Today's Roundup

By MALCOLM EPLEY
OPPOSITION to one-way traffic on Klamath business streets, which we looked for but did not see at the recent conference on cross-city traffic plans...

EPLEY

It is unfortunate that those who feel so strongly on the matter were not present at the conference attended by Engineer R. H. Baldock, who explained his suggestions for cross-city routes of US 97...

We strongly favor another general meeting which engineers and any interested local people can attend, before final decision is made.

New Suggestion

A BUSINESS man at the merchants' meeting held the other night made a suggestion which we would like to hear discussed by the engineers.

He proposed that north and southbound routes of No. 97 through town be separated, but that the traffic on these routes be not restricted to one-way.

It's a new suggestion for the local problem, and it would be interesting to hear the reaction of the official traffic experts...

In Good Spirit

WE should approach the whole question with the realization that both general and local traffic factors have to be considered, and that no official is deliberately trying to damage anybody's business.

It is a problem that should be worked out in good spirit. Frank, friendly discussion will help attain that goal.

W. F. B. Chase

A GENTLEMAN of the old school was William F. B. Chase, Klamath attorney and former county commissioner, who passed away last night.

We knew Mr. Chase a long time. We knew him as a man of gentlemanly courtesy, good will, and strong interest in the public good.

News Behind The News

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—An overabundance of misinformation about American foreign policy sprouts glibly in the daily news.

wingers nor commies, are thus gradually being influenced in their thinking, particularly as to China.

The Hurley testimony that a state department official actually advocated arming the communists against our war ally Chiang Kai-shek has current counterparts.

A few pickets proclaiming themselves to be "the communist party of the District of Columbia" (never before known here) walked up and down in front of the department for a day, urging that Mr. Byrnes quit, the "marines" be recalled from China and the government stop supporting Chiang.

Openly, thus, the professed communists are advocating what the leftwing periodicals and congressmen are more subtly promoting with greater power and influence.

NOW comes also Mrs. Roosevelt up to the fray. Associated Press quotes her as telling an audience at Fort Devens:

"Russia has not started any wars," while denouncing Madame Chiang as undemocratic. Russia has not started wars? Ask Finland. The Finns were called to the Kremlin in October, 1939, and a slice of their territory demanded in true Hitler style.

How about Iran today? Persistently Russia has declined to allow Iranian troops into the Russian-occupied zone of their own country to stamp out a communist revolution; therefore permitting the revolution to succeed, in expectation that a communist-controlled state will be set up there.

I cannot ask: How about China?

Befuddled School Of Thought

THE martial clouds there suggest Russia is obliquely working against Mrs. Roosevelt and her peculiarly befuddled school of American thought—lately at least.

Stalin's soldiers have reached some sort of unreported agreement with Chiang whereby they will hold on to the Manchurian cities until he can get big forces in there, thus keeping the Chinese communists from capturing them.

Both Chiang and Stalin have left the superior Jap forces (300,000) out along the railways, because the Chinese communists would tear up the lines if the Japs were not there to protect them.

Furthermore Commissar Molotov insisted at the London conference the Chinese communists were not communists, but largely farm peasants led by bandits; and that Russia would rather have stability in China now (this from an official source off-the-record here.)

Now I do not wish to place any stamp of my own belief or authority upon these Russian inferences which are at variance with "the communist party of the District of Columbia," Mrs. Roosevelt and leftwing and New Deal congressmen and periodicals.

Personally, I believe their words show they are incapable of objective appreciation of the facts, but are guided in all their reasoning by the commie line domestically.

American Policy Stated

THE American policy was simply stated in the Anderson letter by Mr. Byrnes, pointing out that we, as well as Russia, are under war obligations to clear Chinese territory of the Japs, and implying our assistance to Chiang will continue until China is cleared.

Thereafter, perhaps, the commies can come back and do in China what they are successfully concluding now in Iran.

One thing about Russian diplomatic technique proved by history is that it need never make simultaneous sense. It can violate the treaty Mrs. Roosevelt's husband wrung from Stalin guaranteeing the perpetual freedom and sovereignty of Iran; and simultaneously abide by its agreement with Mr. Roosevelt to join the defeat of Japan in China, even at the expense of communists there.

The leftwingers do not know communism, Marxism or Russia. They are being fooled, and are trying to fool us all.
