

Russia Agrees To Put Atomic Energy Controls Up To United Nations And Turn Wins Voice In Jap Council

By GRAHAM HOVEY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28 (AP)—Russia aligned herself today behind Anglo-American proposals to put atomic energy controls up to the United Nations and in turn win a voice in control of beaten Japan.

These two results highlighted the 11-day meeting of Big Three foreign ministers in Moscow—a meeting which officials predicted would unite the top wartime allies in their efforts to solve the formidable problems of peace.

Breaking a deadlock in their relations which lasted nearly three months, the United States, Russia and Britain also agreed in a communique made public simultaneously in the three capitals last night on:

1. The necessity for a unified, democratic and independent China under the national government now headed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

2. The establishment of a provisional government for long-suffering Korea with prospect of complete independence for that nation in five years.

Broadening the governments of Romania and Bulgaria and plans for concluding peace treaties with them, along with Italy, Hungary and Finland.

Architects of these agreements were Secretary of State Byrnes, Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain, and Foreign Commissar Molotov of Russia. They hammered them out in a conference which—in results—provided a sharp contrast to the London meeting of foreign ministers last September.

Yet many vexing problems remained unsettled—and unmentioned. Among them are the uprising in Soviet-occupied northern Iran; the issue of access to many's western border, and a common Big Three policy on the Franco government of Spain.

Bevin told reporters in Moscow last night the Iranian issue had been discussed at length but without final agreement. He added, however, that the Big Three date for withdrawal of Russian and British troops from the little middle eastern country "still stands." The United States has promised to have its forces out by January 1.

But for all the unsettled points, Byrnes, on route home by plane, undoubtedly considers that the meeting called at his suggestion accomplished much.

Certainly it cleared the air in British-American relations with Russia and heightened chances for a successful first session of the United Nations assembly in London next month.

Byrnes told newsmen before leaving Moscow that the conference had been "very constructive" in accomplishments and in restoring "cordial relations."

Whether Americans generally and congress in particular would accept the verdict remained to be seen. Announcement of the 4000-word communique last night found most senators and representatives away from Washington on a recess which lasts until January 14.

Those in the capital were wary about commenting immediately.

Right Rep. Bloom (D-NY), chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, called the agreements "a step in the right direction." Apparently with the long Big Three deadlock in mind, Bloom said "The most important thing is to get together and agree to work together."

In disposing, for the present, of the touchy atomic energy question, Russia agreed to join this country and Britain in sponsoring a resolution in the United Nations assembly which would establish a control commission, responsible to the powerful 11-member security council.

The atomic commission would consist of representatives from the 11 nations holding council seats (the U. S., Russia, Britain, France and China hold permanent ones) and Canada, which shares atomic energy secrets. It would work toward the exact goals outlined November 15 by these include international control of atomic energy to insure its use for peaceful purposes only; elimination of atomic and other weapons adaptable to mass destruction, and safeguards against violations and evasions of the control regulations.

For control of Japan, the Big Three foreign ministers agreed to establish a four-power (U. S., Russia, Britain, China) council in Tokyo and an 11-nation Far Eastern policy-making commission in Washington, to replace the present 10-member advisory commission.

One U. S. official concerned with the Far Eastern policy-making machinery said that as a practical matter, the present advisory commission probably would become the new policy-making body, with the addition of Russia which previously refused to participate.

The commission now is en route to Japan for an inspection trip. It is possible, this official said, that a Russian representative might join the body in Tokyo and return with it to Washington about February 15.

Other commission members are the U. S., Britain, France, China, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, The Netherlands, India and The Philippines.

Crumbs And Suet Will Keep Birds Here Through Winter

Bread crumbs, suet and small scraps scattered about will keep birds here this winter with their cheery songs.

Most of the birds make their living from small insects, seeds they scratch for and spider eggs. Their food is hard to find when the ground is covered with snow and ice and they die of starvation if extra food is not supplied.

Some of the birds which come to the homes along Lakeshore drive to be fed are juncos, stellar jays and California jays. Both mountain and California valley quail also come down out of the hills along the lake.

Some families along the lake put out food the night before, using pigeon feed, suet and crumbs. They are rewarded by juncos coming early in the morning to feed. These are little birds with "caps" on their heads. A little later in the morning jays, the deep blue stellar jays and the light blue Californians, come to feed.

About 4 p. m. the quail come down in coveys out of the hills.

Five-Day Troopship Quarantine Ends

A smallpox quarantine on the troopship Grundy was lifted to give some 2000 GI's a Christmas ashore in Portland, Ore. The ship's Christmas tree glitters on hatch top as men shoulder bags to leave. (AP wirephoto).

Hunt Pressed For 2 Pilots

SEATTLE, Dec. 28 (AP)—Search was being pressed today for two marine pilots who disappeared yesterday when a group of four fighter planes of the navy ferry command attempted a flight to Portland, Ore.

One of the craft reached Portland, another came down at Beaverton, Ore. A third pilot reported the weather was "very soupy" and he was going to jump. The 13th naval district said reports were received that a pilot was seen to parachute from his ship near Mt. St. Helens, east of Longview, and that a plane had crashed near Cougar, Wash.

Whether Americans generally and congress in particular would accept the verdict remained to be seen. Announcement of the 4000-word communique last night found most senators and representatives away from Washington on a recess which lasts until January 14.

Those in the capital were wary about commenting immediately.

Right Rep. Bloom (D-NY), chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, called the agreements "a step in the right direction." Apparently with the long Big Three deadlock in mind, Bloom said "The most important thing is to get together and agree to work together."

In disposing, for the present, of the touchy atomic energy question, Russia agreed to join this country and Britain in sponsoring a resolution in the United Nations assembly which would establish a control commission, responsible to the powerful 11-member security council.

The atomic commission would consist of representatives from the 11 nations holding council seats (the U. S., Russia, Britain, France and China hold permanent ones) and Canada, which shares atomic energy secrets. It would work toward the exact goals outlined November 15 by these include international control of atomic energy to insure its use for peaceful purposes only; elimination of atomic and other weapons adaptable to mass destruction, and safeguards against violations and evasions of the control regulations.

For control of Japan, the Big Three foreign ministers agreed to establish a four-power (U. S., Russia, Britain, China) council in Tokyo and an 11-nation Far Eastern policy-making commission in Washington, to replace the present 10-member advisory commission.

One U. S. official concerned with the Far Eastern policy-making machinery said that as a practical matter, the present advisory commission probably would become the new policy-making body, with the addition of Russia which previously refused to participate.

The commission now is en route to Japan for an inspection trip. It is possible, this official said, that a Russian representative might join the body in Tokyo and return with it to Washington about February 15.

Other commission members are the U. S., Britain, France, China, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, The Netherlands, India and The Philippines.

Whether Americans generally and congress in particular would accept the verdict remained to be seen. Announcement of the 4000-word communique last night found most senators and representatives away from Washington on a recess which lasts until January 14.

Those in the capital were wary about commenting immediately.

Right Rep. Bloom (D-NY), chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, called the agreements "a step in the right direction." Apparently with the long Big Three deadlock in mind, Bloom said "The most important thing is to get together and agree to work together."

In disposing, for the present, of the touchy atomic energy question, Russia agreed to join this country and Britain in sponsoring a resolution in the United Nations assembly which would establish a control commission, responsible to the powerful 11-member security council.

The atomic commission would consist of representatives from the 11 nations holding council seats (the U. S., Russia, Britain, France and China hold permanent ones) and Canada, which shares atomic energy secrets. It would work toward the exact goals outlined November 15 by these include international control of atomic energy to insure its use for peaceful purposes only; elimination of atomic and other weapons adaptable to mass destruction, and safeguards against violations and evasions of the control regulations.

For control of Japan, the Big Three foreign ministers agreed to establish a four-power (U. S., Russia, Britain, China) council in Tokyo and an 11-nation Far Eastern policy-making commission in Washington, to replace the present 10-member advisory commission.

One U. S. official concerned with the Far Eastern policy-making machinery said that as a practical matter, the present advisory commission probably would become the new policy-making body, with the addition of Russia which previously refused to participate.

The commission now is en route to Japan for an inspection trip. It is possible, this official said, that a Russian representative might join the body in Tokyo and return with it to Washington about February 15.

Other commission members are the U. S., Britain, France, China, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, The Netherlands, India and The Philippines.

Whether Americans generally and congress in particular would accept the verdict remained to be seen. Announcement of the 4000-word communique last night found most senators and representatives away from Washington on a recess which lasts until January 14.

Those in the capital were wary about commenting immediately.

Right Rep. Bloom (D-NY), chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, called the agreements "a step in the right direction." Apparently with the long Big Three deadlock in mind, Bloom said "The most important thing is to get together and agree to work together."

Stymied Sailors Protest Against Travel Blockade

PORTLAND, Dec. 28 (AP)—Two groups of sailors tired of waiting for cross-country transportation home, many of them stymied here 10 days, gave voice to their impatience.

About 300 Texans, who docked on the U. S. S. Osage December 18, warned they might "secede from the union" unless they get home by New Year's.

Threat of a "Boston tea party here in the Willamette" came from 400 New Englanders due for separation in Boston.

A spokesman for the Texans asserted 50 gobs who arrived here December 21 already had been sent to Camp Wallace, Tex. "We expected to get home by Christmas, and we didn't mean next Christmas," he said.

Comdr. Glenn F. Degreve, in charge of Swan Island barracks, said railroads sometimes had capacity for smaller groups but not for the big ones. Some men who arrive first therefore leave later, he reported.

"The men are no more anxious to get home than we are to get them home," he declared. "We could cut the first draft into smaller groups, but this would require extra time and paper work. We would be delaying movement of 1500 men to get 400 or 500 home sooner . . . We could move every man on the island in 12 hours—if we had the trains."

Whether Americans generally and congress in particular would accept the verdict remained to be seen. Announcement of the 4000-word communique last night found most senators and representatives away from Washington on a recess which lasts until January 14.

Those in the capital were wary about commenting immediately.

Right Rep. Bloom (D-NY), chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, called the agreements "a step in the right direction." Apparently with the long Big Three deadlock in mind, Bloom said "The most important thing is to get together and agree to work together."

In disposing, for the present, of the touchy atomic energy question, Russia agreed to join this country and Britain in sponsoring a resolution in the United Nations assembly which would establish a control commission, responsible to the powerful 11-member security council.

The atomic commission would consist of representatives from the 11 nations holding council seats (the U. S., Russia, Britain, France and China hold permanent ones) and Canada, which shares atomic energy secrets. It would work toward the exact goals outlined November 15 by these include international control of atomic energy to insure its use for peaceful purposes only; elimination of atomic and other weapons adaptable to mass destruction, and safeguards against violations and evasions of the control regulations.

For control of Japan, the Big Three foreign ministers agreed to establish a four-power (U. S., Russia, Britain, China) council in Tokyo and an 11-nation Far Eastern policy-making commission in Washington, to replace the present 10-member advisory commission.

One U. S. official concerned with the Far Eastern policy-making machinery said that as a practical matter, the present advisory commission probably would become the new policy-making body, with the addition of Russia which previously refused to participate.

The commission now is en route to Japan for an inspection trip. It is possible, this official said, that a Russian representative might join the body in Tokyo and return with it to Washington about February 15.

Other commission members are the U. S., Britain, France, China, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, The Netherlands, India and The Philippines.

Whether Americans generally and congress in particular would accept the verdict remained to be seen. Announcement of the 4000-word communique last night found most senators and representatives away from Washington on a recess which lasts until January 14.

Those in the capital were wary about commenting immediately.

Right Rep. Bloom (D-NY), chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, called the agreements "a step in the right direction." Apparently with the long Big Three deadlock in mind, Bloom said "The most important thing is to get together and agree to work together."

In disposing, for the present, of the touchy atomic energy question, Russia agreed to join this country and Britain in sponsoring a resolution in the United Nations assembly which would establish a control commission, responsible to the powerful 11-member security council.

The atomic commission would consist of representatives from the 11 nations holding council seats (the U. S., Russia, Britain, France and China hold permanent ones) and Canada, which shares atomic energy secrets. It would work toward the exact goals outlined November 15 by these include international control of atomic energy to insure its use for peaceful purposes only; elimination of atomic and other weapons adaptable to mass destruction, and safeguards against violations and evasions of the control regulations.

For control of Japan, the Big Three foreign ministers agreed to establish a four-power (U. S., Russia, Britain, China) council in Tokyo and an 11-nation Far Eastern policy-making commission in Washington, to replace the present 10-member advisory commission.

One U. S. official concerned with the Far Eastern policy-making machinery said that as a practical matter, the present advisory commission probably would become the new policy-making body, with the addition of Russia which previously refused to participate.

The commission now is en route to Japan for an inspection trip. It is possible, this official said, that a Russian representative might join the body in Tokyo and return with it to Washington about February 15.

No Immediate Relief Seen For Tire Lack

PORTLAND, Dec. 28 (AP)—Tire dealers predicted today their stocks would be lowest in industry history with the end of rationing January 1.

Car owners who flock to buy new tires will therefore be out of luck, they said, advising drivers to get re-treads and take good care of present tires.

Some relief in the situation is expected by summer, dealers said.

Yank Soldier Fatally Shot

ROME, Dec. 28 (AP)—An 18-year-old American soldier was fatally shot by an unknown assailant on Christmas Eve while checking communications wires near Gorizia, in the disputed Venezia Giulia region, dispatches from Gorizia reported today.

Identity of the soldier slain was not revealed, pending notification of next of kin.

Honshu is the largest of the Japanese islands.

Friday, Dec. 28, 1945

HERALD AND NEWS—518

Eagles Will Hold New Year's Frolic

The Fraternal Order of Eagles, serie No. 2090, will hold its annual New Year's Eve frolic and dance Monday, December 31 in the FOE hall, 9th and Walnut.

Members and their wives or lady guests are invited. Admission will be by paid lodge receipts. Dancing will begin at 8 p. m.

Special New Year's Eve Party

A SPECIAL New Year's Eve party will be held at DANCELAND on December 31st, with plenty of hats and horns and noisemakers all thrown in for the sum of 1 buck per person, tax included. Pappy Gordon's Hillbilly gang will do the music.

The regular Saturday night dance will be held as usual on December 22.

Best Wishes From Balsiger's

ALL the sixty-five employees of Balsiger Motor Company join in wishing everyone a belated "Merry Christmas" and extend their very best wishes for the New Year. Elmer and his gang have always taken a good big ad to do this job for them but we had to shut them off this year.

Boots . . . Boots . . .

DREW'S MAINSTORE wants us to tell you that they still have a lot of Jefferson logger boots, plain or caulked soles, from $9.58 to $17.45 and in heights up to 12 inches. If you've ever worn Jeffersons you know that they are OK, and if you haven't, now is the time to get a pair while stocks are complete. Drew's also has a pretty complete stock of other men's wear, so if you're shy on any apparel, check with them.

Model Receives Boy Scout Shoes

NEW arrival at the Model Shoe Store is a shipment of official Boy Scout shoes for boys . . . $5.50 . . . and a shipment of French, Shiner and Urner shoes priced from $10.50 to $14.50. The store is at 717 Main street.

Armory The Place New Year's Eve

PLENTY of noisemakers, hats and novelties are on hand in the Klamath armory to welcome the year 1946 next Monday night, reports Baldy Evans, genial leader of Baldy's band. The 12 cats and two canaries will swing as in a command performance before a king, and a whale of a crowd is anticipated. Admission for this special dance is $1 per person.

West-Hitchcock Corp.

WITH the date for moving into their new building not yet set, Phil Hitchcock's only comment on a little free advertising was "Just pass on our best regards to Klamath basin people for their patronage during the past year and extend our best wishes for the coming year." The West-Hitchcock building will be ready for occupancy early in 1946.

Furnace Men Are Hot Again

BOB PORTER, of Ball and Porter, 801 Spring St., wants to pass along the word that they have a new bunch of oil floor furnaces in stock, ready for installation right after the first of the year, terms to suit (he didn't say who they suited). He also adds that 100 gallons of oil, at $8.75 or thereabouts, has all the heating value of a cord of wood at a considerably higher figure and besides the wood is in your back yard; so take your best shot.

More Hotpoint

JUST talked to "Whitey" Goodwin of Falls Appliance at 11th and Main, and he said to get in another plug for those HOTPOINT appliances. He has the complete line on display so drop in and take a look . . . maybe he'll even give you one of those plans of the "Kitchen of Tomorrow."

... about the ads that we can't print this week

To Publish The Herald and News the remaining days of the month, on the very small amount of newspaper left in our quota, it is necessary to cut each day's paper down to four and six-page size. Many important advertisements were cancelled and rejected in order to accomplish this. The Herald and News advertising staff is attempting here to review most of the ads that we can't publish for our regular customers in the intended form. We hope that readers may learn the highlights of events and announcements that would have been told completely in the ads.

Patterson Furniture Co.

A VERY attractive selection of walnut finish chests of drawers has been received by the Patterson Furniture, 230 Main St. The low price for these quality built chests is $37.50. They also are featuring this week a nice assortment of student's unpainted desks for the value packed prices of $15.95 and $18.95.

Completing his first year of business along merchandise lane, Patterson expressed appreciation to Klamath basin people for their reception of his store.

Clearance Sale Now On At Sears

SEARS' mammoth clearance sale is now on. Visit every department in the store for timely buys at money-saving clearance prices. Here are a few of the many money-saving bargains offered for your selection:

Men's $8.59 virgin wool plaid jacket now $5.95; $8.95 men's all wool plaid shirt now $5.95; $5.49 men's wool Melton jacket $3.98; $7.95 men's slat jacket $5.95; $2.98 men's cloth hats now 98 cents; $1.19 boys' corduroy hats now 49 cents; 89-cent children's tee shirts now 49 cents; 15-cent print pattern pot holders now 5 cents; 15-cent colored dish cloths now 5 cents; 19-cent colored dish towels now 10 cents; $7.45 smart handbags now $4.99; $1.95 leatherette handbags now 99 cents.

New merchandise is also being received every day at Sears.

A New Engine For The New Year!

GEORGE DIMBAT and all the boys at Dimbat Motors, 239 Main, want to wish you all a very happy New Year! They have a complete stock of new engines for Chryslers, Dodges, Plymouths, all Chrysler products, in fact, and George says "start the New Year with a new engine." Ready to install right now, too.

Rogers Jewelers

If you are looking for a fine quality blue-white diamond, it would be smart business to drop into the Rogers Jewelry and have them show you their very smart selection. Greater brilliance, pure blue-white color, and the car with which they are proportioned cut and polished, make these exceptionally fine stones.

You might invest your Christmas bonus check in a diamond, and at Rogers usual low prices, you have made a second business investment.

Montgomery Ward

A DIVISION of Montgomery Ward that very seldom is mentioned in advertising columns but nevertheless is an integral part of the Ward organization is the Appliance service department on the top floor. Servicing an area that extends as far east as Alturas and north as far as Chemul, "Preservative" C. L. Johnson and Stan Walden have been kept more than busy giving Ward service to the more than 9000 refrigerator customers.

Johnson stated that, as it will probably be several months before new major appliances are in general circulation that it would be wise to have your radio, refrigerator, washer or iron checked to insure added service.

The service department has adequate equipment to handle your most intricate appliance needs and it is smart business to keep those appliances in excellent working condition.

Columbian Optical Co.

WITH the coming of the new year, most have a feeling something new should be offered in business and in the professions, Columbian Optical Co., 730 Main St., Klamath Falls, will be prepared to offer their patients the most modern technique in eye examination.

The most attractive in design of glasses, using the very finest materials to assure satisfaction.

LaPointe's To Close Monday

THIS is just another reminder that LAPOINTE'S will be closed Monday, December 31st in order to give the employees a three-day holiday for New Year's.

Specials At Mallory's

HERE are three specials from Mallory's big "Y" Market at the Merrill-Lakeview junction: pork roast for 25c a pound, beef roast and hamburger for 19c a pound. These are good Saturday, Sunday and Monday, so stop in as you drive out that way.

Firestone From Firestone

FIRESTONE STORES sold just about everything they had in the way of toys and appliances this Christmas, but they'll be back in shape soon with a full stock, and all kinds of electric irons, ranges, and washing machines and so on and so forth as soon as these items are available to the dealers. To all their customers, the Firestone staff wishes a very happy holiday season.

Plenty Of Poultry—"Pop" Says

THE Christmas season considerably lowered the delicatessen stock at Truloves Chicken Center, but they still have plenty of poultry on hand for your holiday tables. "Pop" Englund and the rest of them wish their customers the best in the coming year, and remind them that they'll soon have a complete stock of all the fine cheeses, specialties, etc., that they have always advertised every Friday.

LaPointe's To Close Monday

THIS is just another reminder that LAPOINTE'S will be closed Monday, December 31st in order to give the employees a three-day holiday for New Year's.

Greetings From Renie Jewelers

AFTER finishing a busy pre-Christmas business, the Renie Jewelers only advertisement this week will be the firm's most cordial New Year's greetings to Klamath people. J. C. Renie is completing his first year of local business at 1019 Main.

Craig's Inc.

FOR the lady wishing to look her best at her New Year's Eve party, Craig's have just received a very attractive selection of formal hats that will please even the most discriminating shopper. Drop into Craig's and look over this choice selection so that you will be assured of looking your best.

Dramatic reductions on ladies' dresses and coats have been taken to insure their clearance before inventory. It will be wise purchasing to shop Craig's first.

Goodyear Service Stores

WHEN the motorist is in trouble he needs assistance in a hurry and the Goodyear Service stores have facilities for handling just such an emergency. They have a service car available for city calls and will give instant service between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

The next time you want a battery or tire changed call 8141.

Harvey Pavlat, operator of the Goodyear store, extends his most cordial greetings to Klamath folk and thanks them for their patronage during the past year.

Currin's Offers New Skin Balm

ONE of the ads Currin's for Drugs intended to run this week carries an offer of the new Cherry Skin Balm, a big double-size 16-ounce bottle for only $1.

This remarkable "heavy cream" balm has a quick-action, soothing effect that lasts. Its emollient oils supplement the natural skin oils, keep hands and body skin soft and smooth. Non-sticky . . . Double value, for a limited time only, at Currin's For Drugs.

Weather chart calendars, first aid calendars, and Franklin livestock calendars may be obtained at Currin's for the asking.

J. C. Penney

PREPARATORY to beginning their year-end inventory, Penney's have regrouped and repriced their stocks of women's coats and dresses. Included in this assortment are fur fabrics, Chesterfields, fitted suedes, and some gabardine and tweeds. For money-saving values shop today.

Fyock-Moon, Inc.

FYOCK-MOON, in the Fluhrer Bldg., wish their customers a very hearty best wishes for the New Year. They are the new General Electric Appliance dealers in town. They also carry a fine line of paints, "Preservative" and have a complete stock on hand. Moon says he wishes he had all the GE stuff he could sell, but expects it soon after the first.

Specials At Mallory's

HERE are three specials from Mallory's big "Y" Market at the Merrill-Lakeview junction: pork roast for 25c a pound, beef roast and hamburger for 19c a pound. These are good Saturday, Sunday and Monday, so stop in as you drive out that way.

Firestone From Firestone

FIRESTONE STORES sold just about everything they had in the way of toys and appliances this Christmas, but they'll be back in shape soon with a full stock, and all kinds of electric irons, ranges, and washing machines and so on and so forth as soon as these items are available to the dealers. To all their customers, the Firestone staff wishes a very happy holiday season.

Plenty Of Poultry—"Pop" Says