

Klamath Girl Is Navy Man's Bride

Betty Lorraine McKinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McKinney of this city, became the bride of ARM2/c Lloyd William Harris of the United States navy air corps, in a ceremony held Thursday evening, October 18, at 8:30 o'clock in the First Baptist church.

The Rev. Cecil C. Brown officiated at the service and the young couple exchanged rings in the candlelight ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory brocade satin and her fingertip veil was held in place by a coronet of rosebuds. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds and bouvardia centered with a cluster of white gardenias. The bride's only jewelry was a strand of pearls.

The traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. E. E. Hambrick and just before the service Ester Robinson sang, "Because."

Mary Lee McKinney was her sister's maid-of-honor. She wore a pale blue taffeta frock combined with net, and carried an arm bouquet of yellow carnations. Donna Bohemayer, Rosemary Bigbie and Mrs. Norma Allred were bridesmaids and wore pastel net frocks and also carried arm bouquets of carnations.

Little Ruth Mary Rindall and Ronnie Buchanan were ringbearers.

The best man was Bill Brigman and ushers, all members of the navy air corps, were Jerry Graboyes, Francis Heltzman, and John DePape.

A reception was held in the church following the service. Assisting were Geneva Kennerly, Mrs. J. A. Slusser, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Frank Killian, Mrs. Rodney Larson, Mrs. Perley Webster, Mrs. Charles Thurman and Mrs. Roy L. Gueck.

Mrs. McKinney, mother of the bride, wore a blue crepe gown with fuchsia accessories for the reception. Her corsage was of rosebuds.

The young couple left immediately for a honeymoon which will take them to New York where they will be guests of Mr. Harris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris of Oakfield. The wedding culminated a romance which started more than one year ago when the groom was a member of the Klamath naval air station personnel. Later he saw service in the Pacific and has recently returned to the States.

AAUW Luncheon

Members of the Klamath Falls chapter of the American Association of University Women enjoyed an interesting and informative meeting Saturday, October 20, at 1 o'clock luncheon in the blue room of the Willard.

During the luncheon, Mrs. Robert P. Ellingson Jr., president, introduced the following committee and study group chairmen for the year, 1945-46: Mrs. A. B. Hood, legislation; Mrs. Harold Teale, evening book group; Mrs. Frank Jenkins, afternoon book group; Mrs. J. C. O'Neill, drama; Mrs. B. B. Blomquist, drama advisor; Mrs. Paul Angstead, program; Mrs. D. J. Zumwalt, music; Mrs. John Merryman, social; Mrs. James Kerns, education; Mrs. L. Orth Sisemore, telephone; Mrs. Samuel A. Mushen, publicity.

Two vocal numbers, "Beloved It is Morn," Aylward, and "Toora-loo-ra-loo-ra," from "Going My Way," were sung by Mrs. Edwin Schneebek accompanied by Mrs. Zumwalt.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Mr. Arnold Gralapp, superintendent of public schools. His topic, "The Atomic Bomb," a historical background for the development of the bomb, was presented as well as an explanation of chemical elements through which various scientists had explored the possibilities of atomic energy. Mr. Gralapp stated that satisfactory legislation to restrict use of the bomb might be very difficult to achieve. The use of atomic energy, however, for peace time purposes in industry, he explained, had unlimited possibilities.

A short business meeting was called following the address at which time Phyllis Foster was elected secretary to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. L. L. Shaw. It was announced that AAUW members would staff the USO on Sunday, December 9.

The next regular meeting of AAUW will be Saturday, November 17, at which time Mr. Frank Jenkins will speak on his recent experiences in Europe.

Auxiliary

St. Paul's Women's auxiliary met October 18 at the home of Mrs. A. B. Hood for its regular business meeting, with Mrs. E. P. Livingston as co-hostess. Plans were laid for the coming fall bazaar.

Mrs. Ernest Moser, missionary to Africa, spoke interestingly on "Our Christian Responsibility in Africa," after the business meeting. She explained the political divisions and resources of Africa and emphasized the importance that the continent will assume in the near future.

Tea followed, served by the hostesses to the 14 guests present.

To Wisconsin

Mary E. Stewart, for many years a resident of Klamath Falls, left Wednesday evening for Waupaca, Wisconsin, where she will visit indefinitely with her sister.

Miss Stewart was the guest of Hazel Morrison and Augusta Parker prior to her departure. She was honored at several dinners this past week. Mrs. Ernest Moser entertained Miss Stewart at dinner and the Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Wissenbach asked her for dinner Tuesday evening. Miss Morrison was also a guest.

OES To Meet

Aloha chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, met for the regular meeting on Tuesday evening. After the business meeting was concluded the program was taken over by the Eastern Star Social club. Games and group singing was enjoyed by all. A feature of the program was a chorus of men singing barber-shop harmony under the direction of Sanford Selby. A real feast was spread in the banquet room with Halloween decorations and traditional features.

The next meeting will be on November 13 with the initiation of candidates and other work of the order.

Marines Hosts At Masquerade

A gay colorful crowd, numbering around 850 persons, enjoyed dancing to Fletcher Henderson's orchestra at the masquerade ball held in the Marine Barracks gymnasium Tuesday night.

Dressed as Little Lord Fauntleroy and his playmate, T/Sgt. and Mrs. James S. Garrison, won the prize of two gold wrist bands by popular vote. Large brown freckles adorned their puckish faces and several front teeth appeared to be missing, giving them a youthful look.

Selection of the winning costumed couple was no easy matter with costumes portraying clever originality.

The huge hall was festooned with orange and black paper streamers trailing from the ceiling. Cornstalks gathered from the marine farm project were placed in shocks against the walls and lighted jack-o'-lanterns centered the small tables circling the dance floor.

Two huge 27-pound cakes were served during the dance.

Dressed in GI underwear and aprons, Arthur A. Miranlan, FM 1/c, USN, and PFC James Renda put on a jitterbug show that everyone stopped dancing to watch.

Col. Raymond W. Hanson made arrangements for the band which played for the dance. They played at the post theatre at 7:15 p. m., prior to the dance.

Maj. Phillip W. Kelly, head of the post recreation department assigned Sgt. Major Perry Crookham and Sgt. Major Earl Thompson, senior members of the post non-commissioned officers, to aid on the dance committee. Sgt. Major Thompson, who acts as head coach for Altamont junior high school, assisted by 1st Sgt. Elmer Bellknapp and Sgt. P. G. Smith supervised the decorating.

Sgt. Maj. Crookham was in charge of refreshments. T/Sgt. Bob Ray of the commissary baked the two huge oblong square cakes decorated with the letters USMC.

Luncheon

Mrs. L. Hagman entertained guests at a bridge luncheon this week at her home, 1919 Melrose. High score went to Mrs. C. A. Lundy and second high to Mrs. Arthur Schaub. Others present were Mrs. E. H. Balsiger, Mrs. D. N. Castle, Mrs. Calvin Hunt, Mrs. O. R. Halloway and Mrs. Anne West.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert O. Roenicke and three children are vacationing in Portland and at Long Beach, Washington. They expect to return about November 1. Dr. Roenicke, who held a commission as lieutenant commander in the navy, was recently detached from the Klamath naval air station and was given his discharge at Seattle.

LT. ROBERT H. IRELAND, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Grant of this city, took as his bride on September 22, in Winnemucca, Nevada, Wilma E. Robb of Salt Lake City.

TULELAKE — Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Thomas this week announced the coming marriage of their eldest daughter, Patricia Helen, to AMM Arthur Edward Martin, USNR, of Chicago, Ill.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday, November 3, in St. Mary's church, Astoria. Miss Thomas is spending a few days here with her parents. The bride-elect has been affiliated, since her graduation from the University of Nevada, at the Astoria naval base where the groom is stationed. The groom's mother, Mrs. Frank Martin, and his sister, Mrs. William Witry, and son Billy, will come west for the wedding. Mrs. Thomas and daughter, Dorothy, are leaving the first of the week for Portland to join the party. Mr. Thomas and Marvin Jr. will go north later in the week for the wedding. Mrs. Witry will be maid-of-honor and Dorothy Thomas will attend her sister as maid-of-honor.

Two showers have been planned here for the bride, Mrs. R. M. Prior and Mrs. J. Merton Brown entertained Saturday afternoon of this week at the Brown home. On Sunday afternoon Mrs. A. E. Ryckman, Mrs. Albert Larson, Mrs. Evelyn Galoway and Mrs. D. A. Snyder will be co-hostesses in the annex of the Presbyterian Community church.

Dorothea Ellingson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Ellingson Sr., will leave Sunday night for the University of California to resume her studies.

"KATHY" is little Kathleen Vivian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Grimm of Ashland. She celebrated her second birthday October 26, and has just returned home with her mother after visiting her grandmothers, Mrs. Frank Grimm and Mrs. Mary Dodson, both of Klamath Falls.

Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steinselzer returned home Tuesday evening after a ten-day trip north to Seattle and Tacoma visiting friends and relatives. While in Olympia, Wash., they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph D. Schmidt on the 10 day yacht "Winfred III" and enjoyed a cruise in Skookum bay on Puget Sound.

Ensign and Mrs. J. C. O'Neill (Marlys Steinselzer) are in Long Beach, Calif., where Jack is awaiting further orders for the Pacific, possibly Pearl Harbor.

Fay Steinselzer is employed in the Standard Oil company's office in San Francisco, and enjoys it very much. Fay has been employed for the past three years at the U. S. naval air station, Sand Point, Seattle, Wash., and moved to San Francisco a month ago and is residing at the Residence club there.

Members of Delta Kappa Gamma sorority will meet at the home of Mrs. Isabelle Brixner on Lakeshore drive at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, November 3.

The Eastern Star social club will meet Friday, November 2, at 1:45 p. m. at the Masonic temple.
