

National Potato Letter— Spud Shipments In More Favorable Position Now

Potato shipments as related to January 1 stored stocks in a somewhat more favorable position compared with a few weeks ago, although overall supplies are so heavy that the markets cannot take them all. We do have less doubt as to the physical ability to handle the crop, however, as our supplies improve. Weather will be an important factor from now on as it can create a major setback in the ability of carriers to move heavy

Wisconsin demand has been light, market about steady, price at floor to a nickel below for very few sales. Michigan demand has ruled slow, market dull, price right on floor. Upstate New York demand was slow, market dull, price nickel to dime over ex-celling with holdings comfortably below last year, and nearly four million below average as an indicator that fair prices should continue there.

In the new potato deal, Florida weakened a little during the week, but strengthened later and now stands a dime over a

Terminals showed dull trading in New York for all offerings, with a weaker market on B-size. In Chicago, supplies of old stock are light, with the demand slow and market dull for both old and new stock but with the market about steady. Atlanta reports a steady market on all stock. Boston held about steady on old, dull on new. Detroit has ruled slightly weaker on old with the demand for new slow and the market unsettled. Minneapolis reports dull trading in northern stocks, slightly weaker on western, and dull on new stock. Philadelphia has continued dull all around. In San Francisco, the market is reported as dull on all offerings with Klamath basin prices ranging from $3.40 to $3.65 for U. S. No. 1, size A, in 1c1 lots.

Current dullness in the terminals is hard to understand in view of the low truck holdings, which were reported as 436 cars in the sixteen cities early this week but with heavier holdings expected before the end of the week. Current track holdings are too low to be the cause of dull trading which indicates that the markets do not want more than about 900 cars per day. This may be due to the heavy demurrage penalty—as at $44 per day per car receivers are not disposed to want more potatoes than they can move quickly. Under such a situation many receivers may be weaker sellers, so perhaps the markets do not quite reflect the true value of potatoes currently offered.

Price Support and Surplus Disposal

Shipping records show that of the week's movement, 117 cars were for the government—obviously for relief and the French boat, with the French consignment taking most of the total. With markets consistently at the floor, USDA must start to do something with its loan stocks. If USDA doesn't start quickly it may have an unmanageable flood of offerings not many weeks from now. When it does start to

Two Distinctive Meals with Low-Cost Meats

Many of my most appealing menus are planned around inexpensive cuts of meat. Here are two of my best-liked dinners that are sure to bring you compliments from guests or family.

OLD-FASHIONED BOILED DINNER

Don't forget this old favorite for a wintry day. Even the most discriminating eaters go for it. I like to serve it with hot corn bread or cornmeal muffins and a frosted apple dumpling for dessert. I always pass some of the "pot liquor" and a bowl of mustard-horseradish sauce.

To serve 6, simmer 4 or 5 pounds of boiling beef (choose short ribs, brisket, plate or chuck for this) in a large kettle for 3 or 4 hours or until tender. About 1/2 hour before serving time place on top of the meat 6 medium-sized peeled potatoes, carrots, white turnips, onions, cabbage wedges and parsnips. Sprinkle lightly with salt and cover tightly. Simmer until vegetables are done. Arrange attractively on a large platter around the meat, keeping all of one kind of vegetable together.

POT ROAST WITH RICH VEGETABLE GRAVY

Here's a gravy that's really something. For a Sunday dinner I like to serve pot roast and gravy and accompany it with fluffy mashed potatoes, broccoli with lemon butter, grapefruit and avocado salad with French dressing, whole wheat biscuits and lemon chiffon pie.

Brown a 4 or 5 pound pot roast in hot shortening in a large kettle, turning often. (I usually select one of the chuck roasts or a rump roast to pot roast.) Add 1 to 2 cups water or tomato juice. Put 3 or 4 cut-up tops and outside stalks of celery, a peeled potato, a carrot, a large onion, some leaves of cabbage, parsley and any left-over vegetables you have on hand in the kettle with the pot roast. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover tightly and simmer slowly several hours or until meat is tender, adding more liquid if necessary. When done, remove meat and press vegetables through colander along with the liquid. Season the vegetable gravy to taste with salt and pepper, a few drops of Worcestershire or gravy sauce. I find the mashed vegetables thicken the gravy sufficiently. But if you like thicker gravy, then it may be thickened with flour and water.
