

Storms Hit 2 Sections of Country

By The Associated Press
Old man winter laid aside his indifference early Friday, became serious and turned up with blizzards in two sections of the nation.

And the weather man predicts some drops in temperatures for other regions later Saturday and Sunday.

A New England blizzard came during an eight to 20-inch snowfall. Heavy winds from a storm centered off Nantucket caused gusty winds as high as 40 miles in the Boston area.

A cold wave sweeping over the northern plains produced blizzard conditions in the Dakotas and eastern Montana. Temperatures ran from 10 to 20 in North Dakota and were continuing to drop.

The northern plains chill will move south and east. Temperatures in the southern states will rise today and then turn to colder Saturday night and Sunday. The central states will feel the cold wave effects Saturday.

Craft Warnings
Small craft warnings were hoisted from Block Island, R. I., to Wilmington, N. C. Strong winds whistled from Virginia northward, but were shifting away from the coastline.

In the New England states there were such snow recordings as 21 inches at Rufford, Me., where moderate snow still fell during the morning. Hartford, Conn., had an 8-inch fall and Concord, N. H., had 13 inches.

The winds were particularly strong in the Boston and New Haven area. Hartford was whipped with 15-25 mile winds.

The forecast for New England was clearing and colder Sunday or Monday.

The deep south shivered as freezing temperatures extended as far as northwest Florida. In Miami it was 50 which is low for this time of the season.

Sample temperatures about the country early Friday were Boston and Hartford 32; Albany, N. Y., 28; Grand Forks, N. D., 9; Atlanta 30.

John Lewis Reunites With AFL

for $9000 representing the January dues to the federation for 60,000 (CQ) members. Those close to Lewis explained prior to the merger that more than 100,000 miners still were in the armed services and were carried on the roll as members.

The AFL president suggested that possibly other unions which had left the AFL in the great division resulting from formation of the CIO in 1935 might follow the miners back into the federation.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 25 (AP)—Bing Crosby will return to his Thursday night radio program February 7, his brother Larry announced today, and remain on the air for the Kraft company until June.

When Crosby refused to return to the show last fall, on the basis that his contract had expired, the Kraft Foods company brought suit to prevent him from appearing on any other program. The suit was settled out of court but the terms were not announced.

KF Experiences Weather Changes

All the vagaries of Klamath winter weather have been experienced here these past 24 hours.

Shoppers walked the business district at noon Thursday ducking under awnings as a warm rain pelted the town. Shortly after the lunch hour a fine snow started falling, continuing all afternoon until there was enough of the white stuff to haul the sleds and skis out to enjoy winter sports. A strong wind chilled the less hardy early last night and froze the moisture on pavement and trees, presenting an attractive winter scene.

As this morning's mercury rose from 15 degrees, the 24-hour minimum, slush churned in the streets and the gutters ran full. Homeowners were irked with the water which seeped into their basements and yearned for spring as they attempted to dip the cellars dry. The forecast was for clear and cold weather but the kids were eyeing Moore park again this weekend hoping for good coasting weather along the slopes.

Nazi Officer Feared Maid

NUERNBERG, Jan. 25 (AP)—Field Marshal Siegmund Wilhelm List, former commander-in-chief of army group "A" in the Caucasus, was afraid to listen to foreign radio broadcasts, he admitted today.

"It was against the fuhrer's orders and I wouldn't dream of taking the chance, especially since I had a maid whose political convictions were unknown to me," he told allied intelligence officers.

He said Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel fired him after he refused to undertake an "assignment" offensive through the Caucasus passes in order to establish a foothold on the shore of the Black sea.

VOLCANIC SOIL GOOD

Volcanoes, contrary to popular opinion, furnish some of the world's most productive soil. Lava fields are rich in crop producing minerals from deep in the earth, where they had no chance to deteriorate.
