

"Trick Or Treat" Invades Klamath

Although Halloween is a thing of the past and little is left but bowls of decrepit loot on the kitchen table, there were several amusing incidents which involved the very young last Wednesday night.

At one Klamath Falls home, the ghosts and goblins who demanded trick or treat, were invited into the living room and told to sing for their treat. All responded in voice, the variety of songs ranging from "The Marine Hymn" to "Don't Fence Me In." One youngster plunked out the melody with one finger while his boy friends sang lustily.

The pay off — shining new coins.

Loralou Rolph, the Lawrence Rolph's young and only, and Shirley Westfall, daughter of the Clark Westfalls, were the two little ones given steaks by a good Klamath housewife who, when deluged with "trick or treat" demands, produced the New York cuts. The lady had never heard of trick or treat on Halloween but as a matter of fact we had never heard of this very profitable business ourselves until we came to Klamath Falls.

Folks that stayed home from the Caloregon show and sale this past weekend missed a good time. The animals were especially fine and the curls and hair dresses on the Hereford bulls were works of art. One had a Claudette Colbert bang effect and another had a marvelous upsweep. When the consignors brought in what is known as "aged cows" in the first of the female classes, it was quite evident that the old girls hadn't been given much time in the beauty shop. Some looked like an egg beater instead of a comb had been used on them.

A homesick sailor from Wyoming was among the spectators and he seemed quite up on his cattle. He even bought a ticket to the cattlemen's dinner Sunday night so he could talk shop with the boys.

Right after the 9 o'clock news reported the non-stop hop from Japan to Washington and naming Lt. Don Ellingson as a navigator in one of the big B-29's, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Ellingson of Pacific Terrace answered the telephone Thursday night to talk to their son in Washington. Don said he had just three hours' notice before the take-off. The weather was pretty bad on the history-making flight and it got worse instead of better the closer the planes got to home. In Wisconsin the snow storm was terrific. Don's brother, Lt. Sig Ellingson, stayed on at the B-29 base at Tinian. The brothers have been flying in the same squadron but not in the same plane since going overseas.

Joseph C. Brown, editor of the Redmond Spokesman, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant commander and is now commanding officer on the USS Susquehanna in the Pacific. Joe's wife Mary has been carrying on in the editorial department while he has been gone the past four years. She is the cousin of Mrs. Mitchell Tillotson of this city and the former Mary Conn of Lakeview.

Among the papas getting acquainted with their chicks after being gone so long overseas is Neil Black who returned not many months ago from Europe to greet Janey for the first time and to make up for lost time with Bruce. Dr. Black has been in Portland the past month taking a refresher course at Doernbecher hospital for children. He's opening his old offices this week.

A daughter, Robin Caroline, was born October 24 to Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hiatt Jr., in Seattle, according to word received here by the Hiatt seniors. Mother is the former Barbara Bell, also of this city.

Mrs. Stanley Woodruff is a busy mother but has time to teach her five-year-old Judy and some of Judy's little friends nursery and song games at her home on Lawrence street. Quite a bit of talent has been unearthed in the neighborhood and the youngsters have fun and parents of these hopefuls are enjoying it a great deal, too.

It can't be. But we saw a Christmas tree going down Main street in the back of a pick-up this week.

Hick Party

All bedlam appeared to be breaking loose as 190 Girl Scouts in every conceivable costume hit the girls' gym at KUHS promptly at 7 o'clock for the big Halloween party Wednesday night. John Sandmeyer, hickily-dressed master of ceremonies, did a fine job of conducting an orderly program in the midst of squealing and giggling hilarity, assisted by Mrs. Lowell Kaup, program chairman, and H. A. Teale with the loud speaker system.

The whole floor space was occupied with girls as the singing games were played and as the grand march got underway. Most of the girls had never taken part in a grand march so it was a somewhat breathless business but gave the judges an opportunity to see the various costumes. Judges were Mrs. LeRoy Carter, Mrs. R. H. Radcliffe and Mrs. E. L. Mitchell, and it was with extreme difficulty that they selected four winners: Beverly Eells, troop 2, Fremont; Patty Teale and Margery Larson of troop 5, Roosevelt; and Barbara Snider, troop 19, Riverside, girls whose costumes had the true backwoods hick effect.

At the intermission the girls bought pop which was donated by the Lost River dairy through Ray Worden. The money so raised, $12.65, is being sent as part of the annual contribution to the Juliet Lowe Memorial fund, the purpose of which was explained by Irene Bullard of troop 3, Mills, as going to assist scouts of other lands and furthering international friendship. Phyllis Kaup of troop 10, Fremont, read the message sent by Juliet Lowe, founder of Girl Scouts, to all Girl Scouts on her birthday, Halloween of 1924, three years before her death.

Girls who accompanied the dancers were Irene Bullard, Nancy Lambo, Lois Connor and June Marie Murphy. Mrs. Richard Strand played for the grand march. Many parents who brought girls to the party stayed in the balcony to watch and the party was attended by a large group from the Henley school as well as from Shasta, Altamont, Fairhaven and all the town schools.

Den Party

Tuesday evening, the Cubs of Den 1, Troop 16, of the Sacred Heart church met at the home of the Den mother, Mrs. W. Snider of 438 Washington, for a Halloween party. The customary Halloween games were played and Irene Walton, with her guitar, accompanied the group singing.

Refreshments were served to Charles Shinn, Den chief; Billy Snider, Phillip Collins, John Ely, Jim Mahoney, Dan Murphy, Tommy Alvarez, Shirley Snider, Mr. and Mrs. W. Snider, Mr. and Mrs. F. Alvarez and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ely.

Bride Friday

Norma Louise Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wood, 3921 Shasta way, became the bride of Ralph L. Haskins of Greenfield, Tenn., at a ceremony read at 9 o'clock Friday evening, October 26, at the home of the officiating minister, the Rev. Cecil C. Brown, 827 Eldorado.

The bride wore a grey suit with black accessories and a yellow orchid at the lapel of her jacket. Mrs. George Wood, her attendant, wore a blue suit with matching accessories. Relatives attended the ceremony.

The young couple will leave soon to make their home in Greenfield. Mr. Haskins was recently discharged from the marine corps. While here he has been associated with radio station KFJI.

Mrs. Will Wood, president of the Klamath Garden club, spent Thursday in Medford as guest speaker at the meeting of the Medford Garden club. She demonstrated and discussed pine cone corsages and winter bouquets.

HONORED QUEEN Phina Nordwick of Medford presided over the ceremonial arranged for members of Zuleima Temple, Daughters of the Nile, here last Saturday.

St. Paul's Bazaar Plans Are Made

Holidays are rapidly approaching and various organizations are laying the groundwork for Christmas bazaars. The date for the annual holiday bazaar sponsored by St. Paul's Episcopal church has been set for Saturday, December 1, in the parish house.

The bazaar committee includes the following women of the church: Mrs. Raymond H. Reeves, chairman; Mrs. James Wallinger, Mrs. F. T. Catlin, Mrs. Martha Barron, Mrs. Irving J. Dixon, Mrs. Clarence Murray, Mrs. Lloyd Williamson and Mrs. George Rogers.

Members of the junior teaching staff will operate the country store. Ted Reeves is chairman of the store, assisted by Edith Wissenbach, Ramona Reeves, Betty Glidden and Jody Bennet.

Work days at the parish house will be held every Tuesday morning beginning at 10:30 o'clock, according to Mrs. Reeves. A sack lunch will be served at noon with coffee provided.

There will be the usual booths in addition to the country store, including fancy holiday foods, fruit cakes, jams and jellies, needlework, dolls, novelties, aprons and other features.

Starting at 10 o'clock in the morning, the day of the bazaar, coffee and doughnuts will be served to the shoppers.

A handy scraper for scaling fish can be made by tacking three bottle caps to a small stick.

BIG EVENING WAYS

Your young man's fancy because of its coquettish-big evening ways. Take, for instance, the enchantment of soft draping, a cascading peplum and slim midriff waist. Another wonderfully young Junior Guild Original in rayon crepe. Have it in black or your favorite color. $21.50

Patricia Is Five

Patricia Jean Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Case of 414 North Ninth street, celebrated her fifth birthday by having a party at her home Saturday, October 7.

The dining room and table were decorated with Halloween favors and when the room was darkened and the candles were lighted it presented a very spooky atmosphere which was enjoyed very much by the little folks.

Those attending were Darlene Buchholz, Janet Spiess, Marilyn Miller, Marjorie Hoyte, Dicky and Donny Terwilliger, Joann Leitstok, Sharon Dewing, Carol Parker and Gayle Lee Case.

Nile Ceremonial Held Saturday

One of the most colorful events of the past weekend was the ceremonial of Zuleima Temple, No. 13, Daughters of the Nile, held in Klamath Falls Saturday, October 27, at the Masonic temple and the Willard hotel.

Presiding was Queen Phina Nordwick of Medford. The hostess group, members of the Nile club of which Mrs. Walter Brown is president, made extensive plans for the affair which highlighted the Nile club program for the year.

The temple was beautifully decorated with a profusion of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and fall foliage. A class of 60 was accepted as the candidate group from Eugene, Myrtle Creek, Medford, Ashland, Grants Pass, Springfield, Adel, Lakeview and Klamath Falls. Members were in attendance from all valley towns and also from Portland, Tacoma, Spokane and Seattle, Washington.

Past queens of the temple, escorted and presented at the ceremonial, were Margaret Fabrick, Obera Dunn, Sophia Baker, Lorena McNair, Alice Wintrout, Belle Schwein, Lenore Kellom, and Mary Sweeney.

At the tea given in the Masonic temple Saturday afternoon Mrs. Margaret Fabrick of Medford and Mrs. Frank Vannice of Grants Pass presided at the beautifully appointed tea table where a center arrangement of yellow and bronze fall blossoms repeated the autumn theme.

There was an excellent attendance at the afternoon program as well as at the banquet and dancing party at the Willard hotel.

A musical program was one of the highlights of the ceremonial and Mrs. Joseph C. O'Neill played several violin numbers accompanied at the

Tuesday Party

Among the gay Halloween parties enjoyed by the younger set this past week was that given Tuesday evening when Gloria Newbill entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Newbill on Lakeshore drive.

Hours were from 7 to 10 o'clock and traditional Halloween games were enjoyed in the playroom. There were prizes and refreshments.

Gloria's guests included Arlene Stanbery, Geraldine Lewis, Arlene Brailer, Shirley Beckham, Patsy Dunwoodie, Lester Larson, Roger Klahn, Wayne Ballantyne, Bob and Dick Petzholt and Marlin Utterback.

Before The Game

Among the parties which were given Friday night before the Klamath Falls-Eugene football game, was the dinner over which Mr. and Mrs. Eris Hamilton presided at their home, 226 North Third street.

Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Henri Conradi, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Lorenz and Mrs. Grace Fanser of Fresno, California, houseguest of the Lorenz', Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Backes, Mrs. Martha McCollum, Mrs. Bernice Britt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eaton and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Carter.

Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. David T. Bulla entertained at their home Thursday evening with cocktails and dinner honoring Mr. Bulla's brother-in-law and sister, Lt. Col. and Mrs. R. E. Dahlen of San Francisco who have been here for the hunting.

Guests included Lt. Col. and Mrs. Dahlen, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Webb, Mr. and Mrs. John Schubert, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hibbs and Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson Buckley.

Barbecue

A venison barbecue was an event of Friday night after the Klamath-Eugene game when Mrs. Stewart Patty, Floyd and Tom Patty entertained a group at the Floyd Patty home, 741 Alameda.

Invited were Mrs. Axel Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Hittas, and the following navy men, J. S. Dixon, D. A. Miller, R. S. Hall and D. J. Long.
