors office before she started to do recreational work.

She handled publicity and recreational work for the American youth hostels in the east, arranging bicycle rides and cross-country wheel trips for groups of youngsters. After that she worked with a private service center in New York. The San Francisco USO office heard of the work she had done among servicemen and invited her to take a place on the west coast. When Alice Miles was transferred to the San Francisco USO, Miss Watts was sent here to fill that position.

Miss Miles left Klamath Falls Friday to take her new position in the large USO center on Market street in San Francisco. She was a staff assistant here since November, 1944, as a representative of the Salvation Army. Alice, who made many friends while she was with the USO here, worked especially with the volunteer junior and senior host-

BRITAIN REQUESTED TO OPEN PALESTINE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—President Truman said today the United States has asked Britain to open Palestine to 100,000 Jewish refugees, but that Prime Minister Attlee did not want to admit that many.

The whole matter, he added, still is under consideration. The president made this disclosure at a news conference at which he also said no additional "Big Three" meeting is contemplated to settle the stalemate which developed from the London council of foreign ministers.

The president said he did not want to push the British unduly in their consideration of further Jewish immigration to Palestine. He said that Attlee didn't want to admit as many as 100,000.

The whole matter, he said, still is being considered and there was rather voluminous correspondence between the two governments some time ago. The president also told report-

He made this comment when asked about criticism of UNRRA by members of congress, recently returned from Europe.

River Not Heated By Atomic Bomb Plant

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Investigation by the Fish and Wildlife service refutes speculation that operations at the Hanford atomic bomb plant, Richland, Wash., heated up the Columbia river to an extent dangerous for fish.

The service reported today that it found the Hanford openators heated the Columbia only "an insignificant amount" and that no toxic substances were added to the water.
