Students Home For Holidays

There is much hustle and bustle, last minute shopping and gift wrapping as parents try to get things in order around home before the college crowd descends. There have always been plenty of the young women folk the last few holiday seasons but this year the men are arriving, too.

Nancy Bennet was one of the first to reach home when she returned from Mills the middle of the week.

Due in, starting tomorrow night, from the University of Oregon are Jeanne Long, Ann Stevenson, Joan Campbell, Sharon Willis, Barbara Hood, Maryellen Wright, Mary Landry, Betty Lombard, Marcellyn Wiggins and Dorothy Riggs. Wanda Shaw will go from Eugene to southern California to join her parents, the J. Royal Shaws.

From Oregon State will be Bob Kent and Ted Igl along with Barbara King and Virginia Ellen Smith.

Arriving from Stephens college in Missouri this weekend are Joy Kent, Maxine Liskey and Margie Clark.

Ella Tatlow is expected soon from Willamette university at Salem.

University of California students to be here for the holidays are Nadine and Margie Palmerston, Dorris Weinberg, and Jean Underwood who will arrive several days before Christmas.

Merion Albrecht and Marianne Lion, students at Stanford, as well as Peggy Keating who is also at Stanford this year, will be home for the tree trimming.

Whitman college students from Walla Walla, Washington, are Barbara Osborn and Donna Moorehouse.

The young couple will make their home in Klamath Falls. Miss Kahl, former student at the University of Oregon, is a member of The Herald and News staff.

Corporal Killmeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Killmeyer of Pittsburgh, Pa., is stationed at the Marine Barracks.

The Herald and News staff will have all their children home for Christmas this year with the arrival Friday of Sig and his wife, the former Lois Steinselver. Sig arrived a short time ago from the Pacific, not long after his brother Don. Both served in the U. S. army air corps. Sig received his discharge at Fort Lewis recently.

The holidays are bringing romantic news of engagements and forthcoming weddings and news of the betrothal of Marcille Reynolds, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Reynolds, formerly of Klamath Falls, was added to the list. Marcille plans to be married in Klamath Falls, which she still calls home, late next summer. The following is from the Burlingame paper.

Miss Marcille Reynolds passed the traditional five-pound box of chocolates last Wednesday evening at the Mariposa House on the Stanford university campus to herald her betrothal to Earl Schmidt Jr., of Burlingame.

The Burlingame boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schmidt Sr., and won acclaim for his exploits in the European theater of operations when he was an army air corps pilot of the Flying Fortress "I'll Be Around."

He completed 39 missions over Germany and was awarded the army Air Medal and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

The future bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Reynolds of Klamath Falls, Ore. Her father is with the United States chamber of commerce with offices on this coast. She attended Oregon State college for two years before entering Stanford where she is a senior student. Her brother, Earl Jr., is a Seabee on route home from duty in Okinawa.

Before entering the service, the benedict-elect was graduated from Burlingame high school and attended San Mateo Junior college and Pasadena Junior college. He is now completing his college training at Stanford. His brother is Ensign Don Schmidt, a navy air corps pilot, stationed in Florida.

Plans are being made for the wedding next fall.

Others present were Mrs. Lloyd Prock, Mrs. John E. Gates, Mrs. Roy Premo, Mrs. Van Haslark and Mrs. William

Recital

At the Voyer residence, 419 High, on Saturday evening, December 15, at 8 o'clock, Mrs. A. J. Voyer will present 16-year-old Bud Selby. Marie Obenchain will accompany him. New and old favorite songs will be sung by the young vocalist.

Mrs. Sam Mushen, one of the city's well-known pianists, will be guest artist.

Aproximately 40 guests have been invited. Connie Hunt, Lew Harper and Jack Henry will have charge of seating the guests and later serving the refreshments.

The program will include "Invictus" by Huhn, "Water Boy" by Robinson, "Dusty Road" by Rene, "Narrative" by Stohart, "Blind Ploughman" by Clarke, and "Until" by Teschemacher, featuring Bud Selby. Mrs. Mushen will play "Nocturne" by Chopin, "Concert Etude" by Liszt, and "Le Petit and Blanc" by Ibert.

Dinner Dance

Beta Sigma Phi's annual Christmas dance was enjoyed Sunday evening at Cal-Ore tavern when members and their escorts gathered for dinner.

Mrs. E. J. Charon and Mrs. Arthur Moore made arrangements for the affair. The long table was centered with bowls of white chrysanthemums and white candles burned at either end.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hendricks, Mrs. E. J. Charon, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moty, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Whitlatch, Mrs. Kay Kaylor, Lillian Redkey, Lois Cody, Martha Keller, Barbara Nyhart, Elenora Westford, Phyllis White, Mrs. Van Thome, Harry Woodall, Al Carlson, Win Paeger, George Mathews and George Murray.

Lt.-Col. Russell Stearns and Mrs. Stearns, residents of Portland, spent Thursday here with Dr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Stearns of Pacific Terrace. Col. Stearns returned in October from long duty overseas. He went through the African, Sicilian, Italian and European campaigns as an officer in the U. S. army air forces.

The lovely veil which Genevieve wore at her wedding this morning at Sacred Heart church was worn by another bride before her. It was loaned by Genevieve's aunt, Mrs. Thomas Weick of Portland. The bride's opal lavalier was sent by her brother, 1st Lt. William Heup, USA, now in India.

Adding to the setting was a Christmas tree from which gifts were distributed after dinner. Guests were seated in candlelight while a Christmas story, entitled "John Junior" was read by Mrs. George Wardell, and the remainder of the evening was spent socially.

Present at the affair were Lois Turner, Mrs. Warren Poole, Mrs. Stephen Sabo Jr., Mrs. John Feeback, Kathryn Jackson, Mrs. Jules Napier, Mrs. Russell Fairchild, Doris Yantis, Mrs. John Harding, Mrs. Don West, Mrs. George Wardell, and Mrs. Cornett.

Buffet Supper

Dr. and Mrs. John Merryman entertained Monday evening at their home, 1200 Pacific Terrace, with a 7 o'clock buffet supper honoring Mary Jane Jenkins and Capt. George Merryman whose engagement was recently announced. Capt. Merryman returned here Friday of last week after his return from overseas.

Guests were Miss Jenkins and Capt. Merryman, Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Macatney, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gerber, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnhisel, Lt. Gerald Joseph, USMC, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Durment.

Bridge Club

Mrs. Robert Ellingson Jr., entertained members of her bridge club at her home Thursday evening when the group enjoyed the annual Christmas party. The rooms were gay with Christmas decorations, pine boughs and tree ornaments. High score in cards went to Mrs. Roy Whitlatch, second to Mrs. Stanley Staiger.

Mrs. Paul Geary was a guest and others present were Mrs. Lane Warren, Mrs. John Sandmeyer, Mrs. Lloyd Froom, Mrs. Richard Post and the hostess.

Club Gathers

Mrs. Harold A. Teale was hostess at her home, 1935 Auburn, at the annual Christmas party of her bridge club held Friday evening. A Christmas tree held gifts for the guests and the exchange followed cards in which high score was held by Mrs. O. K. Puckett, second by Mrs. Lloyd Porter.

Others present were Mrs. Lloyd Prock, Mrs. John E. Gates, Mrs. Roy Premo, Mrs. Van Haslark and Mrs. William

Invite Someone For The Holidays

The war is over as far as the headlines are concerned but there are a lot of service men and women who will spend Christmas in Klamath Falls and probably New Year's Day as well. It is a time for festivity and sharing. The turkey will taste better and go just as far if you share with a navy man or a marine.

Call Major Phillip W. Kelly, recreation officer at the Marine Barracks, 5121 extension 384, if you are so inclined. And we hope you are. Merry Christmas!

A lady calling in a society item not long ago advised this writer that she had tried to get all the names right because somebody said if she didn't get them correct we'd be fussy! Well, it dates back, this being "fussy" about names. When we were very little there was some sort of a lodge Christmas tree in Salem and they called out my name which is Lois and on the card was Lois. Inside was a pair of boy's long black stockings! It was very sad.

When Margaret Reed was in Portland recently she had a brief visit with Ruby Hastings who sent holiday greetings back to friends here. Ruby and Earl expect their son, Ensign Ben Hastings, on the Pacific coast around December 22 which should make it possible for him to spend Christmas with his wife and young daughter in San Francisco, as well as his parents, who hope to go south if Ben's ship comes in. Ben has been serving the United States navy in movement of troops out of the Philippines area since V-J Day.

Capt. and Mrs. Bob Veatch are here for the holidays. Both spent their Christmas of 1944 overseas. Mrs. Veatch has received her discharge from the United States army where she served as a nurse. They leave for San Antonio, Texas, where Bob reports to the army air field January 7. En route here from the east coast they visited in Canton, Ohio, with Ted and Esther McDonald and their two sons, Steve and Bruce, and then took a plane from Cleveland to Portland.

A letter from Frances Reynolds telling of Marcellie's engagement and also that Earl Jr., CM2/c, Seabees of the U. S. navy, is en route from the South Pacific where he has been stationed for the past 20 months. He expects to arrive in Burlingame by Christmas. Then the Reynolds expect to spend the holidays here at their farm home near town. Frances and Marcellie, accompanied by Earl Schmidt whom Marcellie will marry next fall, will drive up this weekend and be joined by Earl Sr., and Earl Jr., when the latter arrives on the coast.

Chopin Concert Heard Friday

It was a rare treat which Klamath Falls enjoyed last night, Friday, when an all-Chopin concert was presented for our pleasure by George Hopkins of Eugene, professor of music at the University of Oregon.

The high school's beautiful new piano was officially dedicated by Mr. Hopkins and no finer artist could have been heard.

Sponsored by the Klamath Falls Shrine club, Mr. Hopkins is the first of a group of artists whom the club hopes to bring to this city in future seasons.

Mr. Hopkins' appearance was perfectly timed, it came just as the holiday season was being welcomed and well spaced between other musical programs.

Chopin's lovely music — and there is none more demanding in its sheer beauty and appeal — held the audience from the opening number, Variations Brillantes, to the always thrilling Polonaise. In after-the-concert discussions, several were heard to express their favorite of the delicate Berceuse in which the striking of the clock was so noticeable.

Mr. Hopkins' encore was another favorite, Au Clair de Lune, de Bussey.

We sincerely hope that this is not Mr. Hopkins' last appearance in Klamath Falls and that he will enjoy being here as much as the town enjoyed having him.

Proceeds will go to the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children in Portland and from early reports, the donation will be a generous one which is not unusual for Klamath Shriners have always sent fat checks on all occasions.

Reception

Mr. and Mrs. George Hopkins of Eugene were honored Friday evening following Mr. Hopkins' concert in Klamath Union high school auditorium, when Dr. and Mrs. George H. Adler entertained at a reception in the Pelican party room from 10 to 12 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins received with the Adlers in the attractive room which was decked with holiday greens and Christmas tree ornaments.

Mrs. E. D. Johnson poured at the coffee table. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins are house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Adler this weekend at their home on Pacific Terrace.

Dinner On Sunday

A no-host party at Cal-Ore tavern was arranged by a small group who had dinner there Sunday evening. The group included Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Jenkins, Dr. and Mrs. John Merryman, Mary Jane Jenkins and Capt. George H. Merryman.

Observing Their 50th wedding anniversary on Monday, December 10, were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Percy Evans of the Evans apartments, who have made Klamath Falls their home for the past 35 years, after moving west from Kansas. Mr. Evans is a pioneer business man of this city.

Library Club Will Assist In Collection

The Klamath Falls Woman's Library club, at Monday's afternoon meeting, took up a collection and thereby garnered in $18 which will go toward the Victory collection of canned foods for European relief.

Mrs. Emil Albrecht, assisted by Mrs. John H. Bunker, is in charge of the purchasing committee and will spend the money for canned foods to be shipped to European countries where the need is so very, very great.

All organizations in the city are urged to do likewise, whether they send the foods direct or take up a collection and let the Library club committee do the shopping which the members will be most happy to do.

If there are any questions, Mrs. Robert P. Ellingson Sr., phone 3782, will be able to answer them. Mrs. Ellingson, as president of Library club, has information on hand as to where and when to ship the canned goods.

Also, further information may be obtained from Dan West, executive director of the collection, 100 Maiden Lane, New York.

Some clubs in the city may not wish to do the shopping for the collection but would like to participate. In this case the Library committee will shop.

Others who have donations ready may send them along with the Library club shipment. It is hoped that Klamath Falls will come through for the needy and make this a part of their Christmas contribution.

Sojourners

The Sojourner Christmas party was held at the Willard hotel on Wednesday afternoon, December 12. The room was decorated in keeping with its Christmas theme with holiday greens and a Christmas tree laden with gifts.

Gifts were exchanged by the members and guests. Mrs. R. G. Fisher, vice president and historian of the club, read a resume of the organization's activities during the past six months.

The Girls' Glee club of Klamath Union high school under the direction of John Best sang two Christmas numbers.

Guests at the affair included Mrs. George Chatalas of Seattle, Mrs. John Cox, Mrs. George G. Gies, and Mrs. H. R. Tatman of this city.

The annual Christmas party marks the close of Sojourners year, and the terms of the present officers. New officers were installed by Mrs. W. A. Shannon, a past president, and each officer received the token of her office. Installed were Mrs. F. A. Murphy, president; Mrs. C. B. Larkin, vice president; Mrs. H. R. Kircham, secretary, and Mrs. J. D. Gillespie, treasurer.

Refreshments were served at a table decorated in a Christmas motif. Hostesses for the afternoon were the outgoing officers, Mrs. R. G. Fisher, Mrs. W. R. Petty and Mrs. C. B. Larkin.

Sojourners, an organization to help newcomers become acquainted, will meet Wednesday, January 9, at 1:45 o'clock in the Willard hotel. Details for the meeting will be announced later.

Church Wedding This Morning

In one of the loveliest of winter weddings Genevieve Agnes Heup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander P. Heup of 417 Lincoln street, became the bride of PFC John Matter, United States marine corps, at a 9:30 o'clock nuptial mass this morning, Saturday, read at Sacred Heart church by the Rev. Father Timothy Casey.

The altar was decked with white chrysanthemums and many white candles and palms completed the arrangements. Just before the service Patty Brown sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" and Frank Yantorn sang "Panis Angelicus" by Franck.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional white satin wedding gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long bodice, full sweeping skirt and long sleeves pointed at the wrists. Her fingertip veil was lace edged and fell from a cap caught at either side of the head with tiny clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white gardenias and pink rosebuds. Her only jewelry was an opal lavalier.

Matron of honor was Patricia Sexton and bridesmaids were Christina Demetarakos and Virginia Lee Benoit. Miss Sexton wore a yellow chiffon gown and carried yellow carnations in an arm bouquet. Her headress was a wreath of carnation hearts from which fell a brief veil. Miss Demetarakos and Miss Benoit wore full length taffeta gowns with overskirts of net. Miss Demetarakos in rose, Miss Benoit in turquoise blue. They carried white carnation bouquets with white carnations in their hair and brief veils matching their dresses.

Best man was PFC William Hadden, USMCR, Jersey City, N. J.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served for members of the bridal party at the Heup home on Lincoln. Assisting was Mrs. Ralph Benoit. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon there was a reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Matter at the Pelican party room.

The bride's table, beautifully arranged in silver and crystal, was centered with the four-tiered wedding cake decorated in silver and topped with a miniature marine and his bride. The couple cut the first piece of their cake which was served by Mrs. Dick Miller. Assisting at the punch bowl and around the room will be Carol Newman, Mavis Patterson and Frances Glicerist.

Mrs. Heup received with the young couple and for her daughter's wedding wore a chartruse afternoon frock with a shoulder corsage and a picture hat of brown velvet.

Mr. Matter and his bride left by train for their new home in Philadelphia, Pa., and for traveling Genevieve wore a grey suit with black accessories, a small black hat and her black Chesterfield coat. Mr. Matter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Matter of Philadelphia. He was stationed at the Marine Barracks here following his return from overseas duty.

Madelon Adler, young daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George H. Adler who is attending junior high school at Eugene and also studying music under Professor George Hopkins at the University of Oregon, will arrive for the Christmas holidays Thursday. On Wednesday Madelon will assist with the Roosevelt junior high's choral presentation at the Eugene schools Christmas program.

Holiday Gift

"Why the Chimes Rang," one of the time-tested Christmas stories, is the theme of this year's Klamath Union high school dramatic production and gift under the direction of Mrs. B. B. Blomquist.

Three performances will be given, with the public showing on Thursday evening, December 20, at 8 o'clock.

Cross-beam lighting will be used to give the effect of the vision in the play. Supplying the music for the production is a 45-voice chorus from the high school music department.

The cathedral chimes used in the drama, are an imported transcription of the chimes in the abbey of Beuron in Europe. They are owned and highly-prized by Mrs. Blomquist.

Because of illnesses prevalent among her students, Mrs. Blomquist has chosen duplicate casts. Est. Wilkins, Dave Williams and John Ogle portray the uncle, Ted Reeves and Robert Plass, Holger, the little boy; Evelyn Long, Shirley Dalton, Shirley Jones and Gloria Mayfield, the angel; John Baker, Mercedes Collins and Gordon Lindberg, the little brother.

The unusual lighting and sound effects are being handled by Dick Griffiths and Harold Gillette. Barbara Perkins and Della June Michael are in charge of the elaborate costuming.

Assistant stage manager is Margaret Grubb. Mrs. Blomquist stated that all students in the drama department have helped in the production of the play and that the music department has cooperated throughout the rehearsals.

Piano Recital

An informal piano recital was held in the library club rooms Friday afternoon, December 7, when Mrs. Allen Sloan presented her pupils.

Invited guests were the mothers and friends of the group of students who performed. Each guest received a small surprise package gift.

The young pianists who performed were Betty Bennett, Lester Bullis, Gloria Bunnell, Marilyn Hemingsen, Ronnie Hershberger, Robert Kuykendall, Shirley Mattoon, Marilyn Miller, Margaret Peary, Elsie Nitschelm, Sammy Lee Smith, Carolyn Stoler, Nancy Warren, Joan Webb, and Jim Webb.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cartwright and Danny left Monday for their home in Portland after being here for several days at the Lloyd Prock home.

John Casey, Portland attorney, who was here on business this week, was the honor guest at dinner at the Nicholas Long home on Lakeshore Thursday evening.
