BRITAIN'S Premier Attlee tells a joint session of congress in Washington that the foundations of peace must be world prosperity and good neighborliness.

That's a good recipe, but difficult to put into a successful cake. If we're to make it work, TOLERANCE will have to be one of the principal ingredients.

STILL, if we're to have the kind of world peace cake we want, that is about the kind of recipe by which it will have to be made.

ATTLEE adds that he sees no reason for "economic" rivalry between Britain and the U. S. What he must mean is that he sees no reason for UNSOUND rivalry. No harm ever came of the RIGHT KIND of economic competition.

A lot of trouble CAN come from too much agreement and too little healthy competition.

TRUMAN, Attlee and King (U. S., Britain and Canada) are reported to have reached general agreement on steps toward international control of the atom bomb, but it seems we're not to get the word until a "joint communique" is issued along toward the end of the week.

Truman, said to be "honor bound" not to talk about the conference in advance of the cut-and-dried communique, is reported to be irked because the British have talked too much.

IF so, he's learning, as so many have learned before him, that open covenants, OPENLY arrived at are better in the long run than these star chamber affairs, with reporters excluded.

BRITISH Foreign Secretary Bevin says in London the U. S. has ACCEPTED an invitation to co-operate with the British in settling a joint Anglo-American inquiry to "examine the question of European Jewry and make a further review of the PALESTINE problem in the light of this examination."

A dispatch from Washington adds that President Truman confirms Bevin's announcement.

LET'S get that straight in our minds. What it means is that we've shouldered our share of the job of trying to talk the Arabs into letting more Jews into Palestine (in order to get them out of Europe, where they are distinctly not wanted.)

Thus we accept the risk of getting the Arab world down on us.

IN the old days, we'd have BALKED. If the President had made such an agreement, congress would have repudiated it.

These are NEW days. If we don't accept the responsibilities of leadership throughout the world, we'll have to TAKE the kind of leadership that OTHERS WILL PROVIDE.

THERE'S a sign in the sky today of a compromise in Java. Sutan Sjarif, with whom the Dutch are said to be likely to deal, takes the place of Soe-

Tulelake Japs Seek Citizenship

RENUNCIANTS TRY TO HALT DEPORTATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13 (AP)—Federal Judge A. F. St. Sure today issued a show cause order shortly after 985 Japanese Americans filed suits seeking to regain their United States citizenship.

The Japanese Americans contended their deportation to Japan would be unconstitutional and that they had been forced to renounce their citizenship.

The suits, entered as the government prepared to start deportation of all renunciants on November 15, were in behalf of Japanese residents of the Tulelake center in northern California.

The Japanese filed two mass petitions for writs of habeas corpus in the U. S. district court here, charging they were victims of duress by the government and seditious groups.

Two additional suits by the same persons also sought cancellation of their renunciation of citizenship, declaration by the court of their United States nationality, and an injunction to restrain the justice department from carrying out its announced plan of deporting them to Japan as aliens.

Wayne M. Collins of San Francisco, as private attorney for the group, brought the actions, with support of the American Civil Liberties union of northern California.

Born in U. S., Attorney Collins said all of the Japanese petitioners were born in this country.

He said the suits sought to have the renunciations declared void because they were obtained by duress and also on the ground the law was unconstitutional.

The more than 1000 Nisei renunciants who have brought suits are among the 4300 who (Continued on Page Three)

Riot Flares In Honolulu

HONOLULU, Nov. 13 (AP)—United States sailors and civilians rioted for more than two hours last night after a sailor was fatally injured by a civilian, police reported today.

More than 75 navy men were arrested after an estimated 200 bluejackets armed with clubs, stones and bayonets clashed with civilians in the Damon residential area.

Police Detective Neil Donahue said the fight started when a sailor, alighting from a street car, was hit by a missile hurled by a civilian. The man died later, Donahue said.

The sailors entered the suburb about 10 p. m., and the ensuing battle royal lasted more than two hours.

Honolulu, military, shore and marine police squads were sent to quell the fighting, but the rioting again broke out after midnight.

Discharged GI'S Ready To Go Places---But No Civvies

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (AP)—G.I. Joe, waving his discharge papers and ready to go places in civilian life, is finding it difficult to get all dressed up.

The ever increasing number of servicemen who are doffing their military uniforms aren't finding much of a choice in men's clothing, say retailers and manufacturers.

The discharged servicemen, most of them wanting to buy complete new outfits, are given preference by retailers, but the demand for men's clothing is greater than at any time in the last year and stocks in stores are depleted almost as soon as new shipments are received.

B. J. Cain, president of B. Kuppenheimer & Co., national distributors of men's clothing, said the supply of men's clothes was at an unprecedented low throughout the country because of various reasons—lack of materials, strikes and manpower shortages.

Military Atmosphere In Armistice Day Parade

Picture shows United States marines sloshing through Klamath's business district in the Armistice parade Monday. The marines provided a distinctly military flavor to the Armistice procession, which included the high school band and war veterans. See story on Page 8.

BETTY STEINMAN ENTERS CONTEST

Latest nominee in the Klamath Victory Queen contest is Betty Steinman, who is being sponsored by the Soroptimist and Venture club.

Miss Steinman lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Steinman, 827 N. 2nd. She has lived in Klamath Falls for the past five years. She was born 20 years ago in Lisbon, N. D.

For the last year and a half she has been employed at Everbody's.

Since the contest's beginning on November 5, two contestants, Miss Steinman and Agness Winters, have entered. It is hoped that more candidates will enter soon because the earlier they enter, the better their chances in the contest will be.

An $18.50 bond purchase will entitle the purchaser to one vote for his favorite candidate, two votes for a $37.50 purchase, and so on. The ballots which will be given to the purchaser by the issuing agent of the bond, will be sent to bond headquarters for daily tabulation.

The local contest will close December 8. The winner of the contest will then go to Portland where she will represent all the votes that were cast in her locality, whether they were cast for her or a competitor, to compete in the state finals.

Armistice Day Marred By Series Of Auto Accidents

Two persons are in a critical condition and at least six others received serious injuries in a series of automobile accidents in the Klamath Falls area over the Armistice Day double holiday.

In Klamath Valley hospital are Forest Duncan, 32, 317 Martin, and Mrs. Esther Pearce, 319 Division, both of whom are said to be in grave condition as the result of a cab-car intersection crash Monday night at Washburn way and Eberlein.

Also injured were Henry Clay Aten, 1309 Kane, driver of the Hurry cab, Duncan's mother,

Panel Exhausted In Heuvel Trial

With the initial panel of 23 veniremen exhausted by noon today and only 11 jurors tentatively selected, the case in circuit court against Earl Heuvel, former Klamath Falls police chief, was recessed until 9 a. m. tomorrow.

A new panel of 50 veniremen, drawn this morning, is to report to the court then.

The trial concerns an alleged immoral act by Heuvel against Bernice Evelyn Huff, supposed to have been committed more than a year ago when Heuvel was police chief here and the woman was a prisoner in the city jail, and is one of four morals charges for which the ex-peace officer has been indicted.

Heuvel is represented by Attorneys Herbert P. Welch of Lakeview and Earl Bernard of Portland, while Rex Kimball, assistant attorney general from Salem is working with District Attorney Clarence A. Humble in prosecuting the case. Judge Arlie G. Walker of McMinnville is presiding.

Questioning the prospective jurors was tedious business for both the prosecution and defense in that the Heuvel case has received much discussion in the past year.

Both Welch and Bernard examined veniremen very closely, asking each if the widespread discussion of the case had caused any opinion to be formed or if the nature of the charges against the defendant had caused any bias or prejudice in the prospective juror's mind.

The fact that Heuvel was formerly a police officer was also brought in as a basis for prejudice.

Most of the veniremen excused from the box admitted prior opinions, saying they did not feel they could give just con-

FBI Knew Jap War At Hand

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—A congressional Pearl Harbor investigator today quoted J. Edgar Hoover as saying the FBI had information on November 26, 1941, that "war was imminent."

The statement was made to reporters by Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif.), member of the senate-house committee looking into the circumstances surrounding the successful Japanese attack on the fleet at Hawaii December 7, 1941.

Gearhart and Rep. Keefe (R-Wis.) interviewed the federal bureau of investigation director preliminary to opening of committee hearings. Afterwards, Gearhart said Hoover had given them "very valuable information which I believe will result in startling disclosures."

Quoting the FBI chief in connection with advance information of the "imminence" of the war, Gearhart said:

"As a result, Mr. Hoover told us he had altered his men in the islands.

"If the army and navy had done that there never would have been a Pearl Harbor."

Man Gets Laugh On Ye Olde OPA

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13 (AP)—Nick Redka was home today from a trip to San Francisco with concrete proof that new tires aren't necessary for touring.

When Redka's ration board refused him a permit for tires, he poured wet concrete into his old ones, allowed it to harden and was on his way.

"You should have seen the gas station men when they went to check my air," Redka chortled.

Injured was Mrs. Wayne (Avis) Van Hardenburg, 23, 3118 Maryland, who suffered painful injuries as she walked across Pine in the path of a car operated by Marga B. Lion, 17, 1505 Pacific Terrace.

The woman was covered with coats as she lay on the pavement and the paddy wagon was finally summoned when it was found impossible to contact the ambulance.

Miss Lion said in her report to city police that she was driving north on Pine and while avoiding a car which pulled out from the curb, struck the pedestrian. Mrs. Van Hardenburg was dismissed Tuesday from the hospital after receiving treatment for hip and leg injuries.

Investigating police said she was knocked 24 feet by the impact. The Rev. J. J. PreVol, El Cerito, Calif., his wife and 8-year-old daughter Betty, escaped serious injury late Saturday afternoon when their car and a south-bound Greyhound bus collided.

British Chief Says No Need For "Rivalry"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Prime Minister Clement Attlee told an attentive congress today there is ample room for British and American trade without "any undue rivalry between us."

The leader of Great Britain's government was applauded vigorously as he spoke at a joint session in the house of representatives.

Attlee mentioned only briefly the atomic bomb, the announced subject of his conferences here with President Truman.

With Canada's Prime Minister McKenzie King, Secretary of State Byrnes and other cabinet members listening, Attlee declared:

"There is ample room in the world for the products of the great industrial nations like our own to raise the general levels throughout the world. We like to believe in an expansive economy and we can see no reason why, the need being so great, there should be any undue rivalry between us."

Attlee devoted the major portion of his speech to arguments for increasing cooperation and friendship between the United States and England.

Attlee's mention of the name of Winston Churchill, his predecessor, brought a burst of applause from his listeners.

There was applause from the democratic side when the prime minister spoke of the late President Roosevelt.

Speaking in the house of representatives to senators and congressmen who must approve any U. S. financial aid for Britain, Attlee frankly sought to remove what he called "some apprehensions" about his labor party's program.

Atomic Bomb
In his 3000-word address, the British leader mentioned only briefly the prime purpose of his visit to this country—to discuss with President Truman the eventual disposition of the secrets of atomic bomb production. He gave no indication of the course which the conferences are taking.

Attlee likened his country to a man in Britain returning from the war to find "his home blitzed and his business ruined."

"We went all out to win the war and now have to start afresh," he said. "Like him, we are facing the future with courage and a determination to win through."

Attlee said he looked forward to "an era of increasing co-operation" (Continued on Page Three)

Yanks Kill 7 Russians

BERLIN, Nov. 13 (AP)—The American provost marshal said today that seven Russians were killed and five wounded between July and October during altercations with American troops in the U. S. occupation zone of Berlin.

Cooperative efforts have sharply reduced the clashes and no fatal altercations have occurred for three weeks, the marshal—Lt. Col. Gerald F. Beane of Hollywood, Calif.—said.

Dual patrols of Americans now pace the border areas and around "rail stations were many cases of Russian looting," American sentries also have been ordered to shoot only in self-defense, he said.

Beane said "elements are here for a terrific crime wave" in the American sector this winter. Larceny and robbery are the most frequent crimes of American troops. Beane said causes of rape are practically non-existent because "a bit of food, a bar of chocolate or a bar of soap seems to make rape unnecessary."

Oregon Congressman Mott Dies From Heart Attack

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Rep. James W. Mott (R-Ore.), a member of congress since 1933, died yesterday of a heart attack on his 62nd birthday.

He had been in the Bethesda, Md., naval hospital three weeks and on Thursday underwent an operation for relief of an intestinal obstruction.

The house political lineup now is 241 democrats, 188 republicans, two members of other parties and four vacancies.

SALEM, Nov. 13 (AP)—State election officials today were trying to unravel the state's complicated election laws to determine how to fill the vacancy created by the death yesterday of James W. Mott, Salem, representative in congress from the first Oregon district.

Attorney General George Neuner probably will be called in to settle the issue.

Acting Gov. Howard C. Belmont indicated he would call an election, but said he first must determine the procedure. Governor Earl Snell will not return here until about November 22, as he is in California and will go directly from there to the western governors conference in Cheyenne, Wyo.

About all that the state elections division has to go on is a 1927 attorney general's opinion outlining two methods of filling a congressional vacancy.

Two Methods
One method is for the candidates to run as independent candidates, to be nominated by petitions or by assemblies. The
