

Chester Main Re-Elected Tulelake Growers Chief

TULELAKE, Calif., Dec. 19—Chester Main was re-elected president of the Tulelake Growers at a meeting held at Tulelake last night, with about 75 farmers present.

D. N. Crawford was re-elected secretary, and the new directors are Raymond Baker, Otto Saynes and Ivan Rose. They succeeded O. A. Schultz, Sam Anderson and George Yost.

Financing the association for 1946, and other years ahead was a main topic. It will be done on an acreage assessment basis, which was tried out successfully this year.

The association will ask congressmen to support a bill to bring 75,000 Mexicans into the country for farm labor in 1946. It took up the problem of permanent housing for transient labor. Taking over the army barracks at Camp Tulelake is present intention of the association.

Support prices on potatoes under the federal loan program for 1946 were announced. An illustration is the December bulk price of $1.00 on No. 1 potatoes for growers.

The refrigerator car situation here is much improved, it was reported.

The growers adopted a resolution to hire a full-time manager to work under the board of directors. The president will act as chairman of the board.

Next year, it was decided, the growers will get into an advertising program for their products.

Holdover members of the board are Lee Dixon, John Coulson and Fred E. McMurphy. The president will act as chairman of the board.

Main said the Tulelake Growers association is very appreciative of the cooperation given by the growers on the Klamath side, and the Klamath County chamber of commerce, in the past year.

The army had to use 12 different kinds of rust preventive lubricants in the Pacific.

2 Oregon Men May Get Honor

PORTLAND, Dec. 19 (AP)—A legislative committee named to recommend two Oregon men to be honored with statues in the National Hall of Fame at Washington has held its first meeting.

The committee is to consider ways of raising funds for the statues. A 1921 legislative resolution named Jason Lee, early Methodist missionary, and Dr. John McLoughlin, Hudson Bay company factor during the early territorial days, but provided no funds.

Others suggested include Abigail Scott Duniway, advocate for equal rights of women, George H. Williams, Oregon senator during the civil war and later U. S. attorney general, and the late Senator Charles L. McNary.

General Wing Dies Of Heart Attack

RUTLAND, Vt., Dec. 19 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Leonard F. Wing, 52, who led the 43rd (Winged Victory) division in four major Pacific campaigns and landed in Japan with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's occupation troops, died early today at his home of a heart attack.

Gen. Wing returned from Japan Oct. 9 with his division. He served in four major campaigns, northern and southern Solomons, New Guinea and Luzon.

In private life he was a Vermont lawyer. He leaves his widow, two sons and a daughter.

Ickes Hopes Crater Lake Fund Available

Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, has expressed hope that appropriations will be available for keeping Crater Lake national park open this winter, according to Congressman Lowell Stockman.

Ickes expressed the hope in response to Stockman's petition urging maintenance of winter recreation facilities at the lake for this year.
