

Interests Of Court At Heart

Stating that he "didn't want to cause the court any expense," Tony Shoulderblade, Cheyenne Indian charged with larceny by bailie, this morning refused Judge David R. Vandenberg's offer of appointment of an attorney in circuit court.

The Indian cowboy told the court he had no money with which to pay for the services of a lawyer. The judge told him not to worry about the court and that he could have a lawyer if he wanted one.

Shoulderblade still refused and next Monday was set as the date for entering a plea. He failed to return a saddle borrowed from Delbert Crane, according to the district attorney's information against him.

It is— "THE LOST WEEKEND"

One of the most talked-about books, Charles Jackson's "The Lost Weekend," will probably be one of the most talked-about motion pictures, if advance notices are any indication. For those who have seen Paramount's picturization of the best-seller, co-starring Ray Milland and Jane Wyman, and due soon at the Pelican theatre, declare it to be one of the most unusual and daring films ever made.

Ray Milland plays Don Birnam, the story's bedeviled hero, and Jane Wyman is seen as Helen, his sweetheart. For both Milland and Miss Wyman their roles in "The Lost Weekend" represent a debut in the dramatic field of acting, as each has heretofore specialized in romantic comedy and other light mediums.

Others in the Charles Brackett-Billy Wilder film are Philip Terry, Howard da Silva, Doris Dowling, Frank Faylen.

The story concerns the shocking experiences of a sensitive, intelligent man during his five days' abandonment to an insatiable hunger for liquor. The devotion of his sweetheart, the patient understanding of his brother, cannot keep him from going off the deep end into an abyss never yet interpreted on the screen. It is not until he sinks to the depths of degradation that he finds himself. By then, according to reports, you will have lived through a picture experience so exciting, you will never forget it.

Two Men Elected Soil Supervisors

Ray Davis and Lloyd Gift were elected supervisors of the Langell Valley soil conservation district at the annual meeting of the district held last night at the Lorella community hall. Davis was re-elected and Gift is a new member.

Reports read at the meeting showed the district to be in sound financial condition. Land leveling, drainage and irrigation ditch construction, and topographic surveys in general exceeded progress of the previous year. A potluck dinner preceded the business session.

Details of the reports will be given in a story on next Thursday's farm page.

10 RED REPATS COMMIT SUICIDE

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 19 (AP)—Ten Russians committed suicide and 21 others injured themselves at Dachau today in protests against attempts to repatriate them to Russia, U. S. headquarters announced.

Headquarters said that "some, at least," of the 271 Russian nationals being repatriated from Dachau had served in the German armed forces.

Most of the Russian nationals were loaded aboard a train for Russia yesterday afternoon, headquarters said, but one group objected strenuously.

by a filibuster conducted by men—many of whom were elected by a small majority of the adult voters of their states because the right to vote was denied a majority of the adults because of the poll tax.

"Imagine what would happen if the country saw 49 men—a majority of the senate—with guts enough to hold continuous sessions 24 hours a day. That fight would produce all the votes needed for cloture, with the spotlight of American public opinion focused on the senate 24 hours a day.

"We could put cots in the cloakrooms so members could be on hand at any time to respond to a roll call."

The hotly disputed measure was called up unexpectedly Thursday, and the anti-FEPC group, by a legislative stratagem, began yesterday to correct the official journal of Thursday's senate proceedings. The bill itself hardly came in for mention.

Ben Ames Williams' Magnificent Best-Seller Magnificently on the Screen!

Hailed as the first psychological drama ever to be filmed in Technicolor, starring Gene Tierney in her most important role to date, Cornel Wilde in his first modern romantic part, and Jeanne Crain in her first adult screen assignment, "Leave Her to Heaven," 20th Century-Fox's film version of the dramatic Ben Ames Williams best-seller, opens soon at the Esquire and Tower theatres.

Selecting the stars to bring screen life to the complex characters that people the book presented Producer Bacher with one of the most challenging problems Hollywood has ever known.

Gene Tierney plays the subtly psychopathic young wife, Ellen Berent, who will stop at nothing—even murder, to be loved as completely as she loves. Young, beautiful and lovable—yet a psychopathic demon, passionately warm and murderously cold by turns, the role of Ellen has no precedent on the American screen.

Cornel Wilde, who became a star overnight in "A Song To Remember," is seen as the man who inspires Ellen's passionate and jealous. "Leave Her to Heaven" marks a homecoming for Wilde.

Jeanne Crain, who had a sensational rise to stardom since her movie debut in pigtails two years ago in "Home In Indiana," is seen in her first adult role in "Leave Her to Heaven." In addition to her newly won stardom, she is now given the opportunity of winning dramatic maturity in the difficult role of Ruth Berent. Ellen's younger sister who falls in love with her brother-in-law.
