

City Briefs

Go South—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Friberg and daughter Karen, 6, 1430 E. Main, left Thursday morning to spend the winter months in Phoenix, Ariz. Karen has been ill for some time and the change has been made in the hopes of improving her health.

Veteran Takes Job—Robert M. Brown, 632 N. 10th, has taken a position as senior employment officer of the United States employment office in Klamath Falls. He was recently discharged from the air force.

New Employee—Patricia Hicke, Oregon avenue, has accepted a position with the Modernistic beauty shop as manicurist.

Auctions Will Feature Party

Games, dancing, refreshments and auction of nyons, butter, hams, boxes of cigars and many other scarce items will highlight the American Legion's "Blockbuster Blowout" tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Legion hall, 4th and Klamath, under the general direction of R. D. McGehehey.

"Fatigue" clothes should be worn so that everyone can enjoy the "demolition" fun, McGehehey said. Admission will be 10 cents per person and the affair is for Legion members only from post No. 8 and the nearby posts in Merrill, Malin and Tulelake. It will be a mixed affair and the ladies of the auxiliary will serve refreshments during the evening.

Proceeds of the "Blockbuster Blowout" will be used to finance regular 1946 activities, such as junior baseball, Americanism schools and veterans' legislation.

Fred Pope Will Run For County Post

Fred Pope of Fort Klamath today became the first person to make public an intention to have his name on the primary nominating ballot in the May 17 voting. He will run for re-election as county commissioner on the republican ticket.

Pope filed his petition of intention to run with the county clerk this morning. He is now serving his first term as commissioner.

March 2 Deadline For Filing Reports

Newton B. Nelson, county assessor, today issued a reminder to taxpayers that March 2 is the deadline for filing reports of personal property.

On these reports will be based personal property taxes for 1946-47.

Meeting Set—The women's auxiliary of Canton Crater will meet Thursday, January 14, at 8 p. m. in the IOOF hall. Refreshments will be served after the meeting. The last meeting of the group was January 24, when dinner was served by the chevalliers.

Mail Delivery Postponed By High Drifts

For the first time this winter mail had to be postponed on parts of one rural route when high drifts in the road stopped Elmer Kinderdick, route 2 postal carrier, who was prevented by hard-packed snow from making all his deliveries Wednesday.

Drifts in the road near Pine Grove and the north end of Poe valley district were too hard to drive through and too soft to carry the weight of the truck.

County road crews worked on the blocked sections Thursday and the warmer temperature assisted in melting the packed snow so that all patrons were served in Poe valley area. There were still impassable sections elsewhere on the route.

Snowfall of the past two days has made walking extremely difficult for foot-carriers, slowing down deliveries to one trip per day. Burt E. Hawkins, Klamath Falls postmaster, stated. The post office is making an honest effort to complete trips over all routes and the cooperation of patrons is urgently requested. Snow not cleared from walks and mail boxes can delay and even prevent deliveries from homes.

Many newcomers may not know of the city ordinance concerning clearing sidewalks in front of residences. Hawkins stated, and Chief of Police Orville Hamilton today urged residents to keep walks free of ice and snow.
