Pelicans Take 50-32 Victory From Vikings

By HALE SCARBROUGH *

Avenging an early-season defeat the Klamath Pelicans romped over Salem's Vikings at KUHS last night to win 50 to 32 and going away. The Pels were out in front by seven points before Salem tallied once and the visitors never came within hailing distance of the lead again.

Jim Palmer topped the shooters with 15 points and Leroy Coleman got 10 for Klamath. Roger Dosch hit nine and Gene Mason seven as leading contributors to the Vikings. Ball-handling on both sides was shoddy and rarely did 10 consecutive seconds pass without a chirp from a referee's whistle, slowing the game almost to a walk.

Dick Mase, Salem reserve forward, sprained an ankle dodging around a row of chairs pulled almost to the foul line alongside the court and had to be carried off the floor; Jerry Thorne split a finger when he plowed into the wall in the fourth quarter; Bob Redkey and Carlos Houck were banished from the game for a bit of scrapping for possession of the ball that appeared to be unintentional on the part of both boys.

Starting off the Pels went seven points ahead while the Vikings aimed for the basket and missed several times. The first quarter score was 9-5 for Klamath. The K-men climbed steadily all through the second period, aided by a foul and technical foul for uncomplimentary remarks on the floor which gave the Pels three points and the ball, and the half ended 24-16.

Right at the start of the third period the attitude got the Salem boys and they used their fifth time out. Palmer, Hover and Thorne added eight points while the Vikings were getting four, making the quarter count 34-20.

After pushing the score a bit further skyward Coach Dutch French sent his second team in to deal with the fagged Vikings in the last period. In about four minutes of play Joe Zarozinski made six points, the only Klamath reserve to score.

Lineups and scoring:
Klamath Pos. Vikings
Palmer (15) F Bellinger
Hover (8) F (1) Fitzmaurice
Thorne (5) C (7) Mason
Coleman (10) G (1) Chamberlain
Craig (5) G (9) Dasch
Substitutions: Klamath—Crawford, Zarozinski (6), Linman, McLean, Redkey and Edwards. Salem—Mase, Province (6), Alberts, Houck (2), H. Bellinger (2) and Hendrie (4). Officials—Joe LaClair and Harold Douglas.

Klamath, Salem Play Again Tonight

Klamath's Pelicans play the last of the two-tilt series with the visiting Salem Vikings tonight on the high school maple. Last night the Pels whipped Salem 50-32, putting the season's record at 13 wins in 15 starts.

The game tonight is scheduled to begin at 8:15, and a preliminary between the Wildcats and Henley takes the floor at 7 o'clock.

Bakers Take 57-29 Victory From Merchants

Chiloquin's AB Bakery took a fast game over the Tulelake Merchants in a Basin league game played at Tulelake Thursday night, 57-29. Huff was high scorer with 21 points and Urbach hit 11 for the Merchants.

That win makes four straight in the league for the Bakers, against no defeats. Huff has rung up 77 points in league play and Hi Hatfield has scored 58.

Lineups and scoring:
Bakers Pos. Merchants
Hall (21) F (11) J. Urbach
Huff (21) F (5) Burnbaugh
Hatfield (16) C (10) L. Urbach
Miller (9) G (3) Anderson
Bickers (4) G (3) Street

Rejuvenated Idaho at the same time was chalking up its third straight triumph at Moscow, outshooting the speedlined Washington Huskies for a 50 to 45 decision.

Marines Tounce Astoria

Klamath's Marines, visiting up north, swamped the Astoria, Ore., Navy Flyers 87-24 at Astoria last night. It was the Leathernecks' second win in three games with the navy boys this season.

Art Verment hung up 18 points for the Marines, eight field goals and a pair of foul shots, while Doc Zautcke was next with 14, a combination of five goals and four charity passes.

All the way through the Leatherneck ball handling and fast break were excellent and the Flyers never had a chance. Halftime count was 22-12 for the Marines.

The two service teams meet again at Astoria tonight.

Wisconsin Vetoes Husky Grid Offer

SEATTLE, Jan. 19 (AP)—With Wisconsin being the latest to turn down the University of Washington's offer for a home-field football game opener, the Huskies are still without an opponent for their first game of September 28.

Al Ulbricks said yesterday he had received word from the Badgers they would be unable to accept the invitation because of previous commitments. Minnesota had previously turned down an offer for the same reason.

But Ulbricks still holds hopes for an intersectional battle for the season's opener.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

NEW YORK—Rocky Graziano, 155½, New York, outpointed Sonny Horne, 156½, Valley Stream, N. Y., (10). Clint Miller, 127½, Elizabeth, N. J., outpointed Frankie Leta, 134½, Irvington, N. J., (6).

Pete Belcastro, the Weed Wildman, sails through the ropes and into the aisle back of the radio announcer's ringside section during the second round of his bout with Herbie Parks last Tuesday. The extra pair of arms in the picture belong to Parks. The two parties wondering whether to move or not are Don Dove and John Pennington, KFJI announcers. Both Parks and Belcastro will be back for more action next Tuesday night.

Rocky's Kayo Streak Ends

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—Rocky Graziano's sensational knockout streak is ended today by winning a fight the hard way boxing's current "Golden Boy" showed that he may be ready to give Middleweight Champion Tony Zale plenty of trouble.

Rockabye Rocky's six-fight flattening record came a cropper against Sonny Horne in Madison Square Garden last night, but the slugger from New York's East Side looked impressive as he belted out a ten round decision victory in Madison Square Garden.

Despite the fact that Horne is noted for his punch-taking prowess and had walked off with seven victories in eight fights since his release from the navy, the betting boys had made Graziano a 1 to 3 choice to win and a 5 to 8 favorite to stop the Valley Stream, N. Y., boxer.

A packed house of 18,907 customers who contributed to a $108,974 gross gate—Graziano's third straight "hundred grand" gate—expected Rocky to make good the odds in the first round when he unlimbered his Big Tom right and staggered Horne.

But the former Ohioan weathered the storm and although he took a severe shellacking in a number of other frames and seemed on his way out in the tenth, he was still on his feet at the end. As a matter of fact, Graziano, who feasted mainly on welterweights during his sleep-producing run, wasn't able to floor his blond opponent. And for the first time in a long spell Graziano's w's outweighed—1551 to 1561.

But in gaining the unanimous verdict and a seven-three edge on the Associated Press scorecard, Rockabye Rocky showed that veteran trainer Whitey Blimstein's schooling and conditioning program was showing results. In the old days before he skyrocketed to fame on the power of his dynamite-laden fists, if Rocky didn't get 'em early his rivals gained to decision.

Moyer Chills Saurez In Eight Rounds

PORTLAND, Jan. 19 (AP)—Tommy Moyer, 146½, 1941 national amateur lightweight boxing champion, today held the mythical Oregon state welterweight crown after knocking out Johnny Suarez, 142½, Portland, in the second match of Moyer's professional career.

Suarez was leading up to the sixth round and had scored a four-count knockdown in the first.

Moyer knocked out the little Mexican at 2:42 of the eighth stanza with a wicked short left to the chin. Suarez had just ducked away from a right cross.

Suarez, who previously scored a string of eight local wins, held the advantage through the first rounds with a dangerous left. He sent Moyer to the canvas in the first with a right hook to the jaw, and dropped him again momentarily a few seconds later.

Bobby Richards, 122, San Francisco, won a decision over Snooks Lacey, 126, Portland, in the 10-round semi-final; Duane Hoag, 127, Portland, knocked out Paulie Cook, 126½, Tampa, Fla., in the second of an eight-rounder; and Dick Wagner, 146½, Oregon City, scored a technical knockout over Ralph Garrison, 148, Hooquiam, in the third of a four-round opener.

BOSTON—Denis (Pat) Brady, 130½, Hartford, Conn., outpointed Vannie Vazzo, 131½, Revere, Mass., (10). Dave Andrews, 140, Lowell, Mass., outpointed Fred Polowitz, 138, Hartford, Conn., (8).

Tony Penna Vaults Into Richmond Golfing Lead

RICHMOND, Calif., Jan. 19 (AP)—Smiling Tony Penna, enjoying a three-stroke advantage gained from a sparkling streak of sub-par shooting, led a streamlined field into the third round of the 72-hole Richmond $10,000 Open today.

The little fellow with the smooth swing tossed a six-under-par score at the rest yesterday to vault from a second place tie into first position. His 33-32—65 against par 36-35—71 was only a stroke behind the competitive course record set a year ago by Harold McSpaden of Sanford, Me. McSpaden, incidentally, was far back today among the sixty pros and sixteen amateurs left in the field teeing off.

Penna carded a 69 for his opening round. He had to come through with an unusual performance to grab the lead, as an amateur unknown to major tournament competition until this winter was knocking at the door of fame.

The simon pure was Charles Stolhand from Ponca City, Okla. He landed in second place was teeing off from that bracket today as the result of two previous rounds of 69 and 68—total 137 that showed some of the greatest names of professional golf into the background.

Until he showed up for the Los Angeles Open three weeks ago Stolhand, employed by a gas distillation plant in Ponca City, had never matched shots with the bigwigs of the game. Off his present showing he ranks as one of the outstanding amateur prospects of the country.

Merchants Win From Woolens, Lose To Tule

BONANZA — The Bonanza Merchants defeated Oregon Woolen 23-19 here Thursday night but then lost to the Tulelake Flying A squad 33-12 in a pair of Basin loop cage games.

The first game ended in a five-minute overtime period that saw Wesley Hankins score six points against two by Sollinger of the Woolens to win the game.

McClure and Spidle each had six points for the Woolens and Hankins was high for the Merchants with 13.

The Tulelake bunch proved to be the smoothest quintet to appear on the Bonanza court this season in taking the second game. Schreiber had 11 points and Porterfield eight for the winners and Ross tried to keep the Merchants in the game with eight.

Chevrolets Win From Firemen

Ashley's Chevrolet downed the Merrill Firemen 34 to 29 Thursday night at Merrill in a Basin cage loop meeting. At the half Merrill was ahead 13-12.

Hunnicut was high scorer for the Firemen, getting 11 points, while Lowell led for the Motors with 10. Tuesday night Ashley's play the Bonanza Merchants at 8 o'clock in the Altamont junior high gym.

Bowling

By JOHN FOSTER
It's about time I crawled out of hibernation and gave the men keglers a bit of publicity. From now on, space permitting, this column will be a weekly feature as it was some time back.

In the Booster league Pine Street Market is in first place with 19 wins and eight losses and Weyerhaeuser is second with 16 wins and 11 losses. Down the line are Montgomery Ward, Moose, Balsiger's, Great Northern Goats and the Teamsters.

Last Tuesday four out of eight teams bowling took all three games. Pine Street Market, Balsiger's, Montgomery Ward and Weyerhaeuser all swept series. Geiger hit a sizzling 250 game and topped off the evening with a 654 series.

On Wednesday night the Commercial league kegled with these results: Marines took three from Louie's food store, Watters dropped Hibbs for two, Edwards and Richfield topped Bill Davis' boys a couple and Bonanza stuck Dick Reeder's. Southwell and Pastega each rolled a 215 and Bray hit high series of the evening, 601.

One team, Hibbs', has already been to the state meet in Portland and is back with slim hopes. A couple of good games were rolled but at the time it just didn't look too good.

Lee Danzer was the only member of the team in Portland who had much luck. He placed first one evening with a 588 series that still holds fourth place to date. Two more men's teams, Elks Lodge and the Bill Davis gang, are going up this weekend.
