

FRANK JENKINS MALCOLM EPLEY
A consolidation of the Evening Herald and the Klamath News...

Today's Roundup

THE decision on further marine corps use of the Klamath Falls Marine Barracks has been reached.

EPLEY

This means that so far as the marine corps is concerned, the fine installation on the hill is on its way out.

It is known here that marine corps headquarters has been reluctant to give up the nationally known Klamath installation.

So that's that. Unless there is a reversal of decision, the marines will have no further use for the post beyond the coming spring.

Huge Investment

The close-by observer, it would seem a rank absurdity if this remarkable physical set-up is not put to worthy use either as a straight military installation or for some mission similar to that which it has so admirably performed for the marine corps and the navy bureau of medicine and surgery.

The government has invested millions of dollars in this installation, and even now finishing touches are being put on the latest contract. It has a most complete layout of utilities, medical equipment, and many other features.

At a time when preparations are being made to spend huge sums for medical and semi-medical establishments for veterans, with a veterans hospital scheduled for Klamath Falls, the Marine Barracks requires consideration as a possible establishment for veteran purposes.

So long as there was a possibility the marine corps might have indefinite use for the installation, not a great deal was said about the veterans' angle.

We are well aware that there are many phases of veterans administration program and problems that do not meet the eye of the ordinary observer, and there may be important objections to use of the Barracks for this purpose that are not apparent to people here.

But local public confidence in the government and its agencies will be badly shaken if there is not a determined effort made to capitalize on the investments already made at the Marine Barracks and upon the successful experiences two branches of the service have already had there in the fields of both medicine and training.

It's Different

WE have remarked here on a number of occasions, upon the inadvisability of this community, or any other with wartime-built installations, counting too heavily upon them for the future.

But people familiar with the Marine Barracks, including civilians, public officials, and military officials, have told us on many occasions that this particular installation does not fit the ordinary patterns.

We should know, in the next year, whether it is going to realize them.

Interesting Reading Found Under Wallpaper Of House By Klamath Falls Druggist

By LOIS STEWART
It took Walter Waggoner, Klamath Falls druggist, longer than most to have a wall torn out in a house at 918 Grant.

The yellowed old sheets carried many familiar names. From the brief collection of notes...

W. S. Worden and wife returned from a Southern States evening accompanied by his mother, Mrs. C. E. Worden, and his sister, Miss Mae.

Ms. C. E. Worden and daughter, Miss Mae, left for Salem Sunday where the latter will receive instructions in music during the ensuing year.

I. D. Applegate and family moved from Swan lake last Saturday into the Hunsaker house at the east end.

Robert Baldwin returned to Ashland Saturday accompanied by his daughter, Miss Cora, and niece, Miss Mary Roberts, the latter on her way to Salem to attend school.

B. F. Tiffany and J. G. Pierce went to Buck lake Friday and returned the following day. Inasmuch as they took a twelve-bore shotgun and ten-gauge shells, the ducks were preserved harmless in that neck of the woods.

George Biehn returned from Ashland Monday. C. T. Silvers and wife of Crystal Creek were in Medford last week laying in their winter's supply.

H. E. Momyer and Frank Hazen of Gale were in town Thursday. Another section of the wall-paper revealed advantages of Klamath county in a two-column box which advised that there were good prospects for a rail road and the "iron horse should be in the county soon to increase realty value"; population, 2318; voters, 783; horses, 3704; mules, Stable ads were prevalent and Robert Hunsaker, proprietor of the Mammoth Stables guaranteed satisfaction in conveying passengers to the railroad or to any part of southern Oregon, or northern California.

Waldo Meets Sad Demise At Zoo
PORTLAND, Jan. 18 (AP)—A cage profuse in mossy-hued great horned owls, but minus the startling white plumage of Waldo—a snowy owl, confronted Portland zoo-goers today.

Waldo and the horned owls had been sharing quarters in apparent peace. Director Arthur M. Greenhall reported, Yesterday he stopped at the owl house to spot the others spitting out white feathers and gnawing on bits of bone. Two feet, lying down on the floor, were all that could be identified as Waldo.

Greenhall's explanation: the perch-sitters resented Waldo's habit of parking on the floor. He'd grown up in the Aleutians where there are no trees.

The World Today

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
AP World Traveler

MADRID, Jan. 18—Spain's high cost of living—like that of other countries—puts the wage earner rather in the position of the small boy who can't reach up to the jam on the pantry shelf.

The average pay of the laboring man is from a dollar to $1.95 a day. Even skilled labor as a whole gets the latter figure, and as much as $1.75 is exceptional.

It doesn't take an expert accountant to figure out that it calls for a stiff income to enable one to pay $2 and $2.20 per dozen for eggs, from $1.25 to $1.40 a pound for meats, 60 cents a pound for rice (which is one of the chief foods of Spain) and about 50 cents a pound for flour with which to make the staff of life. One of the greatest hardships lies in the cost of olive oil, which is a prime necessity.

Olive Oil High
The Spaniards use olive oil for about everything except bathing. It not only goes into many dishes, but much of the food is cooked in it. The average family uses over 20 quarts of olive oil per month, and the cost runs anywhere from $1.40 to more than $2 per quart.

Being confronted with these staggering figures, Mrs. Mack and I have been sleuthing about among people of small means to discover how they manage to get along. And get along they do, for while there is undernourishment (and always has been) and hardship among some sections of the poorest classes, yet foreign observers who live here say that hunger is not one of the trials of the workers as a whole.

How do poor folk manage? Well, to begin with, every member of the family who is able to earn money goes out to work—papa, mama and all the youngsters who are big enough. No, the children don't attend school if they're needed as bread winners. They find small jobs, or in some cases beg—and artful youngsters they are, too.

As for food, the mainstay of the poor man is bread and soup.

These days the soup is likely to run pretty thin, but when the right ingredients can be found, it's really a grand dish. If it's properly made it calls for plenty of little chick peas, which are largely imported from Mexico and are scarce in Spain now.

The chick peas are boiled with potatoes and perhaps other vegetables along with a piece of meat or at least some fat. When this dish is done it is served as two courses, and the eyes of the worker shine with appreciation as he told me about it.
