HIGH SCHOOL News Notes and Comment

By JOAN O'NEILL
The Junior show was given at 9:05 yesterday morning. It was a well-received show and the talent represented was excellent.

Bud Selby, junior class president, was master of ceremony. The show was opened by Melvin Stocklin, who gave an impersonation of Peter Lorre.

The girls' nonette was next on the program. Beth Chastain, Dorothy Collier, Betty Glidden, Pat Hambrick, Dorothy Howry, Ramona Reeves, Doris Weaver and Lola Whisenant sang beautifully the "Night Is Young and You're So Beautiful." Betty Glidden sang several solo phrases in the song.

Even the grade school was represented in the show. Elwood Tracy played a selection on his saxophone, "Saxema" by Wiedoft. Solo song numbers were rendered by Jerry Falls singing "Because," Irma Mc-Bride who sang "If I Loved You" and Alyce Wells using "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows," as her vocal number.

Barbara Zinn did the accompanying for these numbers as she did for the girls' nonette.
Imitations High Light Show Imitations of Peter Lorre and Bing Crosby by Melvin Stocklin were both extremely good. As Bing Crosby, Mel sang a popular song in which he might have come close to convincing the public that he was Bing. Lee Good, dressed in a full dress suit with the traditional bow tie, was a very reasonable facsimile of Frank Sinatra. Lee sang "But, Oh What It Seemed To Be." Bud Selby, the MC, imitated Edward G. Robinson in one spot during the performance.

Tap numbers were given by two of the dancers at KUHSS, Marilyn O'Neill and Betty Cleig.
Marilyn danced to "St. Louis Blues" and Betty did her number to the tune of "I Can't Give You Anything But Love." Pat Hambrick played "Manhattan Serenade" for the group in one part of the show.

The girls' tumbling team went through their paces. Joyce Diltmanson, LaVonne Earnest, Evelyn King, Connie Koehler, Della Michael, Barbara Perkins, Barbara Phillips, Darlene Price, Dorothy Rigan, Della Robertson, Belle Doris Russel, Mary Stone, Jessie Totten, and Jo Webber appeared in this act.
Ario Shultz and Bob Clammer furnished some comic relief during their act at the show.

On the whole the show was good; quite an improvement over the old amateur show. This program featured talent that has been tested before. Admission to the junior show was 10 cents which was collected in home room.

Return to Oakland—Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Butterfield have returned to their home in Oakland after spending a few days at the Paul Geary home, 1134 N. 8th.
Mrs. Butterfield is the niece of Mrs. Geary.

USO Provides Taxi Service

Just because the marines are leaving Klamath Falls, the USO isn't relaxing in its efforts to do its best for the servicemen.
What started as an occasional trip in the staff car to the Marine Barracks to help the men move luggage to the depot, has become a regular taxi service to help the men get to town when they can't get other transportation. The staff car is on call almost any time during the day.

Girls of the USO staff make regular trips to the Barracks with sandwiches and pastry since the post exchange and hostess house have been closed.
The number of servicemen visiting the USO nightly has decreased since the peak of its operation in November, 1945, from an average of 600 to 700 men per night to an average of 25 now.

The local USO will close March 14, but the national service organization has announced that it will continue operation until December, 1947.

Back Monday—Mrs. Albert Hatten returned Monday from a buying trip to Portland for Shaw's Stationery store. She attended the merchandise show while there and had a pleasant time visiting old friends. Mrs.
Hatten was gone just one week.

Met Today—Merlin Bleak, Boy Scout leadership training chairman, met with his committee at noon today to plan for a Scout masters' training course scheduled for the next few weeks. He will announce detailed plans soon.

To Merrill—Bob Lamott, Boy Scout executive, will go to Merrill Thursday night for a leaders' training session.

Vet Severs Thumb While Cutting Wood

Three years of service in the Pacific when he served with the U. S. army medical corps, much of that time under fire, didn't protect Joseph Yerkovich, 21-year-old returned vetereran, who severed his left thumb Monday night while chopping wood at his home on the Keno highway.

Yerkovich had 20 months' duty in the Philippines and reached the States February 2.
He got home here last Saturday. Yerkovich is in Klamath Valley hospital and expects to be discharged Thursday.

Accepts Position—Dr. Richard Currin has accepted the chairmanship of the Boy Scout advancement committee for the Klamath district, and will work with Percy Murray, who was just named chairman of the committee. The announcements were made by James Patterson, council chairman, and K. G. Klahn, council president.
