

Big 3 Meet Not Expected To End Before Christmas

By EDDY GILMORE
 MOSCOW, Dec. 20 (AP)—The foreign ministers of Soviet Russia, Great Britain and the United States were reported making steady progress as they went into the fifth day of their conference today, but there were indications they did not expect to finish by Christmas.

Crash Wrecks 2 Automobiles

Approximately $200 damages to one car and $250 to another resulted from a collision between vehicles driven by Lois Brown, 20, of Glencourt apartments, and Mrs. Erna Lorrain McGonagle of McCloud, Calif., yesterday afternoon.

The crash occurred at the intersection of Elm and Market. Mrs. McGonagle told investigating police that she was driving south on Market, and failed to come to a full stop at the corner. The cars crashed in the middle of the intersection. The most extensive damage was done to her car, a 1940 Chrysler. Mrs. McGonagle is a former Klamath resident.

Amil Nelson, operator of the Nelson battery shop on S. 6th, reported to police that two large stillson wrenches were stolen from a cabin near his shop yesterday.

Theodore Osborne, Keno, posted $5 bail with police yesterday for failure to procure an operator's license.

Seven drunks and one vagrant appeared in court this morning, and two parking tickets were paid. The city jail now has 28 residents.

Home From University—Shirley Mason, daughter of Mrs. Carl Mason, arrived home from the University of Oregon Monday to be home for the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

Official estimate as to how long the conference would last, but observers pointed out that the ministers had before them a multiplicity of problems, some of which were extremely complicated, and that disposition of these issues would naturally require time.

Delayed
 It also was pointed out that three plane-loads of British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's technical experts and advisors had been delayed in Berlin, where they were grounded by bad weather. The weather also delayed the dispatch of conference documents to London by plane.

Byrnes and Bevin conferred with Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov only an hour and 15 minutes yesterday and today's meeting, scheduled to start at 4 p. m. (6 a. m., PST) also was expected to be short because of a reception which Molotov planned for 6 p. m.

Generalissimo Stalin, just returned to Moscow after a 68-day vacation, received both Byrnes and Bevin yesterday and the Russian leader was reported looking "well and rested."

Byrnes, accompanied by U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, talked with the generalissimo an hour and one-half, but the nature of the conversation was not disclosed. Bevin and British Ambassador Sir Archibald Clark Kerr were received by Stalin at a later meeting.

Harriman said Stalin "looks very well." "Even better," he added "than when I saw him at the end of October. He has a fine tan."

Survey Tells if School System Lacking

A survey was conducted in homerooms today to find where the numerous students of KUHS have gone to school. Students were asked to signify where they had attended school from the first grade up through their present grade.

The main point of this survey is to show the shift in population but it will also help the schools. From the tabulation of this survey, the Klamath schools will be able to tell if they have been teaching the students the right subjects by the right methods. There are various differences in the school systems of the different counties and more so between the different states.

Junior High-Grade School Special Section
 It was decided at a recent meeting of the student council to look into the matter of finding a different seating arrangement for the grade school students who attend the high school basketball games.

At the football games a section is set aside for the interested grade-schoolers to sit, but in the past they have been scattered among the high school students at the basketball games.

Most of these students have no active interest in the spirit of the school and do not know the school pep yells, so it was felt by several members of the yell squad and student body that a separate section should be set aside. At the meeting yesterday the members of the student council also decided that they would like to tackle a problem that would be of special benefit to the school but as yet they have not decided what their project will be.
