

Ike Asks For Cooperation To Keep Peace And Save World From Chaos

By HARRY T. MONTGOMERY
OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, under whom the western allies combined their might to defeat Germany, appealed today for the same kind of unselfish international cooperation to maintain the peace and save the world from chaos.

Such cooperation, necessary to assure the success of the United Nations organization, can be achieved only if every nation realizes that its "very survival" may be at stake, Eisenhower declared in a luncheon address broadcast to Canada and the United States.

"Nations that joined together to defeat ruthless enemies have even greater reason to remain united for the peaceful settlement of their differences lest new Hitler rise to throw the world into a chaos more awful than the shattered countries of Europe present today," he said. "That is what we squarely face."

"It is up to the ordinary citizen, 'however humble,' to take part in this task, Eisenhower said.

Outlaw War
"Governments may wisely deal with the problems which rise in our concerted search for peace," he continued, "but in the end it will be the citizens of all countries who must outlaw war."

"Until the peoples of the world understand and respect the interests of their neighbors, the victory will elude us. Until the peoples of the world embrace the democratic belief that the dignity of the individual is the basis of the success of nations, the world will not find an enduring peace."

With hostilities over, the allies in their "even greater" task of banishing war "forever from the world" may learn from their battlefield cooperation, the former supreme commander said.

"I hate war as only a soldier who has lived it can," he said, "only as one who has seen its brutality, its futility, its stupidity. Yet there is one thing to say on the credit side—victory required a mighty manifestation of the most ennobling of the virtues of man—faith, courage, fortitude, sacrifice."

"If we can only hold that example before our eyes; moreover, if we can remember that the international cooperation then so generously displayed points the sure way to the success of the United Nations organization, then the war can never be regarded as a total defeat."

Praised Canadians
Eisenhower, on a four-day visit to Canada, warmly praised the Canadians who fought under him, singling out for special commendation the role they played in the clearing of the Scheldt estuary to open up the Port of Antwerp in the closing days of the war.

"The greatest accomplishment," and the "greatest climax" of the many Canadian missions, Eisenhower declared.

The historic Canadian assault on Dieppe early in the war, in which there were 3350 casualties among the 5000 participants, taught allied leaders important lessons which were put to good use later in the war, he said.

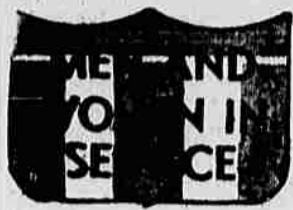

"Let no one tell you that the Dieppe affair was devoid of valuable results," he said. "I know of no other single incident that did so much to confirm convictions that the coastal fortifications in France could be successfully breached on a large scale."

War Trophy Firearms Must Be Registered

"The drive to register certain types of war trophy firearms is continuing," A. T. Fletcher, investigator for the office of the alcohol tax unit, bureau of internal revenue, explained today.

Heavy penalties for failure to register will be exacted, he said. Not all types of firearms brought or sent home need to be registered but owners of such trophies should consult local officials to be sure they are in the clear.

Fletcher will be in room 207 of the Klamath Falls post office building for this purpose.

2 Men On Way To State Pen

Albert Johnson and James Almond are on their way to the state prison at Salem today to serve sentences received in circuit court here for passing bad checks.

Sheriff Lloyd L. Low is taking the men to Salem. Johnson was given a three-year jolt this morning, and Almond was sentenced to serve two years earlier this week.

Johnson pleaded guilty to passing a $70 check at Herman's Men's store last August. He is an old offender in cases of this sort and was termed a "jail-house lawyer" by the sheriff yesterday.

The prisoner at first pleaded not guilty after he was indicted and indicated that he was going to act as his own attorney. He waived the court's appointment of a lawyer.

While waiting for his case to come up in court he asked Sheriff Low for a copy of the Oregon law code pertaining to forgeries. Finding that wasn't what he wanted he returned it and asked for the law book bearing on passing checks with insufficient funds to cover them.

After studying the law he decided to plead guilty.
