Only these plump Thanksgiving birds happen to be succulent hens lined up at Swift and company and ready for the market. Some 6000 birds, testifying to the fact that there are plenty of birds for every table, were distributed by Swift's manager, Bill Kunz, to merchants in this area. The birds came from the Roy Meeker, Sadie Newnam and W. F. Jinnette ranches. Only hens were on hand when this picture was taken but the gobblers were next in turn. The gobblers will be frozen and saved for the commercial trade, Kunz stated.

Do you know what's missing from this picture?

If you're waiting for a telephone, what isn't in this picture may be far more important than what you see.

For although we are now getting and installing thousands of new telephone instruments, even more orders for service are being held up (and this may be the case with you) by a shortage of other facilities that take longer to build.

In many places, for example, we will have to build complicated new switchboards before we can provide telephone service . . . in others, we will even have to put up new buildings to house those switchboards.

But we are working full speed ahead, and no matter what the conditions are that are holding up your telephone, you can be certain we are doing everything we can to get to your name on the waiting list just as swiftly as possible.
