

Thanksgiving Eve Dance Set

The annual Thanksgiving eve ball, sponsored for the Elks and their ladies, is planned for Wednesday evening, November 21, in the Elks temple. Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Padgett are chairmen of the affair and they will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. James Drazil of Malin, Mr. and Mrs. DeLoz Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whytal, Mr. and Mrs. John Lambert and Mr. Charles Riley.

Plans which the committee will complete at a meeting at the Elks temple next Tuesday evening, now call for dancing which will start at 10 o'clock, and a midnight supper in the dining room. There will be punch served during the evening in the pine paneled room with members of the committee presiding. All members of the lodge and their ladies are invited and the affair is for Elks only.

The Thanksgiving eve ball officially opens the winter season.

"Sorcery"

Helen Gaston and George Bron, formerly of Klamath Falls, are co-managers of "The Sorcery Show" in Portland, a shop featuring original hats designed by Bron.

The shop had its preview opening in late October, and according to the managers "is doing very well."

Both Miss Gaston and Bron were graduated from Klamath Union high school in 1944. They worked extensively on high school dramatic productions here.

Miss Gaston is employed as secretary at 301 Spalding building in Portland. Before leaving Klamath Falls, she assisted her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gaston now of Boise, Idaho, in the management of Gaston's Flower shop.

Luncheon

One of the prettiest of fall parties was that given Tuesday at 1:15 o'clock in the Pelican party room when Mrs. William W. Patterson asked a group to luncheon and bridge. Guests were seated at one long table centered with arrangements of fall colors and tall gold candles.

In cards high score went to Mrs. Jack Franey, second to Mrs. Melvin Howie, and Mrs. J. Fred Flock of Eugene was presented with a gift for the first slam of the afternoon.

Guests included Mrs. R. C. Woodruff, Mrs. Howie, Mrs. Charles Bailey, Mrs. W. V. Char- ters, Mrs. Robert Sproat Sr., Mrs. Martin Ramsay, Mrs. Jay Haz- zard, Mrs. Arthur L. Moore, Mrs. William Hagelstein, Mrs. Stanley Staiger, Mrs. Irving R. Lisbony, Mrs. Lloyd Goble, Mrs. Flock, Mrs. Elbert Stiles and Mrs. Jack Franey.

Scavenger Hunt

With a scavenger hunt the evening, Darlene Gehrmann entertained a group of young friends on Halloween, October 31, at her home, 4049 Delaware.

Among the requirements for the scavenger hunt were signa- tures of Paul Angstead and Stan- ley Woodruff, ski boots auto- graphed by a Klamath Union high school teacher, and a pine cone.

Later in the evening the guests were served refreshments.

Recital

Mrs. E. D. Johnson's younger students of piano were presented in a party recital Friday afternoon at the Johnson home on Pacific Terrace when mothers were invited to hear their chil- dren perform.

A highlight of the afternoon was the playing of the "Peter Pan Suite" by Jean Adams and Susan Vandenberg who have been students of Mrs. Johnson for several years. Both talented youngsters played delightfully.

Later tea was poured with Mrs. F. Cecil Adams presiding and Mrs. David R. Vandenberg assisting. Jean and Susan pre- sided at the punch bowl. A Thanksgiving arrangement cen- tered the table.

Children and their mothers present included Alice McKen- dree and Mrs. Scott McKendree, Susie Lee Williams and Mrs. Bryant Williams, David Reeder and Mrs. Dick Reeder, Jon Hous- ton and Mrs. John Houston, Karen Porter and Mrs. Lloyd Porter, Charles Harris and Mrs. C. F. Harris, Frances Cox and Mrs. C. J. Cox, Ailsa Lurr Kuy- kendall and Mrs. Ailsa Massey Kuykendall, Susan and Mrs. Vandenberg, Paul and Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Adams, Sara Ste- wart and Mrs. Neal Stewart.

Sue Is Six

Little Sue Thompson, who was six years old on November 1, entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, 531 Pacific Terrace, when a group of young friends was invited for the occasion.

Games, movies and fun in the playroom followed by birthday cake and ice cream, made up the afternoon's program.

Guests included Sally Sou- kup, Carol Coggeshall, Virginia Roenicke, Nancy Drew, Frances Cox, Jane Larkin, Susan and Sara Porter, Karen, Estelle and Buddy Kiger, Stephen Mola- tore, Bobby Thompson and Sue.

Entertains

Mrs. Max Saunders enter- tained the Kappa chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, at her home on St. Francis street, Thursday evening.

A regular meeting of the chapter was conducted at which time plans were made for a formal banquet to be held in the Blue room of the Willard hotel on November 15 in honor of new pledges of the group.

It was also announced that a rummage sale will be conducted by the sorority on Saturday, November 17.

Ava Whitlatch, Katherine Kaylor and Helen Crono pre- sented the program for the eve- ning after which a delicious dessert was served by the hostess assisted by Betty Zirkle and Nancy Milne.

Attends Meet

Mary Corrigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Corrigan of Klamath Falls, will attend the regional council meeting of student YWCA and YMCA at Swan Island in Portland on No- vember 10 and 11, from the University of Oregon.

Plans for the Seabeck confer- ence scheduled for next June will be made. Miss Corrigan is president of the university YWCA.

Entertains

Winifred Lamm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred E. Lamm of Modoc Point, writes home about New York where she is living while studying voice and piano at the David Mannes school. Winifred recently drove to Washington, D. C. and flew back to New York. She motored to New York with four friends this past summer.

Klamath Girl Home From Duty Overseas

After more than a year overseas, First Lt. Betty Cleghorn of the army medical corps is home at 219 High in Klamath Falls visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cleghorn. Lt. Cleghorn is on her terminal leave awaiting discharge in December.

She joined the army in March, 1943, and first served at the Camp Callan General hospital until June, 1944. She joined the 101st General hospital unit at Camp Grant, Ill. to go overseas in July, 1944.

In the medical corps, her work as a dietician included menu planning, special diets, super- vising food preparation, and visits to diet patients.

She was sent to Taunton, Somersetshire, England, where her unit set up a hospital to care for the wounded from the European war theater. The hos- pital handled up to 1300 pa- tients who were first brought in by air and later by train.

"Although it was cold, I liked England very much. I met some nice people there," she re- marked.

After 10 months in England she was sent to France where "we did nothing but move around." In July, 1945, her unit went to Berlin. At their hos- pital there, they set up a ward to be used in case of illness among members of the presi- dent's party attending the Ber- lin conference, but they had no patients during that time.

As for her impressions of Germany, Lt. Cleghorn said, "It was depressing. I can't exactly say why, but the general at- mosphere was just depressing." She added that the hospital where she was stationed had several German civilians work- ing there. "They were good workers, but they were always hungry," she remarked.

The American occupational section of the German capitol was not badly hit, but the Rus- sian and British sections were quite badly torn up as a result of the war.

On September 26, Lt. Cleghorn left Berlin for La Havre, France, and then sailed for the United States. She flew from New York to Sacramento, com- ing to Klamath Falls from there.

Lt. Cleghorn said that al- though she liked army life, she would be glad to be a civilian again. She has no immediate future plans. Like many other members of the service her main concern just now is get- ting civilian clothes.

She is an alumna of Oregon State college and had her di- etetics training at Scripps Meta- bolic Clinic at La Jolla, Cali- fornia.

Ensign Clayton Adams, USNR, Houston, Texas, was expected here this weekend to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beane at their home, 1105 Pa- cific Terrace.

The wedding of Ensign Adams and Barbara Beane will take place in the near future, friends of the young couple learned when Mr. and Mrs. Beane an- nounced their daughter's be- trothal recently. Barbara and Mrs. Beane were in Portland this week shopping but returned Friday. Ensign Adams is fly- ing to the west coast.

Mrs. Ed Ostendorf asked a small group of friends to her home Saturday afternoon of last week: in compliment to Mrs. E. Snodgrass of Portland, mother of Mrs. Walter Wisen- dinger.

Honoring Mrs. Snodgrass were Mrs. Carl Steinseifer, Mrs. Robert P. Ellingson Sr., Mrs. Glen Hout, Mrs. Leo N. Huls, Orpha Hudson, Mrs. Wiesend- inger and Mrs. Ostendorf.

Marine Corps Anniversary

The 170th anniversary of the United States marine corps was celebrated today at the Klamath Falls marine barracks and this evening Colonel Charles T. Brooks, commanding officer of the post, and members of the commissioned officers mess entertained at BOQ.

Elaborate plans for a delightful party were completed earlier in the week. Due to limited accommodations invitations were issued to the affair.

Colonel and Mrs. Brooks, with Captain and Mrs. Lowell T. Coggeshall will be in the reception line at 8:15 o'clock. A buffet supper will be served at 8:30 o'clock.

A beautifully decorated birth- day cake, baked in honor of the anniversary of the corps and lighted by 170 candles, will be cut at 11 o'clock immediately after Colonel Brooks proposes a toast to the corps. Organ music will be played from 7 until 9 o'clock and dancing will be en- joyed throughout the evening.

There are two gifts to be pre- sented at 11 o'clock, a table cig- arette lighter to one of the men guests, and a compact appropri- ately engraved with the marine corps insignia to a woman guest.

The large rooms of BOQ are decorated with the red and gold traditional colors of the marine corps and insignia of the various divisions which have fought in this war will be displayed on the walls.

A number of informal parties were arranged prior to the celebra- tion.

November Tea

Mrs. J. Fred Flock of Eugene, who is the house guest of Mrs. Lloyd J. Goble on North Ninth street, was honored at a prettily appointed tea given by Mrs. Frederick C. Wissenbach and Mrs. Edward P. Livingston on Wednesday afternoon at the home of the latter, 1918 Erie. Hours were from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Pouring at the tea table which was centered with a low bowl of fall flowers, were Mrs. Faye Catlin and Hazel Morrison. Guests who called included Mrs. G. M. Uppington, Mrs. Vernon Kuykendall, Mrs. D. V. Kuykendall, Mrs. Francis R. Olds, Mrs. George McIntyre, Mrs. Lloyd Porter, Mrs. Horace E. Getz, Mrs. R. Heber Radcliffe, Mrs. Harold Teale, Mrs. Warren G. Noggle, Mrs. Ernest Moser, Mrs. J. I. Beard, Mrs. Lloyd Goble, Mrs. George Sample, Mrs. A. Bristow Hood, Mrs. Frank Moser of Corvallis, Mrs. Catlin and Miss Morrison.

Birthday Cake

Carol Michels observed her tenth birthday anniversary Tuesday when her mother, Mrs. R. J. Michels, asked a few playmates to share Carol's cake with her. The guests first at- tended the movie and then later returned home to 740 California avenue for cake and ice cream served at a candlelight table.

Carol's guests were Mary Ann Preston, Nancy Warren, Geraldine Lee and Darlene Woods.

Jean Ostendorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ostendorf of Pacific Terrace, is among the Oregon State college students who will return here for the Thanksgiving holidays. Jean's weekend guest will be Audrey Creim of Portland, also an OSC sophomore.

Mrs. Karl Urquhart and Mrs. Harry Johnson are spending this week in Portland. Mrs. Johnson planned to return to Eugene for the weekend on the University of Oregon campus.

Mrs. Stanley Staiger has spent several days this week in San Francisco.

Tulelake Girl Weds In Astoria

TULELAKE—In an impressive double ring ceremony at St. Mary's church in Astoria on November 3, Patricia Helen Thomas, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Thomas of Tulelake became the bride of Arthur Edward Martin, U. S. navy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin of Chicago. The service was read at 1 o'clock by the Rev. Father John O'Callahan before the altar with tall baskets of white chrysanthemums.

Preceding the entrance of the wedding party the church organ- ist played "Ave Maria."

The bride, entering on the arm of her father was gowned in a floor length frock of white satin and silk net made with full train. The bodice was of pink tea roses.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Martin and members of the wedding party received following the ceremony on the mezzanine of the Astoria hotel where the bride and groom cut their love- ly white and silver tiered cake.

Witry, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Thomas, Miss Dorothy Thomas, Marvin Haley Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brewster, Mr. and Mrs. George Plowman also of Portland, served. White car- nations were used about the room.

At seven o'clock the wed- ding party was seated at dinner in the Rose room of the Ben- son hotel in Portland with places marked for the bride and groom, Mrs. Frank Martin and a small son, Billy, Mrs. Witry, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Thomas, Miss Dorothy Thomas, Marvin Haley Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brewster, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Goetz, and Mr. and Mrs. George Plowman.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. R. L. Delbert was hostess at a 10 o'clock wedding breakfast at her home in Astoria for the party.

For traveling Mrs. Martin wore a rose wool suit with black accessories and top coat and the orchid from her bridal bouquet at her shoulder.

The bride, who has been em- ployed for several months at Astoria where the groom is sta- tioned, is a graduate of the University of Nevada and a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority. Mr. Martin has been in the service for three years. They will make their home in Astoria for the present.

Entertains

Last Saturday, November 3, guests enjoyed another of the delightful musical evenings given every few weeks by Mrs. A. J. Voyer at her home on High street. Featured were Mrs. R. E. Ross, mezzo soprano; Mrs. Ted Finney, pianist; Harry Borel, violinist, and Marie Obenchain, accompanist.

Mrs. Ross sang sentimental songs such as "A Bowl of Roses" and "When Song Is Sweet," illustrating Mrs. Voyer's talk on tone quality, breath control, resonance and shading.

Mrs. Finney told interestingly of her hobby, swing music, playing several selections which proved her contention that a thorough grounding in classical piano technique is necessary be- fore modern swing can be mas- tered.

Harry Borel played violin ob- bligatoros for two of Mrs. Ross' selections and also contributed several solos. Mr. Borel spoke briefly on the introduction of beginning students to violin technique.

Refreshments were enjoyed at the conclusion of the pro- gram, with Connie Hunt, Betty Glidden, Bud Selby and Joe Ross assisting the hosts in serving, as well as in greeting and seating the guests earlier in the evening.

Mrs. Ted Balcom of Coos Bay, formerly of Klamath Falls, is visiting here this week, a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bertram at their home, 1972 Portland.

Captain and Mrs. Lowell T. Coggeshall have invited a small group of friends to their home at the Marine Barracks for cock- tails before the buffet dinner at BOQ this evening in celebration of the 170th anniversary of the marine corps.

THE BRONZE STAR also goes to a woman at times and receiving this award in Paris was attractive Natalie Gould, veteran American Red Cross hospital worker and sister of Mrs. Lamar Townsend of this city. The ceremony took place at Cour Francois Premier in the Tuileries recently. Miss Gould earned the award while serving with the Red Cross in Europe. The presentation was made by Brigadier General Pleas B. Rogers, Seine section commander. Miss Gould expects to return to her former home in Klamath Falls.
