

Pact Signed Merging 2 Opposing Factions Into National Chinese Army

By SPENCER MOOSA
CHUNGKING, Feb. 25 (AP)—An agreement merging central government and communist forces into one national Chinese army was signed today at a ceremony witnessed by General Marshall, special U. S. envoy and adviser to this nation's army reorganization committee.

ferences that it will cost about $370,000 to operate the first year, of which $100,000 would be returned in tuition and rentals.

Those are strange words to come from a New Dealer. In these days of wild economic thinking, they sound almost reactionary.

Jobs Open At Welfare Office Here

The county welfare office, located in the Veterans Memorial building, 4th and Klamath, has openings for several caseworkers and clerical employees and is now taking applications for the positions from persons trained in social work.

Qualifications for a caseworker in II classification include an education equivalent to four years of college, one year of post-graduate work in social sciences and one year of experience, or as an alternative the same amount of education and experience, substituting an additional year of experience for the graduate study.

For persons who have not completed undergraduate study, one year of completed work as a special student in a recognized graduate school of social work, and two years of experience may be considered as qualifying.

The II classification of caseworkers pays from $155 to $195 a month. These jobs are handled by the state merit system council.

The agreement provides for reduction of government forces to 50 divisions and communist troops to 10 divisions within 18 months. The Sino-American headquarters at Peiping, which is implementing the truce in China's civil strife, is charged with supervising terms of the reorganization.

Sign Document
Signing the document were Gen. Chang Chih-chung, for the government, and Gen. Chou En-lai, communist representative.

The reorganization program was formulated at a special military conference in Nanking recently.

The agreement states that its object is to facilitate the economic rehabilitation of China and provide a basis for development of an effective military force capable of safeguarding national security.

It provides for a force consisting of armies of three divisions each, with service troops not to exceed 15 per cent of their total strength.

China was divided into eight service areas under directors responsible to the minister of national defense, or the national military council.

Petition
Earlier today reports circulating in Chungking political circles said 14 top ranking generals had petitioned Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek recently against reducing the army at a time "when the third World War is in the making," but that Chiang refused to halt reduction.

In Shanghai several thousand young Chinese staged a noisy demonstration at the Russian consulate general. They sealed the consulate doors with bright colored posters which demanded that the Russians get out of Manchuria.

Students in Chungking, encouraged by the response to their demonstration Friday, planned another "quit Manchuria" parade tomorrow. In Hankow plans were announced for a similar demonstration March 4.

The term collective bargaining was first used in London in 1891 by Beatrice Webb.

Humble May Run Against Vandenberg

A race for Klamath county's highest elective office, the judgeship of the 13th judicial district, appeared in the making today although the incumbent, David R. Vandenberg, is the only candidate to file so far.

Clarence A. Zumble, present district attorney, said this morning he was "still in the air" over whether to seek the office and would probably make his decision definitely by the end of this week.

The two other local attorneys who had been listed as potential candidates for the judgeship, L. Orth Sisemore and Dayton E. Van Vactor, have both decided against running.

March 8 is the deadline for filing petitions of intentions to run for office, either with the local county clerk in case of county offices and with the secretary of state in Salem for state offices.

Contest Certain
A contest for Klamath's two legislative posts is certain since Troy Cook, potato grower and packer, announced his intention to be a candidate for the republican nomination for representative.

Mrs. Rose M. Poole, who is serving her first term in the lower house, is also a republican candidate, and Henry Semon has filed for renomination on the democratic ticket.

Qualified persons may register to vote in the May 17 primary until April 17 at 5 p. m., at the county clerk's office in the courthouse. Recently the names of about 8000 persons were stricken from the voting lists for failure to vote in two years and other causes.

CIO Defies Order On Wage Raises

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—The CIO today defied its "unwilling to commit itself" to the presidential executive order requiring wage increases to be approved by the wage stabilization board.

The CIO is unwilling to commit itself to a recurrence of wartime delays in the process of wage increasing and in the policy of meaningful distinctions.

CIO President Philip Murray said in a letter to Economic Stabilization Director Chester Bowles after an all-day meeting with his union leaders.

Murray would not say what the CIO's future action would be if the executive order is not amended.

Snow Storm Stops Traffic

Sunday's weather was a mixture of rain, sunshine and snow jumbled together with the mercury reaching 42 degrees at the highest and 23 at the lowest.

The day dawned wet and dripping and rain continued to pour down until afternoon when the sun came out and shone brightly for a while.

The sunshine was followed by snow in town. In the mountains it snowed nearly all day, and a snow storm of such proportions as to stop traffic was reported on the Lakeview highway east of Olene at about 7 o'clock Sunday evening.

About five inches of new snow was reported on the road between Dunsuir and Mt. Shasta in northern California, and one-half inch of new snow fell on Quartz mountain on the Lakeview highway, where the minimum was 12 degrees above.

British Use Of U. S. Arms Issue

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Senator Brewster (R-Me.) proposed today that the United States tell Great Britain to keep American lend-lease military equipment out of current fighting in her colonies or this country will reclaim it.

Brewster established by questioning witnesses before a senate defense subcommittee that the United States has the legal right to place such restrictions on $4,705,000,000 in lend-lease equipment still held by the British.

Benno Smith, legal counsel for the foreign liquidation commissioner, told the committee that while such a legal right exists, a matter of policy is involved that only the secretary of state can decide.

As a result, Brewster told a reporter he will ask the committee to call Secretary Byrnes for testimony on this aspect of pending financial settlements with the British for war goods.

Pollard To Be Guest Of Historical Group

Lancaster Pollard of the Oregon State Historical society will be special guest at the meeting of the Klamath County Historical society to be held at the chamber of commerce Tuesday evening.

Geneva Duncan, president of the local group, said that matters of outstanding importance to the society will be discussed, and urged a full attendance.

Anyone interested in Klamath history is welcome to attend, regardless of membership in the society, she added.

Victory Clothing Drive Successful

LAKEVIEW, Feb. 25 (Special)
In spite of its short duration, the Victory clothing collection for overseas relief, conducted in Lake county from February 7 to 16, was an outstanding success.

A total of 2372 pounds of clothing and 359 pounds of shoes was turned in at the collection depot in the former OPA office by Saturday evening. Arrangements have been made for the Arrow Transit truck to freight the clothing out to the nearest shipping point, from where it will be prepared for shipment overseas.

Work To Start On Power Line

LAKEVIEW, Feb. 25 (Special)
With the rights-of-way from Lakeview to the state line all secured and negotiations underway on the balance of the line from here to Alturas, the California Oregon Power company is set to begin construction as soon as crews are available.

The survey has already been completed to the state line, according to A. B. Wilson, and the necessary supplies are coming in so that work can get started soon.

Last week a carload of poles was received, as well as half a carload of insulators and copper wire. More is to follow, but the shipment already received will enable the company to undertake the construction of the line as soon as the labor is available.

Trucks Barred From Downtown Streets

ASTORIA, Feb. 25 (AP)—Distribution of cargo from large trailer trucks at a central depot and barring of the trucks from downtown streets will be effective here June 15, City Manager James O. Conville said today.

Conville said the order would affect merchandise deliveries.

Northwest du Comice Pears are a famous fruit of piquant taste. While thousands of acres of pears are grown annually in this region, the du Comice claims unique distinction as an outstanding luxury fruit. The parent tree of this species originated in Angers, France. Large du Comice plants were made in the Northwest at the turn of the century.
