

Myrtle Bowen Is Recent Bride

TULELAKE—Before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums, palms and tall lighted tapers, Myrtle Bowen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stone A. Bowen of Tulelake, became the bride Monday evening, November 5, of William Lynch Dunlock Jr., U. S. navy. The double ring ceremony was read at 8:00 o'clock in the Tulelake Community Presbyterian church by Rev. Hugh L. Bronson.

Preceding the ceremony Lynn Keller of Tulelake, accompanied by Mrs. Keller, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Keller also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length frock of white satin bodice and bouffant cap skirt. Her finger tip illusion veil was worn with a Juliet net of net and satin and she carried white gardenias with bouvardia caught in the white satin streamers. Her maid of honor, Ruth Crowther of Tulelake, wore a floor length gown of blue net. Her arm bouquet and the flower arrangement in her hair were deep pink carnations.

W. A. King, U. S. navy, was best man.

Mrs. Bowen chose for her daughter's wedding a frock in dove gray with gray accessories and her shoulder flowers were deep pink rose buds.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunlock and the bride's parents received at the reception held in the church annex where the bride and groom cut their three tiered, white and silver wedding cake. Pouring of the silver service were Mrs. Albert Krouse of Applegate, Oregon and Mrs. Myrtle Cushman, Tulelake.

Low arrangements of Cecil Brunner roses and white tapes were used on the refreshment table. The cake was served by Mrs. Larry Hardman and assisting about the rooms were four close friends of the bride, Betty Cox, Nora Schindler, Ruth Birtwistle and Lillian Decker. The four young women wore black dinner dresses with shoulder arrangements of gardenias.

For traveling the new Mrs. Dunlock wore a powder blue ensemble with black accessories and gardenias at the shoulder. The young couple left the following day to return to Houston, Texas, where the groom is stationed after being overseas for 10 months in the Pacific area. He reports later to Galveston.

The bride is a graduate of the Tulelake high school with the class of 1944. The groom attended the University of Texas for two years prior to enlisting in the service.

Fifty guests were present for the wedding and reception and those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wagdy, aunt and uncle of the bride from Newport, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krouse, Applegate.

A pre-nuptial shower given Sunday, November 3, by Mrs. Melvin Cushman and Mrs. R. L. Carter in the annex of the Presbyterian church honored the bride.

DAR Meeting
Mrs. Bert C. Thomas was hostess at the November meeting of Eulalona chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on Monday evening at her home on Pacific Terrace.

The program topic, "Know Your Ancestors," was in charge of Mrs. William Dawson Foster who explained how to trace a family line. By maps, Mrs. Foster showed the main routes taken by pioneer groups moving westward and displayed several authoritative books on genealogy. She encouraged the working out of supplemental lines of ancestry when possible to get these facts on public record before they are lost.

The chapter is again this year undertaking the sale of gingerbread mix, proceeds from which go to the upkeep of Kenmore, the home of Col. Fielding Lewis, Revolutionary patriot and husband of Betty Washington, sister of George Washington. The home is in Fredericksburg, Va.

Another project for the year is the collection of beads which will be sent to the Indian Veterans hospital at Tacoma. Members are asked to bring these to the December meeting.

Eulalona voted to urge Oregon congressmen and senators to support the military training bill now before the house military affairs committee.

It was announced at the meeting that Mrs. Burton B. Lowry, state regent, has appointed Mrs. Thomas as state librarian of the Oregon society. DARA is to fill out the term of Lucy Comstock of La Grande.

The next meeting will be held in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church, Sixth and Pine.

Mrs. Herman Edwards, state secretary of the Eight et Forty, fun, service and honor group of the American Legion auxiliary, met with the local salon officers Monday night at the home of Mrs. M. E. Cooper. The Eight et Forty salon was organized in this county last July, and Mrs. Edwards brought me definite work of the organization from state and national officers.

The service work of the Eight et Forty is confined to tuberculosis in children. Membership in Eight et Forty is limited to active workers in the American Legion auxiliary, and plans are now in progress for initiation and the wreck, which will be either in December or January.

A RECENT VISITOR was Lt. Martha Moore Veatch who was the guest of Capt. Robert Veatch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Veatch of Earle street. She left last Saturday for Portland and from there took a plane to Chicago. Her husband arrived in the United States Saturday.

Halloween

A Halloween party marked the fifth birthday of little Artie Luckett who celebrated with two cakes and two gallons of ice cream.

Artie and his little guests, Jean Carnes, Sharon Liable, Donna Freeberg, Deanna and Athena Lampropoulos, Joyce and Richard Eagen, Virginia and Betty Fisher, Timmy and Mike Cartney, Betty Sue and Ramona Messick visited neighborhood homes for "trick or treat," after the party.

Langell Valley

LANGELL VALLEY — Mary Ann Leavitt and Richard Burnett entertained their little Langell valley friends with a Halloween party on Saturday evening, November 3. The party was held at the Burnett home and the house was decorated throughout with witches, skeletons, goblins, and other Halloween motifs. Games and contests were enjoyed, with refreshments served at the close of a pleasant evening.

Guests were Sharon, Katherine, and Tommy Marchant; Marilyn and Helen Dearborn; David Thordas; Mary and Donald Ross; Evelyn Martin; Elaine Jones; Douglas Embrey; Mark and Paul Dearborn; Charlotte and June Watkins; Joan and Vernon Pettigrew; Frances Nork; Catherine, Bill, and Henry Dearborn; and Monte Burnett.

Mothers present were Grace Dearborn, Dorothy Martin, Joanna Marchant, Edith Jones, Carolyn Dearborn, Margaret Burnett, and Cora Leavitt.

Mrs. Homer Roberts and Mrs. Lloyd Gift entertained the Langell valley Women's club at the Roberts home on October 25. The meeting was conducted by the vice-president Cora Leavitt. A dance was planned, with Grace Dearborn named chairman.

The members voted to send a gift to Mrs. Alice Peatross who is ill, and each member wrote a letter to be sent to her.

Bonnie Fernland joined the club at this meeting. The next meeting will be November 15 at the parish hall when Mrs. Bill Burnett and Mrs. F. W. Brown will be hostesses.

Dainty refreshments were served at the meeting's close. Members and guests present were Edith Jones, Frances Dalton, Mary Dearborn, Maxine Brown, Mary Noble, Bonnie Fernland, Grace Dearborn, Charlotte Fitzhugh, Edna Hood, Edna Conley, Maxine Cox, and Cora Leavitt.

A party was planned for Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Conley and Mrs. Maxine Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Murray and Mrs. Botkins who have sold out and are all leaving the valley to make their homes elsewhere.

The guild of St. Barnabas church went to Henley on November 1 to meet and spend the day with Mrs. Walter Foote.

Those enjoying the day and the delicious dinner served by Mrs. Foote were Mrs. Lloyd Embrey and children, Mrs. Mary Dearborn, Mrs. Ed Jones and daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Gift, Mrs. Anna Gift, Mrs. Florence Botkins, Mrs. Claude Murray, Mrs. Herb Jones and sons, Miss Hazel Morrison, Mrs. Frank Pepple, Mrs. Frank Dearborn, Mrs. Charles Revell, Mrs. F. C. Wisenback and Mrs. Ernest Howell of Klamath Falls.

The next guild meeting will be an all day affair, November 12 at the home of Mrs. Emery Johnson. Sewing will be finished for the bazaar to be held November 29. There will be a country store with homemade jams, jellies, and other foods to be sold, as well as the chicken dinner and bazaar.

Sojourners will meet Wednesday, November 14, at 1:45 o'clock at the Willard for bridge.

BPW Enjoys Fall Harvest Meeting

Unique and entertaining was the Fall Harvest dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club held Monday evening, November 5, at the Willard hotel with Hattie Evans, social chairman, and members of her committee in charge.

Mountain ash berries, pumpkin bowls of fruit and lighted tapers made the tables especially colorful, while black cats, pumpkins, feathers and autumn leaves were used for placecards.

Those attending were divided into four groups for the contests that included the feather blow, a harvest sway, a pumpkin relay and a bowling tournament—all highly hilarious.

Assisting Mrs. Evans were Lucile Tweed, May Moss, Edna Russell, Lorena Pease and Agnes Geddes.

Among the guests introduced were Lt. Betty Cleghorn who is just home from Europe, Mrs. Don Everitt, formerly of England, a new resident of this city, and Marie McGrath, who is a member of the BPW at Topeka, Kans.

Twyla Ferguson reported on the YMCA meeting held recently and Coral Sabo gave a report on special features planned for the Victory Loan. She asked that all members of the club, who will have time to work at bond headquarters, call Mrs. Nelson at 5518.

Members voted to participate in the inter-club banquet in December when Dr. L. D. Prillaman of Portland, professor of geopolitics, will speak on "Our Relationship With Russia."

It was also voted to have BPW members staff the USO on January 6.

A meeting of the executive board will be held next Monday evening, November 12, at the home of Bertha Geiger, 1503 Upham. The next regular meeting of the club will be on November 26 instead of the 19th, in courtesy to the Knife and Fork club which requested the use of the Willard banquet room for that evening.

The meetings of the Minerva and Edith Cunningham book clubs, usually held the fourth Monday of each month, were changed to November 19.

Frank Jenkins, publisher of The Herald-News, will be guest speaker at the BPW meeting scheduled for November 26.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall of 932 S. Fourth, East Salt Lake City, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Verna, to George D. Kohler of Klamath Falls.

The young couple has chosen January 17 for their wedding day. They will be married at the home of the bride's parents. They plan to make their home in Klamath Falls where Kohler is employed.

On Thursday Ye Olde Pinnock club met at the home of Esther Adkisson, 1536 Oregon avenue, for luncheon and cards. Nona Hall received the award for high score, Violet Vance second, Maggie Upton low, and the pinocchio award went to Fannie Goddard. The meeting on November 15 will be with Fannie Goddard in Shady Pine and the hour for luncheon has been changed from 1 o'clock to 12:30 p. m., for all future meetings.

Initiated

The regular meeting of Prosperity Rebekah lodge held Thursday in the IOOF hall with all officers present. Nina Currier, noble grand, presided over the business meeting and Fannie Cooke, Ninon Nyback, Rita Fuller, Maude Phillips and Agnes Vasak were initiated into membership. Following the business meeting and initiation, refreshments were served by a committee headed by Harriet Estes, who was assisted by Louise Chilcote, Frances Munsell, Sadie Humphrey, Pearl Tulley, Louise Brown and Edna Russell.

The social club will serve at the next meeting, November 15, 8 o'clock.

Past Noble Grands of Prosperity Rebekah lodge held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday, November 6, in the IOOF hall. A potluck luncheon was served at 1 p. m., and the hostesses were Martha Baker and Nellie Wattenberg. During the business meeting there was general discussion of the gift to be made at Christmas to the Odd Fellows home at Portland, and also of the plans for the December meeting.

This will be a Christmas party and will probably be held jointly with the social club, with a limited gift exchange.

Madelon Adler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George H. Adler of Pacific Terrace, spent the past weekend here with her parents. Madelon is a first year high school student at Eugene but studying music at the University of Oregon where she is majoring in piano.

Lioness club will meet Monday night, November 12, at the library club rooms at 8 o'clock. Hostesses will be Mrs. A. P. Heup, Mrs. Lloyd Lamb, Mrs. Paul Lee and Mrs. Vernon Moore.

Patty Schupp and Betty Merrill left Friday evening for a shopping trip which will take them to Portland. They plan to return home Tuesday.
