News Notes and Comment

By JOAN O'NEILL
Hello Day yesterday was put into effect by the Traditions committee. Fred Reeves is president of the committee; Roger Vanderhoff, vice president; Sally Mueller, secretary. Other members are Barbara Roskamp, Dorothy Dewey, Donna Brotherton, Effie Botens, Ted Reeves, George Zupan, Jim Howard and Dee Nelson.

There were big signs reading "Hello" in each end of the main hall and a host of other signs throughout the school telling the kids to come to the dance at 3:15. Students wishing to attend the dance paid 10 cents to their sixth period teachers and others remained in their classroom. The dance lasted until 5 o'clock.

HERALD AND NEWS—FIVE

Pelicans
Marilyn Nethercott, Phillip McGilivray, Ronnie Larson and Billie Finch were the writers and announcers of the last Pelicana program. Lola Whisenant, accompanied by Nancy Humble, sang "You Came Along." Pat Myers sang "A Kiss Good Night." Lynden King accompanied her on the piano. Georgia Rose, freshman, sang "Whispering," accompanied by Pat Hambrick. The program even boasted grade school talent for Joan and Shirley Ortis, third grade twins, sang a duet.

Game in Bend
Tomorrow is the game with Bend in the Lava Bear's home town. A lot of the students will be going up to see the final game. Many of them are going on the bus that the Service club arranged for and still others are going by car. School should be empty and Bend should be overflowing with KUHS students.

Sadie Hawkins
Sadie Hawkins Day will be November 14. The rules have been formulated by Jim Palmer, president of the K club. Rules and regulations for Sadie Hawkins Day:

The student body members must dress up as Dogpatch characters; if they don't comply, they will be punished accordingly. Boys' suggestions for dressing could be as L'il Abner, Pappy Yokum, Pappy Scragg, Gus Goosegrease, Marrying Sam and so on. Girls may dress as any character in the comic strip—Daisy Mae, Mammy Yokum are examples.

Girls will be given tags in home room Wednesday so the girls can start to catch their man then. The man caught must accompany his new mate to the assembly and dance held at 8:05.

At the assembly the K club members will bring to the judge, Ed Ryan, assistant football coach, offenders of the rules who will be sentenced and fined. Prizes will be given for the best couple and individual prizes will also be given for the most original and such. It is a good time to be thinking about your costume for this eventful day. It really is a lot of fun entering into the spirit of the Dogpatchers.
