PICTURES on our front page the other day of several construction scenes were random shots, and by no means covered the whole field of construction activity...

EPLEY

Heartening

THE Klamath building is part of a general increase in light construction activity throughout the far west, where the volume in 25 leading cities was 52.1 per cent greater in December, 1945, than in December, 1944.

A lot of people have made the latter choice and their display of courage is one of the heartening things in a rather gloomy picture of national spirit at the moment.

Briefs From The Pocket File

THE loudest boos heard in a long time in the theatres are greeting the blubs for army re-enlistment... The young GI who tells why he is staying in the army must know what Herbert Hoover and Wendell Willkie felt like in presidential campaigns a few years ago...

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 25 — The confounding results of Mr. Truman's submission of his domestic economic program to congress are plainly evident no deeper than the newspaper headlines. His plans to thwart inflation were greeted with an immediate rising of the stock market in expectation of inflation.

Prices Sneak Up

KNOWING souls in congress wink their eye and say prices will sneak up as a result of the Truman measures now on the fire, regardless of OPA or high water. If wages and basic materials in general go up, can prices be far behind?

Strain On Intelligence

A price increase is not the only strain upon average intelligence. Mr. Truman wants congress to pass immediately the CIO full employment bill, pledging the government to great expenditures, and is already increasing practically every appropriation for peace activities of the government, even planning a big wing on the White House, and proposing increases of salaries of congress—at a time when we are threatened with inflation.

Getting Higher Wage

THE president wants congress to increase the minimum wage (for unskilled labor largely) but this labor is already generally getting a higher wage than the proposed figure. Yet, by whatever degree it increases minimum wages in some industries it will serve the cause of inflation.

OPA Suit Asks Treble Damages

PORTLAND, Jan. 25 (P) — A suit asking $34,497 in treble damages has been filed by the OPA against the Guy Roberts Lumber company, Toledo.

ACTOR FINED

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 25 (P) — Actor Lee Tracy paid a $35 fine yesterday for drunkenness after an altercation with an auto-graph hunter over a broken pen.
