

GOVERNOR SAYS PROSPECTS FOR OREGON BRIGHT

GEARHART, Oct. 25 (AP)—Governor Earl Snel today declared that Oregon's postwar prospects are extremely bright, but he warned that labor problems must be solved by the joint efforts of government, labor and management.

Addressing the state convention of realtors, Governor Snel also emphasized that the fundamental responsibility for full employment rests here at home, rather than with the federal government.

He said private industry plans to spend $200,000,000 in Oregon for new plants and expansion of existing plants. The state post-war committee has listed $662,000,000 worth of public works projects, including federal, state and local projects which have either been authorized or appropriated for.

In addition to this, the governor said, the unemployment compensation commission has $75,000,000 with which to pay jobless benefits.

Stopgap

"We are all agreed, I am sure, that these public works projects are designed to serve more or less as a stopgap during the interim when we are changing from an all-out war production to a peacetime economy. In my opinion, the over-all long-range success of any postwar program is inseparably connected with the postwar success of competitive free enterprise and individual initiative. To me, that is fundamental."

"I am confident, too, that I have no illusions about the problems that will be encountered in creating long-range full employment. Federal-state cooperation is important and necessary but prosperity is not something that is poured in at the top in Washington and filtered back to the states and the cities and communities. Quite the reverse is true."

Objective

"A most imperative objective is the security of jobs for all of our citizens who want to work. Phases of this problem are inseparable from national policy but fundamental responsibility and the assurance of success rests right here with us."

"We should experience a tremendous boom in building and expansion once materials are available and conditions are favorable."

"The future success of our reconstruction program rests largely with understanding, and complete respect for the rights and privileges and problems of management and labor. Management must recognize the problems of labor. By the same token, labor must recognize the problems of management. Thus we can insure postwar success and a prosperous, united and contented America. Government, business, management and labor must work together in full harmony and cooperation."

OREGONIANS NEED EDUCATION PROGRAM

GEARHART, Oct. 24 (AP)—Oregon's tourist traffic would be better if employees of service stations, motor courts and restaurants knew their areas, the Oregon Coast association was told.

Cmdr. A. W. Scott, Pasadena, Calif., told the convention that he stopped at 53 service stations during a 1000-mile trip—and 53 of them had no information on points of interest in the neighborhood.

He urged a program of education among residents who come in contact with travelers, as a means of spurring the tourist industry. As part of a general education program, Scott offered a $100 prize and 10-day tour of Oregon to the high school student writing the best essay on the state.

George R. Dickinson, Gold Beach, was elected president of the association, succeeding Clyde Mason, Seaside.

Willamette River Reported Polluted

CORVALLIS, Oct. 25 (AP)—The Willamette river is more polluted than ever, Oregon State college engineering experiment station said in a formal report today.

At every spot in the river, more contamination was found than in the last intensive survey, made in 1929. The current report is based on a study made last year by state officials and continued this summer.

Government Loans May Be Taken Out By Spud Growers

Oregon farmers need not sell their 1945 late crop potatoes at less than the announced support prices, as government loans are available to growers through all county AAA committees, reminds R. B. Taylor, chairman of the state committee.

The support prices for Oregon range from $1.90 a hundred-weight in October to $2.10 in December in the four eastern counties of Malheur, Baker, Union and Wallowa, and are 20 cents a hundred higher for all other counties. These are basic prices for U. S. No. 1 potatoes, sacked, f.o.b. cars. The support levels for U. S. Commercial and U. S. No. 2 are 50 per cent of the U. S. No. 1 price.

Flashes of Life

PLAYING SAFE

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 25 (AP)—With both eyes blackened and her nose broken, a young wife regained consciousness and pleaded to Judge John Seabrook in city court to free her husband to her custody.

She wept as she said, "after all, he has been overseas a long time and was drunk when he struck me."

"All right, he's in your custody," said Judge Seabrook.

"Not for long," snapped the pretty little woman who had just been in tears. "Because I'm getting a divorce."

SOME GEM

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 25 (AP)—An aged pensioner picked up a ring from the sidewalk, noted the "dime store" size of the large stone and dropped it into his worn coat pocket where it remained forgotten for days. Casually showing it to a friend later, he learned a woman was advertising for a lost ring. He collected a reward.

Mrs. M. W. Fairweather, the owner, identified it as her diamond ring worth $2500.

CONSCIENTIOUS

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 25 (AP)—A city jail inmate serving a 90 day term for drunkenness was a handy man to have around. City commissioners ordered a pardon for him because he worked so diligently on the janitorial staff at the public safety building.

City Prosecutor Roscoe W. Irvine recommended the pardon and wrote, "he is the best janitorial worker we have had. I not only recommend a pardon but that he be employed by the city."
