

Number Of OPA Boards To Be Cut

OPA is on its way out. This seems to be indicated in the report received, that by January 1946 the number of price boards in Oregon will be reduced from 83 to 25.

According to Howard Stroh, price board supervisor of southern Oregon, some boards are being closed already in this vicinity and businesses will be coordinated under fewer heads. Lakeview office will be closed and prices for Lake county will be controlled through the Klamath county office in Klamath Falls.

Three boards will be coordinated under the Medford office, with Ashland and Grants Pass offices closing by January 1.

Reducing Staffs
With rationing off every commodity except sugar and tires, each office of price administration is reducing its staff and will continue to eliminate surplus workers as the need for their services expires.

Although nearly all articles are no longer rationed, all prices will remain fixed according to OPA designation until further notice. With the removal of rationing a closer check on prices will be kept by the boards to prevent inflation now, Stroh said.

No violations of fixed OPA prices will be tolerated, the supervisor emphasized, and such a system as grocery stores in surrounding cities are using—offering goods free that are marked above ceiling prices—will be encouraged with merchants here, to make the job easier for OPA officials.

Foolish Hope?
The hope of many that tires and sugar may soon go off the ration list, is a foolish one, Stroh pointed out. There will not be any greater quantity of these articles as the supply is still limited, but without rationing, the greedy ones will grab what there is by virtue of getting at them quicker or having friends that can, and others who may be in greater need may be left in the cold.

Markets will continue to pay four cents a pound to housewives for used fats and oils, and they are still valuable to the war emergency.

U. S. May Be Seat Of United Nations

LONDON, Nov. 26 (AP)—A British spokesman said today that the United Nations preparatory commission might reconsider a recommendation by its executive committee to locate the permanent seat of United Nations organization in North America.

The spokesman, a representative of the British delegation, said at a foreign office news conference that there appeared to be "quite a widespread" movement to reopen the question of the site of the headquarters.

Enjoy The Little Things

By EARL WHITLOCK
I was reading an article the other day in which some man was wondering why it was that the potatoes that he and his young pals had roasted out in their secret hideout, when he was a boy, had possessed a flavor so much more delicious than any he had eaten since. And why it was that the small bit of bread passed at communion had such a delightful flavor.

I wonder if it wasn't because, in the cave, potato was all he had to eat, and in the church, that bit of bread was all he had to taste. So naturally, he could devote his full attention to enjoying it. If he had had meat, potatoes and pie in addition, either in church or cave, he would not have been so intrigued with the simpler things.

Life is so complicated these days, we have so many benefits to claim our attention, so many dishes on the table, so many attractions to attend to an evening, so many books to read, that we seldom take time to savor fully any one thing that we eat or do or read.

Yet there are in daily commonness a lot of avenues to greater happiness. All of them found very simple ways, past romances and every-day experiences.

All of them immensely enjoyable—if we would just take time out to appreciate them.

Next Monday Mr. Whitlock of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home will comment on "Fate."

the SUSPICIONS that are everywhere hampering progress toward better human relations, we might be able to get somewhere in the direction of a better world in which great wars will be less likely.

HARASSED, dispossessed, starving, afraid-of-the-future from all over Europe—and are reported today to be rioting and shooting in their efforts to force their way in, Arabs or no Arabs. Under all the circumstances of the past half dozen years, we can hardly blame the Jews. But suppose they started pouring into Oregon and northern California, regardless of immigration laws and everything else save their own immediate security? We'd be pretty badly stirred up.

So, you see, we can hardly blame the Arabs. The situation in Palestine points out for us some of the difficulties involved in this post-war readjustment the world is facing.

FORMER Secretary of State Hull tells the Pearl Harbor investigating committee today that "the Japs were hell bent for war in 1941." He adds that he urged upon Mr. Roosevelt the keeping of the fleet in Hawaiian waters for PSYCHOLOGICAL effect.

He defined "psychological effect" thus:

"If you happened to have a double-barreled shotgun in the house and were talking to a desperado, you'd feel a little better and he'd feel a little worse if he saw the psychological outline of that weapon."

THE fault in that reasoning is that you'd LOAD THE SHOTGUN.

We left the fleet helpless, like a sitting duck, in Pearl Harbor and failed to take even ordinary precautions against any attempt by an enemy that might try to SHOOT the tempting duck.

Until that point is cleared up, the American people will continue to feel that the truth about Pearl Harbor hasn't been told.

When World War II began in 1939, there were 158 persons on the U. S. embassy staff in London. At the war's end there were 276.

The house foreign affairs committee approved legislation to authorize a second contribution of $1,350,000,000.

Typographical Tieup Spreads

By The Associated Press
A shutdown of three Seattle newspapers entered its second week today (Monday) with no agreement in sight upon the wage dispute between the publishers and the striking AFL Typographical union.

Seattle's three newspapers of general circulation—the Post-Intelligencer, Times and Star—have not published since last Monday when 250 compositors walked out in support of their demand for a daily wage increase of $2.95. Management offered a $1.65 daily raise. The present scale is $10.35 for a seven hour day.

AFL printers also were involved in newspaper strikes at Reading, Pa., St. Petersburg, Fla., and Portsmouth, O.

Approximately 350 employees of the Reading Times and the Reading Eagle are idle as a result of a strike begun by 73 typographers September 8. The company charges the union with breach of contract. The union has demanded pay increases and publication of International Typographical union laws in a new contract.

St. Petersburg's two dailies—the Independent and Times—are affected by a walkout of compositors seeking $1.47 an hour for day work and $1.62 for night work. The present scale is $1.19 and $1.31 and the publishers have offered increases to $1.40 and $1.53. The strike began November 20.

Publication of the Portsmouth Times was halted Saturday when the printers struck in support of an hourly wage of $1.43 which would bring their weekly earnings to $53.63.

"Honey, I've got the best retirement plan on earth!"

"THIS new Army Retirement Plan doesn't cost me a penny, and yet I can retire after 20 years of service with a good monthly income as long as I live. And remember—I'll still be under 40!"

"Why, if I wanted to PAY for a plan that would give me the same retirement income that I will get as a Master Sergeant, it would take just about $84 out of my pay envelope every month."

"And think what it will mean to us. We'll be able to do the things most people can never afford to do. Travel. Go places. Do things. But most important, we'll have financial security."

"In the meantime, I'll have a good job in the Army that will pay me well. I'll be getting fine training in a good trade. You'll get a family allowance, too."

"Not a bad proposition, is it, honey? Aren't you glad you're the wife of an Army man?"

The ability to retire at half pay at any time after 20 years of service, and on up to three-quarters pay after 30 years, is only one of many important privileges offered in the new Armed Forces Recruitment Act of 1945. Read all the highlights of this new Act. Find out why thousands of men are enlisting in Uncle Sam's new peacetime Regular Army. Better still, stop at your nearest Army Recruiting Station and get the whole story.
