Klamathites Can Help In Polio Fight

Once again Klamath people have an opportunity to share in the unrelenting battle against infantile paralysis, the dread crippler that annually attacks America's children, by attending the March of Dimes dance at the armory on Saturday evening, January 26, and by filling the little coin boxes that have been placed in stores throughout the city and county.

The Klamath county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is arming now against the possibility of an outbreak in the summer ahead. Necessary funds must be on hand to help the health officials, physicians and hospitals provide the finest available care and treatment for polio patients.

When a polio outbreak occurs, no one knows how much special equipment and appliances, or how many physical therapists and nurses may be needed. The Klamath chapter and the National Foundation are pledged to see that no victim of infantile paralysis shall go without care and treatment for lack of money, regardless of age, race, creed or color.

"This is our opportunity to share in one of the greatest humanitarian services of all time," states Mrs. Dena Backes, county chairman. "Let's all resolve to give generously and make this the greatest March of Dimes ever."

Returns to Klamath—Mrs. Ethel Bremer, who has been in Portland for some time, has returned to Klamath Falls to live. Her husband, Lt. Charles "Red" Bremer, a former Herald and News employe, is in Japan.

Aviation Planning Council To Meet

BOISE, Jan. 21 (AP)—In preparation of today's start of a two-day meeting of the Northwest Aviation Planning council, air travel enthusiasts from the Pacific northwest began landing here yesterday.

Gov. Arnold Williams will address the first meeting of the state house of representatives chamber on the subject "Why the Northwest Originated Aviation Planning Councils."

General Chairman Harry L. Yost said about 400 delegates from Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Alaska, British Columbia and Alberta will be on hand for today's opening session.

Schools Over Top In Drive

Klamath county schools went over the top again, this time in their Victory clothing drive last week, sponsored by Klamath Falls post No. 8 of the American Legion. Nearly 10,000 pounds of usable apparel was picked up from the various schools by members of the Legion, under the direction of Don Everitt, general chairman of the drive. After the articles were weighed in the shoes were sorted out and the rest baled for convenient shipping. Paul Otterbein, post commander, and "chief shoemaker," urges all persons to tie the shoes in pairs before they contribute them.

Contributions from the general public will be accepted until January 31 at any of the following places, and citizens are urged to contribute as much as they can possibly spare. Tie your clothes in a separate bundle from the shoes and drop them at Balmiger Motor company, front entrance; Moe's, J. C. Penney, Sears Roebuck, Lombard Motors, Montgomery Ward and at Trulove's Market or the Eastside Grocery, 919 and 920 East Main.

As soon as individual school contributions are segregated and tallied, $200 in prize money, donated by the Legion, will be distributed to the city and county schools according to the size of their contributions.

CHLORINE GAS CURATIVE
Chlorine gas is often used in the treatment of whooping cough. The cough clears up after three treatments. Cases of asthma, acute and chronic bronchitis, laryngitis, and common colds sometimes also succumb to this treatment.

Our Home Town

Warning To Motorists

By EARL WHITLOCK
I suppose it is natural, in the feeling of freedom that comes with the war's end and the termination of gas rationing, that folks everywhere should be a little more reckless in their driving. I expected it. But I expected, also that, given time for the first burst of joy, people would again settle down to a sane and sensible system of driving technique.

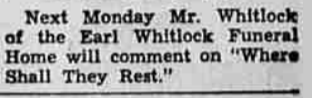

But the recklessness seems to hold. And that is unfortunate for everyone. It isn't only the adolescents who are careless of rules and regulations, disobeying every standard of courtesy. It is grown and supposedly sensible men and women of mature years.

In this profession, you know, we see more than most people do, of the terrible consequences of the present let-down in common sense in motoring. And believe me, when I say that no minute you can save is worth taking a chance for.

Even if you have the right of way, in a driving crisis—yield it. Because the mere fact that you were right will not lessen the tragic effects of an accident.

Next Monday Mr. Whitlock of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home will comment on "Where Shall They Rest."
