

War Veterans Arrive Home To Face Housing Shortage In Klamath Falls

Veterans of both theaters of war are arriving home daily to face the problem of house hunting. The housing shortage in Klamath Falls is still critical with sometimes 40 inquiries made in a single day at the chamber of commerce. An average of between 350 and 400 calls are received there a month from both civilians and veterans.

A few single rooms in private homes are listed and some small cabins but no place for the veteran with a family or the civilian family given notice to move when the house they are occupying is sold.

The American Legion, hearing that some units of the FPHA trailer dwellings were vacant, appointed a committee of three men to investigate why they are not available to veterans. Patrick W. Kilby, Hal H. Ogle and Leon Lombard, appointed on the committee, were told by Austin Hayden, project engineer, that the 20 trailer houses not rented now are vacant due to needing repairs.

Trailers Vacant

Hayden told the committee that these trailers have been vacant only for the past six weeks. In September he received notice from the NHA regional office in Seattle not to re-rent trailers when they became vacant. This request was rescinded in October when it was apparent that all available housing would still be needed.

All livable trailers were rented to railroad and lumber workers and veterans but the remaining unoccupied units can not be used during bad weather until they have been repaired. Cracks and leaks make them hazardous to health, Hayden advised.

Twelve trailers were reported by Hayden to the regional maintenance engineer in Seattle as in need of repairs in August with an estimate of $22,000 by a local contractor. Nothing was done about conditioning these units and since then eight additional ones have fallen into disrepair.

Temporary Dwellings

The trailers are only temporary dwellings to be used until better facilities are available, and occupants have first choice of vacancies in the government housing units. If the 20 vacancies were made livable some relief might be seen in the housing problem and a portion of the load lifted from the town proper.

A request for releasing navy homajia huts for the use of ex-service personnel is reported pending in the U. S. navy office in Seattle now and if this request should be granted the problem would be considerably lightened, it was observed.

Man Faces Bad Check Charge

A man named William Daniel Richards, alias William Daniel Murphy and Bill Murphy, is held in the county jail on a drunk charge today and also faces a bad check complaint.

Richards was arrested on the street at Merrill last Sunday night by state police and pleaded not guilty in justice court yesterday to being drunk in a public place.

He was found guilty and sentenced to five days in the county jail, with credit for the two days he had already been locked up. Monday a complaint against him was filed with the district attorney's office charging Richards with obtaining money under false pretenses.

He had allegedly given Darrell C. King and L. H. Holden, owners of the Merrill Billiards, a $50 check, signing his name as Bill Murphy. The check, drawn on a Merrill bank, was no good. It was passed last Saturday.

So yesterday Richards waived a preliminary hearing on that count in justice court and was returned to jail with bail set at $500.

NEED A NEEDLE?

For the reader desiring the address of a needlecraft magazine, Mrs. L. K. L., Minnesota, writes: "I'm sure the needlework lover would like Aunt Ellen's WORKBASKET. This monthly pattern and direction service brings the latest creations in handcraft and needlework from the country's foremost artists and designers. It is $1.00 a year for twelve issues, but no samples are sent because each issue contains large hot iron transfer patterns as well as ideas for such items as dollies, edgings, bedspreads, tablecloths, hats, bags, and baby's things. Orders should be sent to the WORKBASKET, 2221 Westport Station, Kansas City 2, Mo." If you are not delightfully pleased with the first issue, Aunt Ellen will return your dollar and you may keep the material you have received without any obligation.

City Police Impound Cars

Four of six cars hauled to the city hall yesterday for improper parking were brought in from the vicinity of the armory last night and the owners had to come to the police station and pay $2.50 tow charges to redeem their machines.

Also 13 parking tickets were paid this morning. Klamath avenue between 4th and 5th has been posted for one-hour parking now and traffic officers have instructions to ticket cars overstaying the limit.

John Kissling, 515 Mt. Whitney, was arrested on a warrant issued yesterday for running a red light and posted $5 bail for an appearance in court today. Johnny Pastega of Klamath Falls also posted $5 for a like offense.

142 Men Lost On Carolyn

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The navy revealed today that 142 officers and men were lost when the 3200-ton SS Carolyn disappeared without a trace 300 miles east of Norfolk in March, 1942.

The vessel was on its shake-down cruise as a "Q" ship. It had seven officers and 135 enlisted men in its crew.

"Q" ships are camouflaged merchant vessels which appear to be easy prey to submarine attack but actually carry heavy armament.

In its announcement today the navy said the Carolyn had been converted to such war duty and renamed the USS Atik.

Conduit Maze Evident As Station KFLW Progresses

"Pictured on this page is the maze of electrical conduits terminating at the master control position in control room 'A' at KFLW, the new Herald and News radio station now being rushed to completion in the north wing of the Herald-News building. These conduits will soon contain control wiring and cables necessary to operate the many circuits involved in a modern broadcasting installation, after which the walls will receive the latest type acoustic treatment and the above 'behind the scenes' view will never again be available.

The KFLW design will feature a dual control room-studio arrangement to facilitate complete auditioning and rehearsals of all locally originated programs to insure highest fidelity, true-to-life radio reproduction. Transmitting apparatus which will excite KFLW's modern all-steel antenna on the Balsiger building includes selected units assembled by RCA, Western Electric, General Radio, Collins, and the Gates Radio company. Provisions have been made in KFLW's building facilities for F-M service to the Klamath country in the near future, as well as ultimate facsimile and television transmission. The installation includes a suite of 18 air conditioned rooms on the main and mezzanine floors, with accommodations for the engineering, announcing, programming, advertising, and book-keeping departments, as well as business offices. The plans were drawn by Bud Chandler, technical director of KRNR-KFLW, and the equipment installation will be supervised by G. E. Walters, KFLW chief engineer.

China Truce Efforts Fail

By SPENCER MOOSA
CHUNGKING, Jan. 9 (AP)—Efforts to achieve a truce in China's civil strife failed again today and the communist representative charged that a hitch developed because of government demands for exception of Jehol and Chahar provinces from the armistice terms.

"The communists find these demands unacceptable and cannot tolerate them as prerequisites for a cease fire order," said Gen. Chou En-lai, communist representative at the truce talks with a government member and General Marshall.

The parity was adjourned until late tomorrow. Its failure to achieve prompt agreement blasted hopes of a truce being effected before tomorrow's opening of the political unity conference.

Three Missing Skiers Saved

RED BLUFF, Calif., Jan. 9 (AP)—A girl and two boy skiers were back safely in their homes today, none the worse for having been lost in sub-zero temperatures and thirty-foot snows of Lassen Volcanic national park.

The three, June MacDonald, 20; her brother, Rex, 14, of Project City, and a friend, Donald Hammon, 19, were found in a snow bound cabin where they had taken refuge and were brought to safety yesterday by veterans of the park's service.

They set off on a skiing expedition Sunday morning and had been unable to find the return trail because of a storm. Rescue parties were dispatched to search for them.

The party was found by Wesley J. Brokenshire, district forest ranger, and Himmling Erickson, expert skier, who had been leading the search since the storm broke Sunday.

Extension Unit News

Altamont

Members of the Altamont extension unit will hold their first meeting of the year on Tuesday, January 15, at 10 a. m., at the home of Mrs. W. S. Metler, 2927 Blabie. The subject, "Conserve You," will be led by Mrs. Winnifred K. Gillen, county home demonstration agent.

The Bonanza home demonstrations unit met Tuesday with 14 members present. Mrs. Winnifred K. Gillen demonstrated quick methods for ironing men's shirts in the first of a series of subjects in the "Conserve You" project.

Mrs. Everitt Sparks, hostess to the group in her home, followed through with the demonstration using a shirt of her husband's.

An added feature of the meeting was a contest of speed in potato peeling. Mrs. Fletcher Ralph, using a patented peeler, finished first.
