

Pels Trounce Lava Bears By 39-22 Count

Running a badly outclassed Lava Bear quintet almost into the floor the Pelicans took the first tilt of a two-game basketball series from Bend 39-22 in the KUHS gym last night. The visitors trailed from the start and never threatened the Klamath lead.

Coach Dutch French, with talent galore at his disposal, alternated full teams every few minutes, while the starting Bend five played until the middle of the final quarter without a substitution.

The victory was the fifth in a row for the Pels and puts the Klamath season record at eight wins and a single loss.

K-Men Will Play Again Tonight

A return match between the Pelicans and Bend's Lava Bears will be played on the high school hardwood tonight, beginning about 8:15.

Before the varsity scrap The Wildcats will meet the Malin Mustangs in a prelim slated to start at 7 o'clock.

Fee's Cop YMCA Cage Tourney

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 5 (AP)—Fee's Rollerdomme squeezed past the Walla Walla Air Base team, 34-32, in an overtime game to cop the annual YMCA invitational cage tourney crown last night.

After a 30-30 tie at the end of regular playing time, Taft's field goal and two free throws gave the Skaters the edge. The Airmen had only a couple of gift tosses.

The Fliers led 13-7 at the first quarter, 19-14 at the half and 23-17 at the three-quarter mark. In four games preceding the finals, Walla Walla had stacked up 310 points to only 256 for Fee's against 130 and 161, respectively, for opponents.

The Airmen were compensated somewhat when Ertel was named the outstanding tourney player and Bourland took scoring honors.

San Francisco—Jackie Wilson, 147, Cleveland, declassified Jackie Ryan, 152½, San Francisco (10).

Lipscomb, Pete and Angelo Make Formidable Mat Trio

The battle royal opening the new year's initial rassle rodeo Tuesday night marks the return of one of the most thoroughly hated musclemen on the circuit—Brutal Jack Lipscomb—to the local mat, along with such popular guys as Pete Belcastro, Angelo Martinelli, Gust Johnson and Herbie Parks and an old-timer who hasn't appeared here for several months, Earl Malone.

Lipscomb is probably even more unfriendly than the secretive Grey Mask or the brawling Rufus Jones, and it goes without saying that any man who whips Jack immediately becomes a popular favorite.

Pete Belcastro is just the opposite. Win, lose or draw Old Pete is still a favorite. He started local sports circles recently by announcing that he is starting on the Weed, Calif., town basketball team, and that immediately led to the conclusion that Weed's team is probably composed of four cage players and Pete.

Short, dark and handsome Angelo Martinelli makes the third of a very formidable trio in the gang fight and two of them will probably be able to stick around long enough to muscle in the finale, unless some ganging up is done to erase Lipscomb and Belcastro early.

The first pair tossed fight three rounds for curtain-raiser pay or, in the vernacular, peanuts. Next couple dumped come into the middle income bracket by going three frames for semifinals dough and the remaining duo fall into real wealth with three rounds at main event fees.

So it behooves the grapplers to stay in the royal as long as possible and also behooves each individual to do a little cooperating in order to gain himself a favorable pairing.

Reif Falls Before Beau Jack

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (AP)—The old pre-war nose-mashing days, any time Beau Jack threw a punch it was 3 to 5—and no place price—that it would land (a) high up among the ring lights, (b) in the small of his opponent's back or (c) someplace on the referee's person.

All this is changed now. The 1946 model Bouncing Beau was unveiled for some 14,871 customers in Madison Square Garden last night, and while the free wheeling and hard driving lines were still the same as he flattened Morris Reif in four rounds of a Pier Six brawl, his old scattershot style was streamlined. Jack weighed 143½, Reif 148½.

He still throws punches by the dozen, as the assorted bruises and bumps on Reif will no doubt testify. But the one-time world lightweight champion of New York and other way stations, no longer pitches them in that wild and woolly fashion.

Now he's content to set himself for a shot at a vital portion of his rival's anatomy, like the chin or the stomach, unless something just as good shows up. And every pitch is designed to make the birdies sing for the other guy. As a result, in three full rounds and two minutes, one second of the fourth last night, he missed only one "Sunday punch" right hand.

What's more, the job that knocked the roof in was a right-hand tummy-cher that folded Reif up as if he was Phil Baker's accordion. For some three or four seconds Morris was doubled up that way, Beau didn't do a thing, a puzzled frown on his face as he tried to figure this one out. Then he decided that a right hand kind of liver-upper might do as well as anything else, and with it he dropped Morris for the second time during the fight. Only this time, Morris was still resting there at "ten."

Actually, the competition wasn't too tough for Jack in his second start since leaving the army. (In his first he outpointed Willie Joyce), Reif tried to cut loose, but he was outgunned, just like an air rifle against a battery of long toms.

For the second time, too, since leaving the army, Jack drew a house of more than $70,000. This one was $73,280, which not only paid Uncle Mike Jacobs' expenses for coming up from his Florida nook to witness it, but also made his brand new five-year contract with Madison Square Garden look like fresh meat on the table.

This new agreement—succeeding the one that runs until next June—gives Mike the Garden fight promotions until midsummer of 1951.

Sam Snead Starting Hot On Los Angeles Links

Last Year's Winner Fires 68 Opener, Followed By Demaret And Jim Ferrier

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5 (AP)—Slammin' Sammy Snead, is a mighty tough customer on the Riviera course.

The long-driving Virginian, winner of last year's Los Angeles Open golf tourney, over this same course, served sizzling notice he's the man to beat again by posting a 34-34—68 in yesterday's first round of the 1946 tournament. Sammy was belting 'em a mile down the middle throughout the 7000-yard course.

But pressing Snead as the nation's leading golfer was into the second 18 of the 72-hole tournament were Jimmy Demaret, Houston, Tex., and Jim Ferrier, Chicago, each with 69; and Vic Ghezzi, Deal, N. J., with 70.

Demaret and Ghezzi, like Snead, are after their second Los Angeles Open title. Demaret won in 1939, Ghezzi in 1935.

Bunched at 71—even par—were Byron Nelson, Toledo, O., still very much in the running for one of the few golf prizes he hasn't won; Herman Barron, White Plains, N. Y.; Ed Furgol, Detroit; Harry Bassler, Los Angeles; and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Little Rock, Ark.

The rolling, tortuous layout proved tough for some of the early favorites and former national champions. Benny Hogan, the Hershey, Pa., mighty atom, and Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Sanford, Me., took 73; Craig Wood, New York, 74; Lawson Little, 73; Denny Shute, Akron, O., 78; Bob Hamilton, Chicago, 80; Ralph Guldahl, Chicago, and MacDonald Smith, Glendale, Calif., 78.

Charles Stohand of Ponca City, Okla., led the amateurs with 72. The Brazilian amateur champion, Mario Gonzales of Sao Paulo, posted a 74.

The only woman entered, Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias, was far back with an 81.

Trap Shoot Slated By Gun Club

Trap shooting is due for a post-war rebirth tomorrow morning when members of the Klamath Gun club start sharpening their aim at the Wocus trap shooting grounds.

The firing is slated to start at 11 o'clock. All the club's old members and many new shooters are invited to turn out and take a stand.

Plenty of ammunition and blue rocks for all shooters is promised.

Last month C. A. Dunn, C. J. Martin, Prentiss Puckett, Edwin Driscoll and Tom Watters were elected to the Gun club board of directors and the board in turn elected Dunn president, Driscoll vice president and Martin secretary.

Tulane Mentor Quits Greenie Coaching Job

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 5 (AP)—Claude "Little Monk" Simons relinquished his post as football coach at Tulane university today to become director of athletics.

The school's director of public relations, Horace Renegar, said that a new football coach will be named soon.

Simons is a former Tulane athletic hero, and is the son of the late "Big Monk" Simons, long the school's athletic trainer.

The Greenies won only two games and tied one last season, while losing five.

Butter Supply To Be Leaner

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Civilian butter supplies will be 30,000,000 pounds leaner in the January-March period than during the last quarter of 1945.

The agriculture department has allotted civilians 360,000,000 pounds for the new period, but the tentative allotment for the April-June quarter is 470,000,000 pounds.

Twice-Born Men

Of old, these ten men were of such as made rich out of a cigarette sniped from the gutter—of such as swamped out the corner saloon for a drink—of such as failed wives, kiddies and God, their Maker—and failed themselves. Down and outers, they were. Now you see them rise, one by one, at the Breakfast Club of the Union Gospel Mission, this Sunday morning, there in Portland's North End—the Skidway, land of homeless men. They rise to tell of the New Birth into the family of God, of sin blotted out by the blood of Christ and of victory over old ways.

Whether you are an up and outer in secret sin or a down and outer, it still stands that Christ came to seek and to save that which was lost. God the lover of your soul wants you for Himself. Count your sin and guilt blotted out by the blood of Christ and on that ground take forgiveness. And receive Christ into your heart. Look utterly to Him to become your new life. He breaks the power of cancelled sin. He sets the sinner free.
