Soroptimists Hear Speaker

A particularly fine program was enjoyed by Soroptimists at their Thursday luncheon meeting when Mrs. Victor O'Neill of the Klamath Union high school talked on her work with seniors in practical psychology.

Mrs. O'Neill stated that they do not attempt to go too deeply into the subject, but do enough to help their teen-age problems. As no one is obliged to take this work, only the ones really interested in self-improvement, or with problems which they need help in solving, enter this class. She says the results are quite remarkable and the students thoroughly enjoy the work.

After listening to Mrs. O'Neill, one can imagine how such a teacher inspires our youth in high school. She has enthusiasm and understanding of the problems of youth and a sincere desire to help each student individually. No wonder she is so universally loved and admired. The group decided some practical psychology would be a good thing for adults also, and are seriously considering a course of study along that line. Alice Howard was program chairman for the day and introduced Mrs. O'Neill. With her usual charm and gracious manner, she paid tribute to the speaker whom she has known and worked with for many years.

Eloise McIntyre was enthusiastically welcomed into the club as a new member, and other guests were Mrs. Whytal and Miss Virginia Turnbaugh, a Venture club member.

Announcement was made of the drive for books for Russia and also of the collection of books, games, etc., for recreational use of our boys and girls who are being held as delinquents. The gifts are to be left with Rita Whisenant at Hazel's Beauty salon.

Entertain

BPW Program

The annual Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls program will be presented at Monday evening's meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club, March 4, starting with dinner at 6:30 at the Willard hotel.

Norma Miller, chairman of the Girl Scout and Camp Fire committee, is in charge of arrangements, and those planning to attend who do not have standing reservations are reminded to call Hattie Evans.

Places were set for 11 at the dinner meeting of the Edith Cunningham book club held Monday evening, February 25, at Coral Sabo's new home on Pine street.

A review of "Tolstoi and His Wife" by Tikhon Polner, a translation, was presented by Catherine Brumbaugh. It was announced that the club's next meeting will be with Suzanne Hamilton at her home on North Third.

Wed Saturday

Saturday evening, February 23, at 8 o'clock, Phyllis G. Alter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Condrey, exchanged vows with Rolland K. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. King, in a ceremony read by the Rev. Howard Hutchins in the First Christian church.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Grace Condrey, aunt of the bride, and Bob King, brother of the groom.

The bride wore a gray suit with matching accessories and carried a white prayer book topped with iris and white carnations. For jewelry she wore a gift of the groom, a gold crucifix.

Mrs. Condrey, the bride's attendant, wore a coral suit with black accessories.

Following the ceremony, a small reception attended by the immediate families and close friends of the couple, was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The groom recently was discharged from the air force after spending 18 months in Alaska. Mr. and Mrs. King will make their home in Klamath Falls.

MARRIED LATE LAST FALL were Captain Floyd C. Kirkpatrick of Klamath Falls and Pauline Rederth. They are now in Cherry Point, North Carolina.
