

RENUNCIANTS TRY TO HALT DEPORTATION

renounced their citizenship between last January and March under a statute enacted a year ago.

The renunciants include hundreds of boys and girls between the ages of 18 and 21. The suits charged duress was exerted both by the government and by "fanatically pro-Japanese" groups and individuals among Japanese interests.

Criminal Activities

The petitioners declared the justice department made no effort to put a legal stop to criminal activities of the Sokoku Kikoku Ioshii Dan, composed of the older men; the Hokoku Seinen Dan, a group of younger men, and a girls' organization, Hokoku Joshi Dan.

The groups were accused of threatening physical violence against those who dared oppose their program and threatening physical harm to relatives of non-renunciants residing in Japan.

Ivan Williams, as officer in charge of the Tulelake center for the justice department, was named respondent in the habeas corpus proceedings.

Other respondents included U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark, Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, Secretary of the Treasury Fred Vinson, Commissioner of Immigration Ugo Carusi, and Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes.

consideration to the evidence submitted. Welch and Bernard also asked each man whether he could put aside all rumors and gossip heard about the charges against Heuvel and try the case merely on evidence admitted in court.

Humble's questioning was more perfunctory, generally relating to possible friendships or business dealings with the defendant which might bear on the individual venireman's deliberation of the case.

Heuvel appeared in court nattily dressed in a double-breasted blue suit, striped blue shirt and blue tie fastened with a diamond and gold stickpin. He sat quietly with his wife, an army nurse still in uniform. Just inside the railing of the courtroom and did not talk with his attorneys while questioning of possible jurors was underway.

karno, with whom they have REFUSED to deal, as premier of the unrecognized Indonesian (native) rebels. Soekarno appears to have stepped down to a "TOKEN" job, involving more honor than responsibility.

What it probably means is that both sides are trying to save face, but are willing to MAKE CONCESSIONS in the hope of getting together.

That's what counts.

GUESSING far ahead, it looks as if world empires are on their WAY OUT. All moderate thinkers will agree that it will be better if they can be EASED out instead of going out in a bath of blood.

THE Chinese communists are still needling us. They put out a report today that we're going to loan Chungking 64 million dollars with which to buy munitions. A spokesman for our embassy in Chungking says the report is totally unfounded.

WE get our first news today that there is a communist party in Japan. It is described in the dispatches as "small, but loudly articulate." It calls, for instance, for Hirohito's indictment as Japan's No. 1 criminal. Meanwhile Hirohito reads TO HIS ANCESTORS today a report of the ending of the war, and prays at the Ise shrine that "the unprecedented crisis now facing this nation may be conquered and the task of constructing a peaceful nation accomplished."

SO far, in the settlement of postwar troubles, there has been more SHOOTING than PRAYING. For the present (keeping our fingers, of course, carefully crossed) let's give Hirohito's method the benefit of the doubt.

ference between box factory and sawmill common labor. Also, the union asked for a further wage increase of at least 5 cents on April 1, with the parties negotiating at least 15 days before that date.

Further provisions in the union offer called for acceptance of a union shop clause when requested by local unions, and resumption of negotiations to eliminate common labor differentials between the fir and pine regions.

Union representatives, among other things, complained that the employers' wage increase offer did not include in the case of sash, door and plywood employees at Weed, and they insisted that all adjustments be basin-wide in character.

Union men said that if the employers would accept their offer, they would sign form 10 asking for government approval of the wage increase. They said, however, they would not want such signing to indicate their belief a price adjustment is necessary to grant the wage increase.

Employers, represented by the Pine Industrial Relations committee, turned down these suggestions.

The rejected offer made by the employer negotiating committee at the two-day conference proposed that the two negotiating groups recommend to the people they represent that the following program be adopted:

1. A wage increase of 12 1/2c per hour to all employees represented by the union, effective as of the date production operation is resumed.

a. Union representatives will join with employer representatives, within five days after acceptance of this recommendation, in signing a Form 10 application seeking government approval of this increase.

b. Whether this increase shall be converted to a contract rate for employees paid on a piece rate basis, and if so the method of conversion, shall be decided by each company and its local union.

A recommendation for a 12 1/2-cents-an-hour increase was recently approved by the negotiating committee of the employers and the CIO Klamath basin district council, for CIO operations in this area. This matter is now being taken up by the negotiators with the parties they respectively represent. Similar action has been taken elsewhere in the industry by the CIO, and today it was reported that locals at Aberdeen and Spokane, Wash., had accepted the terms.

Announcement has not yet been made of action by CIO locals or CIO operators here on the proposal.

lided head-on five miles south of Chemult.

The PreVol car was headed north when it met the Greyhound bus which had turned out from a parked car and into PreVol's lane of traffic. The impact sent the bus off the highway but the big machine did not overturn and no one was injured. Mrs. PreVol and Betty suffered slight injuries but their escape was considered miraculous. The family continued to La Grande, their destination. The bus was pulled from the snow drifts by state highway equipment and came into Klamath Falls several hours late.

State police reported an accident 11 miles south of Keno on Highway 86 when a 1937 Lincoln Zephyr driven by Charles F. Busk, 32, 203 Klamath, overturned at 4 a. m. Sunday. Busk said the right front wheel locked and the car went into a spin on the ice, overturning in a ditch. Busk was uninjured but damage of $475 was done to his car.

The prime minister said he believes "some people over here" imagined that the British labor party was "out to destroy freedom, freedom of the individual, freedom of speech, freedom of religion and freedom of the press."

"They are wrong," he asserted, adding that the labor party was "in the tradition" of all British freedom-loving movements and "in line" with those who fought for the Magna Carta, and Habeas Corpus, with the Pilgrim fathers and with the signatories of the Declaration of Independence.

Atlee said the world's greatest task today is to "bring home to all people before it is too late that our civilization can only survive by the acceptance and practice in international relations and in our national life of the Christian principle—we are members of one another."
