

Anti-Hitler Spy Expert Executed After Assassination Plot Failed

By DANIEL DELUCE
NURNBERG, Nov. 30 (AP)—The German army's leading spy expert plotted for years against Hitler and finally was executed in 1944 after the failure of the bomb plot against the fuhrer's life, a surprise witness testified today at the war crimes trial of 20 Nazi leaders.

Adm. Walter Wilhelm Canaris, mysterious Greek-blooded chief of the German army's counter-espionage section, was named as a leader of the anti-Hitler military clique by Maj. Gen. Erwin Lahousen, Canaris' aide. Lahousen was the first witness called by the prosecution to relate the grim inside story of German scheming and aggression.

Lahousen said that Canaris, who ran the German spy service disguised as a commercial agency during the days of the German republic, hated Hitler and headed a military clique which plotted against the Nazi leader from the time he rose to power. Canaris was among scores of military leaders executed after Hitler escaped death in the 1944 assassination attempt.

Lahousen said Canaris unsuccessfully protested against mass murder and ill-treatment of Russian prisoners, who were starved until "cannibalism ensued."

He said high command orders to assassinate two French generals, Maxime Weygand and Henri Giraud, were thwarted by Canaris.

Lahousen testified that Field Marshal Wilhelm Kettel, one of the defendants, wanted German secret agents to murder the two French military leaders after the fall of France to remove them as possible centers of French resistance.

Weygand was allied generalissimo at the time of the fall of France and later was Marshal Pétain's administrator in North Africa. Giraud for a time was the allied-recognized French leader in North Africa.

Jews Ordered Slain
The prosecution's surprise witness declared former Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop once asserted that "all farms of Poles must be burned to the ground and all Jews killed" in the invasion of Poland.

Hitler was responsible for the policy of starvation that led to cannibalism among Russian prisoners, Lahousen declared.

He said preparations were made to take Russian prisoners to Germany, "but this was countermanded, we heard, on Hitler's personal orders."

"This meant there was vast congestion at the front," he commented. "People could not be fed nor clothed and cannibalism ensued. During repeated trips I undertook with Canaris I saw some of this with my own eyes."

Orders also were issued to brand some Soviet prisoners, he testified.

Planes Seek Lost Fliers

COOS BAY, Ore., Nov. 29 (AP)—Airplanes, aided by improving weather, began an aerial search today for seven men missing since a Monday plane crash in the isolated mountains 50 miles northeast of here.

Fifty more men were ordered to join afoot searching parties, and 30 of them had already reached the remote, heavily wooded terrain.

Capt. Robert Lorts, Portland army air base public relations officer who flew here to aid in the hunt, reported rescue work progressing as smoothly as possible in the roadless terrain. Four more planes from Portland were sent to this southern Oregon area.

The five men already rescued, one of whom hung 36 hours 150 feet high in a fir tree, were to be flown to Portland army air base today. None is injured.

The plane, based at Sedalia, Mo., crashed after weather prevented its landing at McChord field, Tacoma, Wash.
