Date Named For Doernbecher Tea

Plans are being whipped into shape by the two chairmen of the annual Doernbecher hospital benefit bridge tea which is sponsored by the Klamath Falls Woman's Library club. The date is Saturday afternoon, February 16, in the ballroom of the Willard hotel. Chairman of the tea is Mrs. George H. Adler and bridge chairman is Mrs. Walter Brown. Both women will announce their committees later. All funds derived from the benefit bridge tea go to the Doernbecher hospital for children in Portland. If there is any worthwhile project which Klamath women sponsor, this one is high on the list. Each year, despite the fact that Library club has paid off its obligation which it pledged a number of years ago, the benefit is given for all women in the city and the check is always a generous one which finds its way north to the children's hospital.

One of the reasons Klamath women have always been so interested in this project is because the state Doernbecher chairman is one of our own residents, Mrs. Rollo C. Groesbeck, who has always had primary interest in the work done at the hospital.

Save this date, Saturday, February 16.

MARY LOUISE LANDRY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul O. Landry of this city, will wed William Louis Wasmann in late summer. Both are now at the University of Oregon.

MR. AND MRS. WESLEY LORENZ, wed December 19 in Portland, have returned to the University of Oregon after a holiday visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Lorenz of High street. —D. Perry Evans, Portland.

FAMILY REUNION for Major and Mrs. Stanley Staiger and their young son Stanley, who greeted his father for the first time this week on his arrival from Shanghai. Major and Mrs. Staiger left Friday morning for Washington, D. C., the young fellow remaining here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Woodruff. —Guderian.

Post-Holiday Affairs Slated

The post-holiday lull has set in but there is plenty to keep folks busy with a number of large affairs scheduled for the remainder of the month and into February.

Tuesday night is the second concert of the Klamath Community Concert association at the Pelican. The program appears in this section and it sounds very interesting. Admission by membership only.

The date of the annual Doernbecher benefit tea has also been slated. It is February 16, on a Saturday at the Willard. This is the big party of the year for the Library club.

Dean Leighton of the school of physical education, University of Oregon, and Jennie Moorhead of the university's medical school, Portland, are coming to Klamath Falls arriving in the afternoon of January 21. While here they are anticipating a visit to the Marine Barracks, and in between, Dean Leighton will lecture Monday and Tuesday nights of that week. Mrs. Moorhead, who is also president of the Oregon State Federation of Women's clubs, will spend several days here.

New Year's greetings from Neita West who will make her home in Oakland now where Mr. West is established in business. Mrs. West will be greatly missed in Klamath Falls where she was active for many years. She served as president of Library club and took part in the affairs of St. Paul's church here. Tommy West is now seaman first class, U. S. Navy, and is leave yeoman at the Alameda naval air base.

Another New Year's greeting from Grace and Mahr Reymers who say they are busy getting settled in their new home at 560 Morey drive, Menlo Park, California. As soon as the weather settles they plan a trip to Klamath Falls.

Word from Mrs. Charles F. Scharfenstein who is now living in Long Beach, California. The former residents enjoyed the Tournament of Roses and the beautiful parade and were kind enough to send us a copy of the paper which fully illustrated the gorgeous floats. Mrs. Ted Shoop, who returned from southern California where she spent the holidays with Capt. Shoop, was equally as enthusiastic over the thousands of flowers which went into the making of the parade. And here we shiver!

Pledged at the University of Oregon this past week to Chi Omega sorority was Joan B. Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Campbell of Pacific Terrace. This is Joan's first year at Eugene. She was a member of our staff last year and prior to that was at Mills college.

We thought this an interesting story as told by Major Stan Staiger recently returned from Shanghai. In a remote part of China his outfit came upon a tiny mission where a lone priest and his ragged little charges were housed. The children were without warm clothing and the priest begged the officer to send garments to him if he possibly could do so. Later the men arranged for pounds and pounds of warm clothes and started back by plane to deliver the bundles. En route they were forced to throw their cargo overboard when engine trouble developed and they felt right sad because they could not fulfill the earnest priest's pleas for his shivering brood. When Major Staiger was en route home he picked up an issue of Catholic Digest and read an amazing story. The priest

Farewell Party

Mrs. Lloyd Froom, who left this weekend with Mr. Froom to make their home in Portland, was honored Thursday evening when Mrs. Melvin McCollum entertained her bridge club and guests at her home on Crescent avenue.

Mrs. Froom, the former Margaret West and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. West, pioneers of this area, was presented with handkerchiefs from the guests. Mr. Froom has recently returned from lengthy service with the United States army in Africa and Europe.

Members of the club present were Mrs. Lane Warren, Mrs. Roy Whitlatch, Mrs. Richard Post, Mrs. John Sandmeyer, Mrs. Froom, and guests, Mrs. George Filtrcraft and Mrs. Neal Stewart.

Sleighting Party

Taking advantage of the winter snow, a group of the high school set, equipped with sleds and toboggans, took to the hills above Lake Ewauna for a mid-winter sleighting party at 7 o'clock Thursday evening.

The group gathered at the home of its hostess, Dolores Helfrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Devere Helfrich, 110 N. Georgia, before going outside where they cooked supper over an open fire.

Present for the evening were Nancy Humble, Sally Runnels, Mary Havens, Erlene Wheeler, Janie Mason, Darie Helfrich, Bill Jones, Bob Hall, Jim Myers, Bill Gandy, Dale Price, Buff Runnels, Deane Hagen, Dick Foust and the hostess, Dolores.

Entertain

A group of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Milne of Portland, formerly of Klamath Falls, gathered at a party given by Mr. and Mrs. John Sandmeyer at their home on Earle street, Saturday, January 5.

Invited for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ellis of Malin, Mrs. Stewart Patly, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Milne, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Lane Warren, and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Milne.

The Milnes left Sunday, January 6, for their home in Portland after a week's visit with friends and relatives here.

AAUW Meet

Klamath chapter, AAUW, will meet for luncheon at 1 o'clock Saturday, January 19, in the blue room of the Willard hotel and the speaker for the day is Chaplain Graham Gilmer of the Marine Barracks.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. O. K. Puckett, vice president, will preside.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Walker of Whittier, California, are here this week visiting their sons, Steve and Robert, and a third son, Winston Walker, who has just returned from duty in Japan. The Walkers had a family reunion shortly after their arrival. They have been guests of Mrs. Walker's sisters and brother, Mrs. Andrew Collier, Mrs. Ernest Heiken and Lloyd Porter. Winston Walker's wife and child have been living in Ashland while he served overseas.

Library Club To Hear Program

The first meeting of the year for the Klamath Falls Woman's Library club will be held Monday, January 14, at the usual hour of 2 o'clock in the main auditorium of the city library.

Speaker of the afternoon will be Wallace S. Baldinger, associate professor of the University of Oregon, who will have as his topic, "A Home To Live In." Mrs. E. A. Geary of the program committee will present Mr. Baldinger.

The university professor has an unusually fine background and his program should be one of the highlights of the club year.

Mr. Baldinger received both his AB and AM degrees from Oberlin college and his Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago. For two summers he studied history of art at the Sorbonne, University of Paris, and this is his field at the University of Oregon. Lantern slides will illustrate Mr. Baldinger's talk.

Mrs. Don Zumwalt will present Mrs. Joseph C. O'Neill in a group of violin solos and Mrs. John Best will accompany Mrs. O'Neill who has been generous in contributing to musical programs for the club. The solos will be "Gondoliers" by Franz

Clothing Drive

A plea for good, warm clothing, clean and ready for wear, has been sent out by the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church which will collect the garments Monday and Tuesday, January 21 and 22. The church basement will be open both of these days from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m.

All donations will be shipped to the United Service Center at Modesto, Calif., from whence it will go directly overseas to areas where the people are badly in need of warm clothing.

All clothing, wool or cotton, shoes, bedding and towels, will be gladly accepted. If you have any shoes, be sure they are of the low heel variety, and that they are sent in polished and with new strings. Those donating are kindly asked to send or bring in only clothing which is serviceable, clean and in good condition.

This drive is not connected with any other clothing drive but is sponsored by all Protestant churches which make up the United Service. The churches are making a great effort to get clothing to Europe this winter.

All members of the Presbyterian church and their friends are urged to contribute. Chairman of the drive is Mrs. Andrew Collier and she is assisted by Mrs. David F. Barnett, Mrs. H. T. Landrum and Mrs. Thomas Sandoe.

Skiing Party

Three busloads of servicemen, their wives, and junior hostesses will go to Fort Klamath Sunday for the USO's third skiing party this winter.

Most of the skiers are novices but the interest has grown so much since the first party three weeks ago that another bus was needed to furnish transportation for the group. All skiing equipment and two buses will be furnished by the Marine Barracks, and the third bus, by the naval air station.

The skiers will cook their dinner over an open fire, and upon their return in the evening a spaghetti dinner will be served at the USO through the courtesy of the Lions club.

Gaiety Club

Mrs. Elmer Hosking was hostess at her home, 2012 Main, for members of Gaiety club. Coffee was served later in the evening following monopoly. Honors went to Mrs. Charles Fairall, high, second to Mrs. W. J. Kessler.

Others present were Mrs. G. C. Lorenz, Mrs. E. M. Igl, Mrs. Mike Lavenik, Mrs. David R. Vandenberg, Mrs. R. C. Dale and Mrs. Hosking.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Ellingson and daughter Dorothea, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Ellingson Jr. left by motor Friday morning for a lengthy stay in the south.

It was announced that the Victory collection of canned foods for European relief is continuing and anyone wishing to make a contribution of food or money is asked to contact Mrs. Emil Albrecht, chairman. Hostesses for Monday afternoon will be Mrs. Leo N. Huls and Mrs. J. Calvin Hunt.

Corvallis Scene Of Ceremony

A wedding of interest to Klamath Falls folks took place at 4:30 o'clock New Year's Day when Robert L. Erlandson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Erlandson of 310 North Ninth street, took as his bride Patricia Ann McVey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. McVey of Albany, formerly of this city.

Vows were exchanged before an improvised altar in the living room of the Kappa Kappa Gamma chapter house in Corvallis. Chaplain Myron Willard, cousin of the bride, came from his post in Long Beach, Calif., to officiate at the ceremony which was read by candlelight.

Winter Tea

Mrs. Charles Hovey, who returned to her home in Vancouver, Washington, on Friday of this week, was honored at an informal winter tea presided over by Mrs. Laurence Shaw at her home on Painter street Monday afternoon.

Mrs. A. Bristow Hood poured at the tea table which was centered with flowers. Assisting was Mrs. John Shaw. Greeting Mrs. Hovey were Mrs. John D. Merryman, Mrs. Theodore R. Durment, Mrs. Jacques J. Steiger, Mrs. Howard Barnhisel, Mrs. Charles V. Rugh, Mrs. Haary Bechen, Mrs. Dick Reeder, Mrs. Frank Drew, Mrs. Greer Drew, Mrs. Richard Maxwell, Mrs. William Hagelstein, Mrs. Hood, Mrs. John Shaw and Mrs. Neal Stewart.

Wednesday Club

The parish house of St. Paul's Episcopal church was beautifully decorated with a winter scene when members of Wednesday club were entertained at cards on Wednesday evening of this week.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. G. Fisher, Mrs. L. E. Juniper, Mrs. William Patterson, Mrs. T. E. McIntee and Mrs. Carl Williams.

In bridge high score was held by Mrs. C. M. Locomo, second to Mrs. Alfred Hennefer, and in pinocle Mrs. E. J. Howell took honors.

The next meeting of the club will be held January 23, in the parish house. Guests Wednesday evening included Mrs. E. P. Brosterhouse, Mrs. L. W. Miles, Mrs. D. F. Hagg and Mrs. Hennefer.

Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Lorenz are entertaining this evening at dinner at their home, 537 High street, for a group of friends. Games will follow dinner.

Guests will include Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Backes, Mr. and Mrs. Henri Conradi, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Miller, Mrs. Bernice Britt and Mrs. Martha McCollum.

Dr. and Mrs. Ray W. Oldenburg and Dr. and Mrs. J. Hardin Carter drove to San Francisco the middle of the week to spend a short time. Also planning to go south this weekend are Mr. and Mrs. William Hagelstein.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D. C. Thomas have returned to Klamath Falls and at the present are at the Riverview apartments. They recently were at Watertown, South Dakota, where Mr. Thomas was on duty with the United States army.

Shower

Mrs. Robert P. Ellingson Jr. entertained Tuesday evening of this week at her home on Del Moro street for Mrs. Don West. Gifts were presented following an evening of bridge. Honoring Mrs. West were Mrs. Byron Teed, Mrs. Kenneth G. Klahn, Mrs. Cecil Wibby, Mrs. Roy Whitlatch, Mrs. Lloyd Froom, Mrs. Robert Ross and Dorothy O'Sullivan.
