

Representatives To Urge Lake O' The Woods Road Improvement At Meeting

Representatives from Klamath and Jackson communities are expected to go to Portland Tuesday to urge the state highway commission to take steps to develop and improve roads leading to Lake o' the Woods, a favorite Klamath county lake resort spot.

One proposal will be that the Fish Lake road north of Lake o' the Woods to the Jackson county line be made a state secondary highway, and it is expected that the commission will also be asked to schedule improvements on the west side Upper Lake state secondary highway, a part of the route to Lake o' the Woods from Klamath Falls.

County Engineer Wally Hector will go to the highway meeting as representative of Klamath county, and it is understood Medford and Jackson interests will be represented. Residents of both counties own summer homes at the lake or visit the recreational area and resort there frequently in summer months.

Jack Dutcher and Tom Neely, owners of the resort at the lake, outlined the problem before a chamber of commerce directors yesterday, and the matter was referred to the highway committee with power to act.

A group of summer home owners and resort operators on Lake o' the Woods met with the county court yesterday to discuss the road conditions in that part of the county. Mitchell Tillotson, who has a place on the west side of the lake, was spokesman in place of Pat Ivory, president of the Lake o' the Woods Summer Home Owners association, who is out of town.

The county court agreed to cooperate with the property owners for the betterment of the roads and to send Hector to the commission meeting.

The road concerned runs from the mountain north of the lake and connects with a secondary road in Jackson county, a distance of about eight miles. The Dead Indian road from the junction of highway 298 and around the west side of the lake is a county road and would also be worked on. At present the Fish Lake road is in a bad condition and not maintained by the county.

Commercial and sports reasons for improving that road are advanced by the property owners. According to forest service figures there is 276,000,000 feet of merchantable timber in the area which could be moved east to Klamath Falls and 657,000,000 feet may be routed west to Medford.

The chamber of commerce in Medford and the Jackson county court are also sending a representative to Portland for the meeting, and the chamber here is interested in the whole of the road from Klamath Falls to Lake o' the Woods, and also the west side Upper Klamath Lake highway.

Making the Lake o' the Woods road a state highway would tie in with the state's tourist program, it was pointed out, and the lack of grades and curves would make for safer, speedier travel to the lakes area.

Lake o' the Woods holds number one priority as far as the forest service is concerned, for recreation in the whole Rogue River national forest. It is used for numerous youth camps for groups from Klamath.

Grain Lack Means Less Beer For '46
The curtailment of grain order will have other effects than changing the content of white flour, it is reported by beer distributors here. There will be less beer in 1946 than 1945. Details are not yet worked out, but it is expected that 30 per cent less beer will be available starting March 1. It previously had been hoped that beer supplies would be more nearly normal this summer.

VFW Dances To Continue

Dances at Danceland, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be continued every Saturday night until at least July 21, the executive committee of the VFW announced today. Proceeds from these dances are placed in a building fund to be used for a clubhouse for overseas veterans and an information and service center.

The committee said that it has terminated its arrangement with Pappy Gordon's band, due to difficulties in maintaining a regular schedule of appearances for the dances, and has made temporary arrangements with several musical units to play for the Saturday night affairs at Danceland.

"We will make every effort to assure the patrons of Danceland an excellent musical program," said the VFW committee.
