

KLAMATH FALLS WOMAN KILLED IN CAR CRASH

In the middle of the 1942 Lincoln Zephyr sedan. The machine was hit so hard, the right side was pushed to the center of the vehicle creating a pinnacle effect in the roof, state police reported.

No Stop Sign
Daughtery was alone in the truck at the time. He advised police that Miller entered Shasta way without stopping. State police checked the street for a stop sign but advised that it had been removed.

Passengers in the Miller car said they did not see the truck and did not believe that the vehicle's lights were on. Daughtery, however, advised police that his lights were on at the time of the crash. It was dusk at that hour.

Impact of the two vehicles sent the springs on the truck back the length of the axle, police said. Daughtery said he was driving his International truck at about 15 to 20 miles per hour, and Miller said his speed was approximately the same.

Rushed to Hospitals
The injured were rushed to the hospitals by Klamath Merchants Police ambulance. Mrs. Hansen suffered a basal skull fracture and brain injury which caused her death. The body is at Ward's.

Miss Hansen, secretary to W. D. Miller company, has a possible pelvic fracture, injuries to the knee and other hurts.

Young Miller has lacerations of the scalp and an injury to the right ankle. His condition is not serious. The Miller family resides at 9th and Jefferson.

Daughtery is at his home, 3601 Eberlein, recovering from shock. His injuries were said to be slight by officers.

The Miller car had stopped to pick up Miss Hansen who was attending a birthday party and was en route to Klamath Falls at the time of the crash.

Mrs. Hansen was born January 1, 1886 at Fjell, Norway. She came here three years ago from Kelso, Wash. Two daughters, Mrs. Gudrun Belter of Longview, Wash. and Gertrude of Klamath Falls, survive as do three sons, Henry G., Klamath Falls; Nick O., Grants Pass, and Arthur M., Portland. Final rites will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday from Ward's chapel.

JURY DEADLOCKED IN YOUNG TRIAL

ing and storage concern in Klamath Falls, on the contention that Young was subject to periodic epileptic attacks, had knowledge of the physical condition which might cause him to "black out" at any time, and was negligent in that he continued to drive a car and truck knowing of this illness.

O'Neill's defending theory was that Young had never been told by police or physicians that he should not drive and that he was just doing what an ordinary man would do under the same circumstances. Both Young and his wife, who had been at his side throughout the three-day trial, testified that he had not been warned to stop driving and that he earned his livelihood operating a truck.

Jury Retires
The jury retired at 2:32 yesterday afternoon. About 5 o'clock, unable to reach a binding decision, the foreman, William E. Beck, asked Judge David R. Vandenberg to dismiss the jurors.

Declaring that they had not spent enough time on the case, the judge ordered the jury to resume deliberations. About four hours later, still hung eight to four for conviction, the jury again asked to be dismissed. This time the request was granted.

Somebody Got It Over Medford!

MEDFORD, Oct. 25 (AP)—Medford preppers may have a permanent record of their powerful 1944-45 grid squad.

Somebody—presumably football opponents—covered the school with paint last night.

School authorities rushed out an order for five gallons of paint remover, but they don't think they can get all the daubing off.

they renounced American citizenship in the cause of family unity.

"Pressure Groups"
At the time of the hearings, three "pressure groups" were reported active in the Tulelake colony in inducing people to renounce U. S. citizenship. These were Sokuji Kikoku Hoshi Dan, made up of older men; Hokoku Seinen Dan, a young men's group; and a girl organization known as Hokoku Joshi Dan.

The men's groups were the aggregations which held semi-military drills, made a lot of noise in the early mornings, and through their activities drew a sharply worded denunciation from a representative of the department of justice at Tulelake at the time.

The 4300 renunciants are all persons over 18 years of age. There are large numbers of children related to the members of the group, who necessarily will share the destiny of their adult relatives.

The justice department has not announced what is to be done with renunciants and others held under stop orders at Tulelake. There have been reports that deportation is being considered.

Change Status
Recently, a dispatch from Washington indicated that some of the renunciants had asked the justice department about the possibility of changing their status and what might become of them.

Right along with this came the indications from Tulelake that some of the evacuees were going to seek a court review of their status, and that a large sum of money for that purpose was being collected. There is no provision in the law whereby a person who has renounced citizenship can "renounce his renunciation" and some method of court procedure might be used to determine whether that is possible.

It is reported some of the renunciants claim they were led into their action without understanding of its full significance. Others may claim they were coerced through the activities and threats of pressure groups. Some may feel that renunciation for reasons of family unity justifies an opportunity for them to change their minds.

Separated
Some younger evacuees, who renounced citizenship to remain in the same status with their elderly alien parents, now find themselves in the unexpected position of being separated from their parents because of their action. In these cases, the parents are now permitted to leave Tulelake since the lifting of restrictions by the western defense command, while the son and daughter renunciants must now stay there under department of justice stop orders.

There is understood to be nothing in regulations at the Tulelake center which would prevent an evacuee from having and hoarding money, and it is believed much of the money transferred this week from the colony had been cached there for a long time against future needs. Colonists with outside resources were able to have their money brought to the camp, and many colonists also have earned while there.

Irons Without Cords Will Be Produced

DETROIT, Oct. 25 (AP)—Eureka Vacuum Cleaner Co. today announced it was starting production of electric irons that require no dangling cords.

H. W. Burritt, Eureka president, explained that the new iron operates from a thermostat-controlled safety base from which it obtains instant heat after brief electric contact. The thermostat control, he said, automatically switches current on and off.

Hearings Will Begin On Military Training

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—Chairman May (D-Ky.) announced today the house military committee will start public hearing November 8 on President Truman's request for universal military training.

The committee already has a bill introduced by May early this year calling for one year of training for every able-bodied youth as soon as he becomes 18 or shortly thereafter. It follows generally the president's recommendations.

TAX CUT BILL HITS SNAG IN HOUSE ACTION

(D-Tenn.) Dingell (R-Mich.), Robertson (D-Va.), Knutson (R-Minn.), Reed (R-N. Y.) and Woodruff (R-Mich.). Senate members of the conference committee are Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the finance committee, Walsh (D-Mass.), Barkley (D-Ky.), LaFollette (Prog-Wis.) and Taft (R-Ohio).

The senate bill proposes to relieve individual income taxpayers by $2,644,000,000 next year, corporations by $2,934,000,000, and owners of automobiles and boats by 140,000,000 through repeal of the use tax.

Excise Taxes
In addition, it would repeal $70,000,000 in excise taxes, on such things as stoves, cameras and sporting goods, imposed in 1941 to discourage the use of scarce materials.

The house bill called for cutting taxes of individuals by $2,627,000,000, corporations $1,888,000,000, car and boat owners $140,000,000, and excise taxes $695,000,000, through repeal of the wartime levies on luxury and semi-luxury products and through refund of the tax on floor stocks of liquor and light bulbs.

After the house goes through the formality of rejecting the senate changes, the house and senate conference committee will get together—probably Friday—to work out the final form of the legislation.

House and senate versions vary so widely in so many particulars that the conference committee is expected virtually to rewrite the measure.

Speed Essential
Internal revenue officials would like to know the final form of the bill by Nov. 1 so they can prepare and send out revised withholding tables and tax blanks to offices all over the country.

The tax cut would apply to next year's income; the tax bill on this year's income will be figured on present law.

In effect, though not in method, the two houses were not far apart on the individual income tax cuts. The senate bill is estimated to reduce the burden $2,644,000,000, the house bill $2,627,000,000.

Gl's Yoo-Hoo At Lucky Sailor

SEATTLE, Oct. 25 (AP)—While 1000 soldiers whistled and yoo-hooed from the decks of a transport warping into a berth, alongside, 20-year-old Levenia Bickertstaff, a strawberry blonde from Anaconda, Mont., and Jack R. Thomas, 23, quartermaster 2 cl., from Monterey Park, Calif., went through their wedding rehearsal on the quarterdeck of the battleship Colorado here today.

Weather permitting—and there was a 30-mile wind blowing and more rain forecast—the couple were to be wed on the quarterdeck in midafternoon, by Chaplain (Lt. Comdr.) John A. Shilling, Chicago.

"She's home to me—the battleship, I mean," said Quartermaster Thomas. "I've been through everything with her. Just seems to be a natural place to get married."

Nooksack River Overflows Banks

BELLINGHAM, Oct. 25 (AP)—The normally placid Nooksack river was overflowing its banks at a dozen places today, isolating Acme community, sweeping out three government river control projects and marooning several families near Lynden. The Everson business district was under two feet of water.

Whatcom county officials expressed fear the river might eat its way into Canada following a breakthrough at Lawrence which destroyed a $17,000 wingdam project.

Army Plans To Buy Up Chickens

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—The army plans to purchase 1,000,000 pounds of chickens weekly until January 1, in areas in which its poultry purchases recently were frozen.

Congressmen from the poultry areas had protested that an abrupt end of army buying left poultry growers with many millions of surplus chickens which they were unable to sell in civilian markets.

Museum Sought For Jacksonville

MEDFORD, Oct. 25 (AP)—A proposed tax levy for establishment and maintenance of a museum in Jacksonville's historic ex-courthouse will be on the primary election ballot in May.

The proposal is backed by the southern Oregon chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Man Says Health Hurt In Bomb Plant

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 25 (AP)—A $119,034 suit, alleging his health was impaired by work in a Richland, Wash., plant where the first atomic bomb was produced was filed today by Robert Frank Rickman, Tulsa, against the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours company.

Rickman's district court petition contended that he became partially blind and suffered a lung ailment from breathing what he said were poisonous fumes in an underground chamber.

OPA ANNOUNCES RATION POINTS TO BE SLASHED

According to agriculture department estimates.

The seasonal run of hogs to market is expected to boost the pork supply about 41 per cent to counter-balance declines in other kinds of meat.

Supply Down
The domestic supply of beef, veal and lamb will be down because of foreign requirements, said an agriculture department official.

He said foreign allocations had not been met in full this month, and for this reason it would be necessary to dip deeper into the November meat supply. Meat set-asides were reinstated recently to assure fulfillment of foreign commitments.

The fat cuts of pork assigned lower point values include backs, plates, jowls, and bacon plates and jowls. Regular bacon remains at six points a pound.

Five more stamps in ration book four will become valid Nov. 1 for buying meats and fats. These include the last four red stamps—W1, X1, Y1 and Z1—and green stamp N8, the top-right coupon on the last sheet of green stamps remaining in book four.

If rationing continues in December, five more green stamps will be validated at the start of that month, OPA said.

This is the agriculture department's estimate of domestic meat supplies for November on a retail, weekly average basis: Beef—112,700,000 pounds, compared with 130,670,000 in October; lamb—35,430,000 and 44,150,000; and mutton—13,490,000 and 17,530,000; pork—140,350,000 and 110,850,000.

GM EMPLOYEES DEMAND WAGE RATE INCREASE

son of General Motors said yesterday his negotiations said he hoped "arrangements can be made without a work disruption." He denied that the corporation was "trying to provoke a strike," as charged by Reuther. A strike, he said, "wouldn't do us, our customers or our workers any good. It would upset the whole organization."

Pickets Appear
The AFL executive council in Cincinnati called off the movie workers' strike yesterday but about 400 pickets appeared this morning at the Warner Brothers Burbank, Calif., studio.

Herbert K. Sorrell, strike leader, said Warners was not classed with other producers "because they used tear gas and water," he added "that we are asking Warners to indemnify every person hurt on this picket line."

Sorrell said about 300 persons would have claims a few for as much as $500 each, and "nobody wants to go to work for Warner Brothers until they pay up."

Warners is not a member of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors association or the Independent Picture Producers, whose leaders, Eric Johnston and Donald Nelson, had met with the AFL executive committee to settle the strike.

The 7000 workers affected by the prolonged walkout were expected to be back on their jobs by Monday at the latest, but issues involved in the jurisdictional dispute were not expected to be ironed out for some time.

If the international unions affected fail to settle the ques-
