presidency, were reported under arrest and scheduled to face a swift trial.

(Bogota advices, quoting Caracas radio, said the trial would be on charges of graft and fraud. They added that the former government leaders would be given an opportunity to explain the source of their fortunes publicly.)

State of Siege

A state of siege existed in Caracas, which had been isolated from the rest of Venezuela. Newspapers were censored, radio stations closed, transport paralyzed and electric current shut off.

Reinforcements from insurgent-held Maracay, 30 miles east of the capital, were reported en route to restore order. Thousands of armed civilians had begun to loot Caracas homes shortly after the Medina government fell.

Members of the junta which controlled the capital were said to be Dr. Romula Belandier, member of the democratic action party; Maj. Carlos Delgado Chalbaud and Capt. Cardona, son and nephew, respectively, of the late Delgado Chalbaud, who spent many years in prison during the dictatorship of the late Juan Vicente Gomez, greatest of the Andinos; Luis Beltran Prieto, Dr. Gonzalo Barrios, Dr. Paul Leoni and Dr. Edmundo Fernandez.

Advices from Bogota said Romulo Gallegos, noted author, was considered the junta's likely choice for provisional president.

Maintain Relations

(Bogota dispatches said the Caracas radio stations returned to the air and announced that the junta would maintain permanent relations with all countries, especially the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union and Latin American powers.)

The revolution began shortly after 2 p. m., Thursday, when young officers seized the Miraflores palace and the military academy. Several high officers and cabinet officials who had been lured to the palace were seized as hostages.

Foreign sources credited Medina, second president after the 26-year-Gomez dictatorship ended in 1935, with having brought Venezuela far along the road to democracy.)

Local Auto Dealer Attends Preview

John Ashley, Klamath Falls Chevrolet dealer, returned from Portland this weekend after attending a preview of the new 1946 Chevrolet at the company's zone headquarters.

Ashley said that following the policy of former years, the new Chevrolet will be displaced simultaneously in dealers' showrooms throughout the country some time around November 1. The specific date will be announced later.

GAR Commander Passes The Word

SEATTLE, Oct. 20 (AP)—The new commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, 99-year-old Hiram R. Gale, wants it known that the 149 veterans of the Civil War still alive are capable of directing their own organization.

Gale returned from the national convention at Columbus, Ohio, last night a little put out by an article appearing in a national magazine.

"They say the women are running the GAR to suit themselves and it doesn't mean much to be a national commander," Gale said. "Well, I say the women can run the auxiliary and I'll run the GAR."

AFL UNION HOWLS OVER NLRB ORDER

for pay lost since his discharge, Aug. 21, 1944.

His reinstatement now would pose two problems:

1. If he is not accepted in the AFL union, a non-member would be working in a plant with a closed shop contract.

2. To prevent similar occurrences, a company would be obliged to investigate union decisions—a power employers do not have.

Kenneth Davis, executive secretary of the AFL northwestern council of lumber and sawmill workers, declared "we will fight this decision in all of the higher courts, for it would destroy the 'union shop clause' in all of our contracts if allowed to stand . . . as a first step, the case will be appealed to the circuit court of appeals."

Union Contract

Portland lumber mill's contract requires it to "release from its employ any person, upon formal demand from the union, who fails or refuses to maintain membership in good standing in the union."

The NLRB held that, despite this proviso, Wilmarth's discharge was discrimination against the CIO in that it prevented workers from seeking a change in collective bargaining representatives at election time. The board ruled that the company should have ascertained "the illegal purpose behind the demand" of the union for his discharge.

Company attorneys contended that they have no way of knowing why a union demand is made, since union records are not available to them.

of the 22 locals. The union had demanded a 30 cents an hour hike.

As supervisory and non-striking employees manned facilities, a near-normal flow of gas and electricity was furnished, but heating service in downtown buildings in Jackson, Battle Creek and Saginaw were affected by curtailment of service from central heating plants. Detroit was not affected by the walkout.

As AFL Longshoremen officials in New York reported a general back to work movement after an 18-day strike of 35,000 stevedores, trouble was reported at the port of Houston and the entire Central gulf coast of Texas. Shipping was tied up after 1000 warehousemen quit their jobs and 2500 longshoremen joined in a sympathy strike.

A wage dispute involved warehousemen in Houston, Galveston and Lake Charles, La. An AFL Longshoremen official said the union and various company managements failed to reach an agreement on wage increases.

A strike of 15,000 glass workers in 10 cities "definitely can be expected by Monday," Lewis McCracken, secretary-treasurer of the CIO Federation of Glass, Ceramic and Silica Sand Workers of America, said in Columbus, O., last night. The threatened strike, he said, follows breakdown of contract negotiations between glass company owners and the federation's wage committee.

Deadline Set
Also set for Monday is the deadline for the Western Electric company in Kearny, N. J., to meet wage demands by the independent union which conducted a nationwide demonstration stoppage in telephone service on October 5. A spokesman for the Technical Employees council said it had voted to take collective action against the Kearny plant, focal point of the recent stoppage, unless demands were met by Monday.

More than 1500 employees of the Scherling Rubber company in Akron, O., were away from their jobs after 75 mechanical and maintenance employees failed to report for work, halting production in several departments.

At least four stoppages ended, including the three-day strike of 8000 CIO United Steelworkers at the Crane company plant in Chicago. About 4000 AFL Carpenters in Knoxville, Tenn., out since October 8, voted to go back to work pending wage negotiations.

Gov. Edward J. Thye of Minnesota announced AFL union officials and the Northern States Power company had reached agreement in a contract wage dispute which had threatened a strike at midnight Sunday that would have halted electric current to consumers in about half of the state.

Youth Charged With Jap Murder

VALE, Ore., Oct. 20 (AP)—An 18-year-old youth arrested in Dalhart, Tex., for car theft has been charged with the first degree murder of N. Murisu, 61, La Grande Japanese-American.

District Attorney E. Otis Smith, who filed the murder charge, said Floyd Pousson, 18, Lake Charles, La., was carrying Kurisu's watch and personal effects. Sheriff Charles W. Glenn said he expected to take extradition papers to Texas.

Nisei friends tentatively identified a body found in a gravel pit near Ontario, Ore., as that of Kurisu, missing since October 5. Dr. Joseph Beeman of the state crime laboratory said the Japanese died of gunshot wounds.

Discharged GI To Tell Story Of Wife Murder

LITTLETON, Colo., Oct. 20 (AP)—Authorities planned to get from a 26-year-old discharged soldier late today his formal account of a strange tale that he fatally shot his wife and then raped a chance acquaintance while his wife groaned in death throes.

Deputy District Attorney Robert Lee said an information probably charging murder would be prepared after the sullen prisoner's statement is obtained in the Arapahoe county jail.

The ex-soldier, Joseph Desrosiers of San Antonio, Texas, was arrested Thursday night by 20 peace officers as he crouched beside his wife's dead body in a car mired in a cornfield.

SCIENTISTS URGE NEW ATOMIC BILL

mestic development in the field. The scientists groups put it this way:

"Complete and arbitrary authority and power over all aspects of atomic energy, whose release has ushered in a new era of our civilization, is placed by the bill in the hands of nine commissioners who, once appointed, are practically speaking immune from removal.

"The proposed commission may allow full and complete revelation of all present and future knowledge in the field of atomic energy, or may promulgate security regulations so stringent as to prevent discussion and interchange of information, the life blood of scientific progress, even between co-workers in the same laboratory, public or private. The scope of such regulations is not limited to those necessary for military security."

SENATE COMMITTEE APPROVES TAX BILL

taxes which piled up while they were in uniform.

But the heavy wartime excise taxes on furs and cosmetics, movie tickets and liquor, light bulbs and jewelry would not be cut to their pre-war levels next July 1, as the house previously voted.

Nothing Final
Nothing is final yet. You might say the tax reduction bill is about three-sixths of the way through to enactment.

The house ways and means committee originated a bill calling for a $5,350,000,000 reduction. The house approved it. Now the senate finance group has rewritten it with the aggregate cuts made $279,000,000 larger.

The bill yet has to pass the senate, go to a conference committee for adjustment of differences between house and senate, and win the president's approval.

Explosion Kills School Baker

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 20 (AP)—Charles Auth, 50, school baker, died today as the result of an explosion which demolished Hill military academy's mess hall and injured 12 others.

Two young boy pupils and the sister-in-law of the school director were reported in critical condition today. They were James F. Knight, 14, Spokane; John Patrick Hayden, 12, Portland; and Mrs. Benjamin W. Hill, 41, Portland.

The explosion, which hurled a water boiler through the walls and 60 feet up an embankment, occurred yesterday shortly after a luncheon crowd of boys had left the mess hall.

Paul Veruoso, 19, Brooklyn, N. Y., maintenance man who was installing a hot water tank at the time of the blast, was still hospitalized today, but in good condition. Hospital attendants said the other two persons still confined—Warren H. Granger, 13, Spokane, and Harry Walker, 42, Portland engineering assistant—were also improving.
