Army Officers Get Chance To Select Branch

Officers interested in a regular army career should submit applications without delay, it was announced today at ninth service command headquarters, Fort Douglas, U.

A bill recently signed by the president authorizes an increase in the commissioned strength of the army to 25,000, providing an opportunity for nearly 10,000 additional men who have served as temporary commissioned officers in World War II.

The legislation provides that qualified officers will be selected for service with the branch of their choice. In grades of second lieutenant to major, inclusive. The grade will be determined by the amount of constructive or actual commissioned service, whichever is greater.

Constructive service credit will be given for the number of years by which the applicant's age exceeds 25 years. Commissioned service will include all active duty commissioned service since December 7, 1941, after the officer reached the age of 21. Service credit for officers now in reserve status will be computed as though they had remained on active duty until the time of appointment.

Applications must be submitted to reach the adjutant general's office, Washington, D. C., by March 1. Applicants on active duty will submit applications through their commanders, and those not on active duty, including those on terminal leave, will submit applications direct to the adjutant general. The proper form and information relative to submission of applications may be obtained at military installations and U. S. army recruiting stations. A new application is required regardless of prior submission of a declaration of interest.

Manage Studio—Jay Stott, recently returned from the ETO, who has been assisting in the Bell studio here, left Wednesday night for Eugene where he will manage the Bell studio there.

Discharged—Leonard R. Howell, storekeeper second class, Klamath Falls, is among the local men honorably discharged from the navy at Bremerton, Wash.

On Vacation—Ann Dirks, member of the local USO staff, will leave Sunday for a two-week vacation in southern California.
