

Martha Shops and Shops

Behind curtains, sparkling holiday windows were put in along Main street this week. But somehow, there isn't the gaiety of other years' Christmas openings. Peace is still too fresh, and we haven't completely shaken off the uncertainties, sorrows and fears of war. Perhaps, by next year we will have felt our way through . . . and there will be some of the old upsurge.

Muriel Displays New Jeweled Hats

YOU see jeweled trims everywhere in the cities," Muriel . . . who recently returned from a buying trip . . . told Martha she was admiring new hats in her shop. Of dark or light felt . . . these numbers are somewhat like the Breton sailors in shape . . . with a row of colored jewels providing the only trim. They're worn either tilted over the forehead . . . or behind your pompadour . . . smart looking and not expensive.

Like Martha . . . you've probably long admired the luscious looking blouses at Muriel's . . . so I was extremely interested to learn these are made by her mother . . . Mrs. MacDonald . . . who has a talent for fine hand-work . . . and are fashioned of prewar satins and sheers. Right now there are a few pure silk chiffons in the shop.

Muriel has had a shipment of rather unusual Corde bags that she showed me . . . small in size . . . of black, brown or navy . . . these differ in type . . . and are only $7.20, including tax. For the first time since the beginning of the war . . . Muriel has received some of the Merle Norman overnight bags . . . of leather . . . completely fitted with cosmetics in a separate compartment . . . can be removed if desired . . . Priced at $32.88, including tax. One of these would be an especially acceptable gift . . . now that we'll soon be traveling again, we hope!

MURIEL'S . . . in the Winema Hotel Building . . . for beauty appointments . . . Merle Norman cosmetics . . . and select gifts.

Market Receives Sweet Variety

IT WAS a "sweet" time Martha had in the Pine Street Market the other day. Goodness gracious, what spread a Honey plus Butter spread . . . clear from Michigan . . . and a fresh supply of that special maple syrup from Vermont . . . to say nothing of the shipment of maple sugar finally arriving . . . it seemed like a good time to lay in a supply. We've already tried the spread . . . fresh butter beaten into pure honey . . . and it is delicious! Good for children, too. The maple sugar . . . if there's any left by now . . . came only in pound cakes. The market also received a good supply of Uncle John's Cane and Maple SUGAR syrup . . . which is from the same place as the real maple sweetener . . . is less expensive and should be mighty palatable. PINE STREET MARKET, corner of Seventh and Pine . . . again has two deliveries daily (do I hear cheers?) . . . at 10:30 a. m. and 3 p. m. . . and you can phone in your order.

Spencer's Feature Buccella Creations

DO you know that Spencer's features the nationally advertised Buccella linens . . . which are really creations? Well, Martha didn't . . . not till this week when Mrs. Spencer showed me what an extensive line the store carries in these . . . especially for the gift season. The printed luncheon sets . . . from card table size to large enough for eight . . . with napkins to match . . . are the most conspicuous . . . but the place mats . . . of crash and fine pastel weaves . . . are becoming more and more popular . . . especially for entertaining . . . so the store has a plentiful and varied supply of these. Also carrying the Buccella stamp are dainty guest towels of linen and rayon . . . vanity sets and scarfs of embroidery. These are ideal, inexpensive gifts . . . because you know as well as Martha, that any woman loves linens. Of a more expensive line . . . and very new . . . are the decorative linen cloths of color combinations . . . soft gray and rose, blue and rose, brown and yellow. Or, if you're looking for a gift in the ultra class . . . there are the handmade place mat sets of organdie combined with lace . . . linen and embroidery . . . that are dreams, no less.

Other especially nice gifts include the beautiful Madeira pillow cases . . . and the hankie selection of prints, sheers or imported embroidery. SPENCER'S . . . 619 Main . . . is also well supplied with toys for the holidays.

LaPointe's Opens Spacious Interior

WITHOUT fanfare the walls came down . . . and LaPointe's opened its enlarged apparel department . . . taking over the entire northeast corner of Main and Fifth to convert to a modern, spacious store. It's true the front and display windows are still unfinished . . . but that only adds surprise to the interior.

The new expansion certainly provides ample display space for the large and ever-changing stock of coats, suits and frocks . . . that LaPointe's takes pride in bringing from the high class markets . . . to its Klamath patrons. Martha had hardly stepped inside the door this week . . . before several of the store's personnel invited her to view the new improvement. I did . . . and was impressed first by the harmonious arrangement and tasteful decorating . . . next by the marvelous lighting. Large, glass brick windows let in plenty of daylight. It would take too long to describe in detail . . . so Martha suggests that you drop in to LaPointe's . . . 507 Main . . . to see for yourself. An added inducement is that the store right now is a veritable wonderland of gifts.

Curry's Reveals "Black Magic"

ROMBI'S "Black Magic" . . . with its lingering, incense-like fragrance . . . that makes you think of jungle trails and voodoo . . . is, for the first time, available in gift SETS . . . at Curry's. Packaged in black and white boxes . . . the curving fern design makes Black Magic easily recognizable . . . and the sets Curry's received include the triple $5.00 size . . . of dusting powder, cologne and bubbling bath oil. Slightly smaller . . . but equally desirable . . . is a set for $4.75 . . . containing toilet water, body powder and powdered bubble bath. In the double sets . . . priced at $3.75 . . . are combinations of powder and toilet water or sachet. Of course, prices on these do not include tax. Curry's also carries all the single items of Black Magic . . . three sizes of perfume . . . two of toilet water . . . talcum powder and powder mitts . . . in addition to those mentioned above. On display at the cosmetic counter . . . CURRY'S FOR DRUGS . . . Ninth and Main.

Shop Early, Jumper Frocks Ideal For School

LOOKING about for a new frock for casual wear . . . Martha scooted into Whytal's . . . where there's quite a rainbow selection in jumper dresses . . . ideal wardrobe stretchers . . . or for the school room. Especially was I impressed with the trims . . . which somehow made these jumpers look dressier . . . although the plain tailored are included, too. Many featured contrasting designs of felt . . . others have braided trim about the neckline . . . or bright wool embroidery . . . all are youthful. Mingling with the pastels and hi-shades were dark colors such as wine, brown and navy . . . and they're tailored in several styles . . . including gathered fronts . . . high, round necklines or square . . . or with tie collars. These jumpers run in size from 9 through 17 . . . and WHYTAL'S . . . in the Medical-Dental Building . . . has plenty of blouses to be worn with them.

Feathers Make Chic Hair Decor

REMINISCENT of the ostrich plume era in fashion . . . except that these are streamlined . . . is the fascinating array of feathers at Long's . . . purchased while Mr. and Mrs. Long were in Los Angeles a couple of weeks ago. Martha considered feathers should be worn on hats . . . but they're even more fetching on the hair . . . pinned back of your curls or drooping across the cheek. They also make a cat look like something special. Among the colors are chartreuse, delicate pink, a satisfying blue, black and brown . . . so you can find a shade to match or contrast with your cocktail dress. Long's is plentifully supplied with artificial flowers, too . . . several boxfuls having arrived from the south. These are from old stocks . . . and the material is much nicer than in the new. The selection includes great clusters of violets and sprays of roses . . . such as a gorgeous white one that I thought would certainly set off an evening gown . . . AT LONG'S APPAREL . . . 719 Main.

Town Shop Offers Gift Selections

IN the gift line . . . The Town Shop has a lot to offer you in early shoppers . . . in spite of merchandise quotas and curtailments. Take robes for instance . . . for which there's always a demand at Christmas. Martha saw broadcases and woolen ones . . . chenilles, quilted rayons and crepes . . . both long and knee length . . . and a large stock to select from. One in particular I remember had a red bird design on white . . . most effective. On the practical side . . . the shop has a wide size range in those perfect fitting Laros slippers . . . the kind Martha always asks for. They're so lovely . . . yet modest in price. There's a varied selection of bags and sweaters . . . sport blouses . . . jewelry sets . . . compact and hankies . . . but particularly timely are any of the White Stag togs for skiing . . . or outdoor activities. Warm, woolen outfits that would make an exceptional gift. THE TOWN SHOP . . . corner of Fifth and Main . . . has a lay-away plan . . . and gift wrapping service . . . for the convenience of customers.
