

Political Candidates For Democratic Party Nominations Lining Up

PORTLAND, Feb. 28 (AP)—Governatorial and congressional candidates for the democratic party nominations were lining up today as the deadline neared for declaration for the May primary elections.

George Lavey, Multnomah county democratic committee chairman, announced last night he would seek the party's nomination for governor and Floyd K. Dover, Grants Pass, was listed as his running mate for secretary of state.

Lavey's statement followed by five hours the announcement by Richard L. Neuberger, Oregon writer and former state legislator, that he would not seek a major office.

Lavey is a Portland business-

Women's Clubs Slate Project

As a project for 1945-46 the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs will honor 39 outstanding women chosen from as many communities in Oregon.

Announcement of the Women of the Week from Klamath Falls will be made over station KOAC between 2 and 2:30 o'clock on Friday, March 1.

The choice of such Woman of the Week has been made by a secret local committee consisting of three community workers one of whom is a man. The committee has sifted the community for the woman most deserving the honor.

The selection of the Woman of the Week has been made from women who rank highest in the possession of the following attributes:

1. A woman active in community affairs.
 2. A woman who shows qualities of leadership.
 3. A woman who possesses sincerity and understanding.
 4. A woman who holds an international viewpoint.
 5. A woman who inspires genuine cooperation on worthwhile projects.
 6. A woman who achieves success in her homemaking.
- After the selection of the Woman of the Week from Klamath Falls has been announced over KOAC on Friday, March 1, she will be presented with a bouquet through the courtesy of the Klamath Flower Shop.

Navy Accepts 4 Basin Men

The four young men from Klamath basin who left for Portland Sunday night have been accepted by the navy it was announced today.

These men are, Raymond Edward Northcutt, Thomas Carl Gibson Jr., Maxie Elery Prentice, Klamath Falls and Adolph Drazil of Malin.

Northcutt and Drazil signed up as soon as they reached their 17th birthdays.

A total of 18 men to date for February have been sent to the main recruiting station at Portland from the Klamath Falls sub-station, nearly doubling the quota of enlistees for the month. Not one of these men has been rejected by the main station, local recruiters stated.

man and marine corps veteran of World War I. He has never held public office. Dover has been serving on the state advisory committee for veterans affairs and is national aide de camp for the Order of the Purple Heart.

The Multnomah democrat said he would offer the people of Oregon a "liberal and progressive program that will benefit the majority" and urged industrial and hydroelectric power development toward full employment for Oregon.

"I think the present republican administration has done a good job of doing nothing," he declared.

State Committeeman Lew Wallace listed several new candidates for party nomination for congress. He said Tony Yturri, a World War II veteran and attorney of Ontario, has filed for second congressional district. Rufus E. Wood, Clackamas county assessor, also filed for first district and Lyman Ross, of Aloha, announced he would seek nomination for the same district.

In Multnomah county, Ray Dooley, insurance man and World War I veteran, announced he had changed his party registration from republican to democrat and would file for county commissioner on that party's ticket.

Special Tax Levy To Be On Ballot

PORTLAND, Feb. 28 (AP)—A $1,750,000 special tax levy, much of it to be spent in repair of Portland's school buildings, will be on the city ballot in the May primary election.

The school board approved the levy last night.

Oregon Dean Dies On Way To Hospital

EUGENE, Feb. 28 (AP)—E. F. Lawrence, dean of the University of Oregon school of architecture and allied arts, died late yesterday en route to the hospital after he was stricken at the Faculty club on the university campus.

He had designed most of the buildings on the campus. A professor at the architectural school since 1914 and a partner of his son, Abbott Lawrence, in the Portland architectural firm of Lawrence and Lawrence, he was active in professional associations. He was a former vice president and director of the American Institute of Architects and a member of the Association of College Schools of Architecture, the Pacific Coast League of Architects and the Portland Architectural club. He also served on the Portland city planning commission.

MIT Graduate

Lawrence came to Oregon in 1914 from Boston, Mass., where he practiced his profession. He also had offices in Portland, Me., after graduating from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

He was born at Malden, Mass., November 13, 1879. His widow, Alice, and three sons, Abbott, Dennison H., and Amos M., survive. Their home was in Portland.
