Today's Roundup

By MALCOLM EPLEY
AS this is written, a break in the AFL lumber strike in the northwest appears imminent...

Possibility of a resumption of work will come as happy news in the AFL-organized section of the Klamath basin lumber industry...

EPLEY

If both CIO and AFL operations get on an active basis now, the lumber industry will have weathered a critical period fairly well...

In most industries, strikes seem to be accepted as inevitable in the process of reconversion. The CIO experience, after the trouble here, showed that they can be averted.

From The Good Book

WITH the 121st psalm, we renew today a tradition established last year when we carried in this column daily Bible readings...

The experiment last year was a success. We were surprised at the number of supposedly "worldly guys" who told us they liked it...

This old world has just come through a baptism of fire. Revulsion has set in, and it won't be difficult, for a time, to make elaborate plans for permanent world accord...

If the world is going to make its good intentions stick this time, it is going to have to build on a firmer foundation than mere machinery for peace set up in the period of postwar rebound...

And so, here's the first of the daily series, to be concluded Christmas eve: PSALM 121

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth.

Behold, he that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep.

The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand.

The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil; he shall preserve thy soul.

The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.

Why Thousands of Doctors Have Prescribed PERTUSSIN FOR BAD COUGHS (CAUSED BY COLDS)

PERTUSSIN must be good when thousands of Doctors have prescribed it for so many years. PERTUSSIN acts at once to relieve such coughing. It actually loosens phlegm and makes it easier to raise.

situation is that labor is a completely controlled entity, a centrally managed, thoroughly disciplined, wholly directed group in national life.

Why They Occur
In view of this condition, it is necessary to look beyond the claims made for individual strikes in any search for an answer as to why they occur...

There would seem to be no reason why the strike was called first the day the national labor management conference assembled here to discuss and arrange a conclusive peace-pact.

What I specifically mean is no necessity arose at that particular time involving any of the factors of the case to warrant a walk-out.

The case of the CIO auto workers involved their many months old demand for a thirty per cent wage increase.

New talk and threats of the telephone strike in various sections started about the same time, developing along the same lines.

New Tactics

THESE facts, I think, are further evidence of what I have suggested before, namely, that labor has developed new tactics.

On the one hand was the A F of L and on the other the CIO, and in their functions they could be likened to the democratic and republican parties in the management of the nation.

Following the analogy through completely, the other independent unions could be likened to the minority parties which have only a few scattered votes.

To try to dig inside that situation to find the proof, would be as tedious as pursuing an electrically magnetized needle through all the nation's haystacks.

The program took up many suggestions you have seen published in this column, including proposals for legislation establishing the principle of union responsibility.

Now, if all these facts are true, as I have said, the ultimate crisis has arrived in this matter.

These are the symptoms behind the situation as I see it and the explanation of why the strikes have so systematically developed.

THE proposals did not involve any settlement of the wage controversy or other elements involved in a particular strike discussion.

Relief Slow in Coming
One great reason why relief is slow in coming to the people of England is that the government is diverting a large measure of manufacturers to foreign trade...

Now don't get the wrong impression from what I've said. England is dog-tired, and more than a little disappointed because peace hasn't brought relief from the privations of war...

British War Brides Arrive in America
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 26 (AP)—Five of seven British war brides awaited transportation to the east today after arriving here on the British cargo vessel Herefordshire.

Two of the women were met by their husbands—Major Edward Lynch, Yakima, Wash., and Raymond Torin, St. Louis. Another of the brides, Mrs. John Dixon, learned she had arrived in the states before her Florida husband.

An eighth English girl, Dorothea Dessauer, said she would marry Garth Williams "just the minute" she arrives in New York City.

Vets Report To Draft Boards

Only 18-year-olds not attending high school are being drafted now by Klamath selective service boards...

About 500 discharges reported to the two selective service offices last month and were classified 1-C. Around 300 have been processed this month.

Young men reaching the age of 18 are required to register for the draft and the boards reduced quotas are filled from that group.

Any boy in high school is allowed to complete his course or remain in school until he becomes 20, and boys in college when they reach the age of 18 may go on until the end of the current term, under the present setup.

The maximum draft age is now 26 and all men over that age who received essential industry deferments have been automatically reclassified 4-A from 2-A and 2-B.

During the war the maximum draft age was 38. A 4-A classification means over-age with no previous military service.
