chamber said that it has been reliably estimated that in the last year 213 residences, normally held for transient rental, have been sold for permanent occupancy by owners. He reported the military and civilian housing here is full, and that virtually all the trailers in the local project are occupied.

Letters from several railroads and the public utilities commission showed that no definite action has yet been taken to provide a signal at the dangerous Hager grade crossing.

The board accepted an invitation from the Lakeview chamber directors to meet at Lakeview December 3 at 6 p. m.

Wards Called Out On Strike to submit other proposals to arbitration.

"Unusual" strike methods which would affect an estimated 75,000 employes of the company are planned by the union, Wolchock said.

The plan for a week-long strike and possible repetition was devised by the union, Wolchok said, because "we want to impress the average man — the average citizen — in the United States with Mr. Avery's labor policy and his entire doings toward labor as a whole; with his reactionary methods in dealing with labor."

U.S. Army Officer Killed By Reds

PEIPING, Nov. 21 (AP) — An American army officer was killed and three other Americans and a group of Chinese taken prisoner by Chinese communist guards while on a special mission in North China shortly after the end of the war, it was learned today.

The officer was Capt. John M. Burch, who before the war was a Baptist missionary at Hangchow. For 28 months he had operated behind the Japanese lines for the office of strategic services.

With him were Capt. Curtis A. Grimes, Peiping-born son of a missionary, Sgt. Albert Meyers and an officer identified only as Lieutenant Ogle (home addresses not available). They were held captive in Yenan, communist capital in Shensi province, for three weeks after a 400-mile march.

Kaiser Shipyards Near End Of Era

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21 (AP) The once giant Kaiser shipyards are approaching the end of an era.

Oregon Shipbuilding corporation will deliver its final ship this weekend, leaving ony 700 clean-up workers out of the 34,000 employed at the war peak. Swan Island delivered its last vessel today; and the Vancouver yard will launch its last ship Saturday.

About 12,000 workers still remain at the yards, most at Vancouver. Swan Island will continue with ship repair work. Oregon Shipbuilding has been dickering to complete three hulls for a private industry.

Our Home Town

Thanksgiving Day

By EARL WHITLOCK

Oh, yes, you will be grateful this Thanksgiving Day, all right. You will say "Thank God for victory! Thank God the boys are coming home!

But I should like you to think back—such a short time—less than four years—to Pearl Harbor and realize how near we were to total disaster then. How near, nobody will ever know, I imagine. It isn't a thing that army or navy or the State department do much bragging about. But something—you might perhaps call it Divine intervention and not be so far wrong prevented the Japs from following up their overwhelming advantage—something made the Germans' strategy as full of faults as a seive is of holes—and the extreme danger point was successfully passed.

The more you think about the narrowness of our escape back in those dismal days the more you begin to agree with the thinkers who argue that God has inevitably set this America of ours the task of leading the world along the path to Freedom.

And while that job is often a thankless one, — a misunderstood one and a hard one, don't you think we can again say "Thank God" for the privilege of doing it?

Next Monday Mr. Whitlock of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home will comment on ENJOY THE LITTLE THINGS.

have gone to war if they hadn't been led into it by these PROVED monsters.

* * *

THERE'S a big shake-up in army and navy command. Marshall retires as army chief and Eisenhower moves up. King retires as navy chief and Nimitz moves up. There are corresponding upward moves on the stairway below.

* * *

MEANWHILE there remains STILL UNSETTLED the big question of merging our armed forces into ONE SERVICE with one top command—which the army wants and the navy opposes.

The general run of the American public remains firm in its belief that in a fight BOTH of a fighter's fists should be under the control of ONE brain. Everyone knows that the fighter who doesn't co-ordinate his fists is pretty sure to get licked.

ON the home front, the big General Motors-UAW strike that has been hanging over us like a dark cloud finally materializes. Apparently there is no other way out.

The public, already used to waiting, more or less shrugs its shoulders and accepts the fact that it will have to WAIT LONGER for new cars, refrigerators, radios, etc.

* * *

A BIG strike is a form of war. War SETTLES THINGS. It settled Germany's and Japan's hash. But it costs a lot.

We all wish it didn't have to be. But it IS.

* * *

MEANWHILE in Washington the labor-management conference is trying to find a substitute for industrial war, just as the United Nations conference in San Francisco tried to find a substitute for war among nations.

It seems probable that we shall have to find a substitute for industrial war before we can hope to find a substitute for SHOOTING war.

Both have their beginnings in human nature.

Navy Nurse To Be On Victory Fun Show

Lt. Bertha Evans, navy nurse, will aid in Victory Loans throughout the country and will appear at the Victory Fun show at the Pelican the night of November 27, according to word received here.

Lt. Evans, accompanied by Mrs. Rogers MacVeagh, director of the women's division, war finance committee, will arrive next week, loaned by the navy department. She was on duty in the Philippines at the time of the Jap bombing of Cavite, and after the fall of Manila was held a prisoner by the Japanese in Santo Tomas and Los Banos. She was liberated February 22, 1945.

Vera Crisler Dies Suddenly

an. He was one of the early mayors of the city, one of the organizers of the First National bank and served as its president. At the time of his death he was president of Ewauna Box company.

Miss Crisler spent much of her life on her parent's ranch and she also had ranch interests of her own. She returned here following the death of her father and mother. Mrs. Crisler died in Klamath Falls, July 28, 1938, her husband, March 27, 1933.

Funeral announcements will be made by Whitlock's.

Christmas Seals Sent Through Mail

The Klamath County Public Health association has started the ball rolling toward a goal of $12,000 to fight tuberculosis, by getting 8000 letters in the mail November 19. The next move belongs to recipients of the letters.

The letters contain two sheets of Christmas seals, and instructions to follow.

Four thousand more letters will be in the mail shortly, as soon as mailing supplies are available. This large mailing list has been compiled so that everyone in the county may have a share in combatting the dreaded disease of tuberculosis, Mrs. Maud A. Hosley, chairman of the seal sale, pointed out.

Everyone uses Christmas seals for gift wrapping, and using the tuberculosis seals is an opportunity to serve two purposes—brightening a package and having a hand in backing the county health program.

Klamath Man Met At Gangplank

PORTLAND, Nov. 21 (AP) — Portland welcomed three troopships and three escort destroyers today bringing 4655 men home.

The Cape Canso arrived this morning.

Scheduled to dock late this afternoon are the Gilliam, Marvin J. McIntyre, Fieberling, Gendreau and Paul G. Baker.

Mrs. Velma Fullerton, Portland, was at the gangplank to meet her cousin, S/Sgt. Clarence E. Howie, Klamath Falls, who had been in the South Pacific more than two years.

State May Levy Inheritance Taxes On Indian Bequests

SALEM, Nov. 21 (AP)—The state of Oregon has a right to levy inheritance taxes on bequests left by Indians, Attorney General George Neuner ruled today for State Treasurer Leslie M. Scott.

Neuner pointed out that property of Indians is not subject to state taxation, but he said an inheritance tax is not taxing an Indian. Rather, he said, it is levied on the transfer of property from the dead to the living.
