

Sprague River Sends 'Dimes'

Numerous communities in the county have aided greatly in this year's March of Dimes campaign. Sprague River has sent in approximately $180, including proceeds from two social affairs, a school contest and various donations.

Mrs. Blanche Montgomery served as Sprague River chairman and was in charge of arrangements for a card party from which $30 was derived, and a dance that netted $28.

A donation of $10.80 was received from the town's basketball team, and a donation of $15.60 from the local union. The fifth and sixth grade school at the school won the school contest by raising $32.26.

This sum is added to Klamath's quota, half of which is retained for use in this county and the other half sent to the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

Mired Plane Pulled Out Of Spud Field

A long cable and a winch were used in snaking a mired airplane out of Jerry Short's potato field north of town, and today preparations were made to move the plane to the Klamath airfield for repair.

When the army ship developed trouble, Ed Mercy, civilian pilot, brought it down in the flooded field. It broke through ice and lodged in the mud.

After the plane was pulled out of the field today, wings were removed to facilitate trucking it to the naval air station.

Simpson Relation To KUHS Post In Talk Stage Only

Al Simpson, Medford football coach, has not formally applied for the Klamath coaching position, but has discussed the matter with local school officials.

Simpson filled in at Medford during the service absence of Bill Bowerman, who will return to the job next year.

While a Herald and News story on the coaching opening here did not state that Simpson had formally applied for the Klamath job, items appearing in downstate papers gave that interpretation, and both Simpson and school officials clarified the situation today.

Superintendent Arnold Grapp of Klamath schools said that the position here had been discussed with Simpson and the Medford man had been told he would be notified if the opening developed, as has now occurred.

Simpson said he had been approached by Klamath interests with respect to the job but had not filed an application.

Compromise On USES Eyed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—President Truman's congressional leaders disclosed their willingness today to compromise the fight over returning the United States employment service to state control.

They told reporters after a meeting of the democratic steering committee of the House on Wednesday that they would support a bill to return the agency to state control only until the end of 1946 if they can't hold up the return until June 30, 1947, as requested by Mr. Truman.

Republicans are rallying behind a proposal to restore the agency to the states next June 30. They claim enough strength to win when a vote is reached in the House probably late today.

Steering committee members said they refrained from discussing their strategy on Wednesday party session on the forthcoming house fight over labor legislation. It is scheduled to get underway Thursday with consideration of a stripped-down fact-finding bill.

Three Begin Prison Terms

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 29 (AP)—An Ozark hill woman and her neighbor-lover began life prison terms today while in another part of the prison her 15-year-old son started a 12 year sentence for carrying out their murder plot against his father.

Sentencing of the three—Mrs. Henry Westerman, 31; Ben French, the 43-year-old neighbor and Gene Westerman, the son—furnished the Ozark hamlet of Vienna one of its biggest events. Schools were dismissed—and from miles around the hills folk flocked to Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair's courtroom where the three pleaded guilty yesterday to murder charges.

Prosecuting Attorney Hamp Rothwell offered signed confessions which related that the youth, after being talked into it by his mother and French, called his father from bed at midnight last December 2 and with a rifle "shot Pa down just like I would a hog." The father had returned home only a short time before from a war plant job in Kansas.

Examined

Twenty-seven prospective jurors were examined before the final panel was agreed upon. Four were excused by defense attorneys, three by the state, and eight men were dismissed on challenge for cause.

All of the eight said that newspaper articles and discussion of the sensational year-old actions against Heuvel had caused them to form prior opinions as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant.

The courtroom this morning was filled to capacity and the bailiff turned away more than 50 people who wanted to listen in on the trial.

Lt. Virginia Heuvel, army nurse wife of the defendant, sat with her husband in the courtroom today.

Who pays the wages?

Men and women who work for wages get their pay checks from the company. Where does the company get its money?

Obviously, from the sale of its products. In other words, from other men and women who buy what workers make.

Most of what the customer pays goes for wages, directly and indirectly.

If workers ask too much for their services, the prices of the products they make get too high. Fewer customers are able to buy.

The result is fewer sales and fewer jobs.

For the sake of employes, just as much as for the sake of investors, management must keep in mind the fact that the customer pays the wages.

Thus, in the long run sales and jobs grow from a proper balance between wages and prices.
