Christmas Glitter Paraphernalia Returns To Klamath Stores

By JOY BIGGS

Lights are going on all over the world, and will twinkle again on Klamath Falls Christmas trees this year.

Shophounds will find certain favored types of baubles and glitter for holiday decoration in local shops for the first time since Pearl Harbor.

There isn't much. But at least a few of the old rusty ornaments can be replaced by new tinsel and icicles. Merchants have reason to expect strings of Christmas tree lights and extra screw-in bulbs in small shipments.

Gift shops are showing for the first time since before the war, musical churches and sleighs with reindeer, that play "Silent Night" and "Jingle Bells."

Bright candles from pencil to pillar size, and of various shapes including pine cones, Santa Clauses and angels, are on hand too.

The five-and-dime stores have a supply of paper wreathes and trees of various sizes in red and green; "angel hair," snow and icicles, and ropes of celophane garlands.

Colored plastic and glass balls, mesh and celophane stockings, both empty and filled; fire-proof cotton for making bells over lights, bright poinsettias of chenille are also available.

Hard candy and candy canes may be had this year too but paper table decorations including holiday napkins and covers, bonbons and place cards, are still very scarce.

Halsey Gives Up 3rd Fleet Command

LONG BEACH, Calif., Nov. 23 (AP)—At 63 Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey, a sturdy sailor who served his country for 45 years, has relinquished command of the third fleet.

His blue-four starred flag was hauled down from the main truck of his flagship, the battleship South Dakota, in colorful ceremonies yesterday as the admiral released command of the fleet that so readily steamed along the Japanese coast and poured thousands of tons of damage on the enemy.

Halsey's voice trembled a little and his eyes misted as he spoke briefly before the two-starred flag of his successor, Rear Admiral Howard F. Kingman, replaced his.

Oregon Wages Hit New High

SALEM, Nov. 23 (AP) — Oregon workers earned bigger wages last year than in any other year in history, the state unemployment compensation commission said today in a survey of war wages.

The average wage in 1944 of persons working throughout the year was $2511, compared with $2397 in 1943, and $1832 in 1942.

The average last year for shipyard workers was $3004, while it was $2625 for construction workers, and $2438 for lumber workers.

The state's total payrolls last year were $797,236,339. Payrolls for the larger industries included: Shipbuilding and aircraft, $275,304,983; lumber, $133,159,807; retail trade, $76,447,442.
