KF Plant Builds Equipment For New Elk Lumber Company

Machinery and equipment for the new Elk Lumber company plant north of Medford is now being designed and built by the Klamath Machine and Locomotive Works here it was learned this week.

The mill, to be ready for operation in July, will be located just north of Pierce airfield and west of the Southern Pacific railway at Medford. Sawing of both pine and fir in assorted measurements is contemplated. The operation will employ about 25 men. One thousand feet of spur track will be laid and a four-acre pond built.

The deck, which brings logs up to the saw from the pond and the tail sawyer which carries lumber away from the saw mill, both be automatic devices. A hand manipulated arm for dumping edgings from the conveyor into a specially constructed slot is also a labor saving feature of the new plant.

Bad Roads Hinder Mail Deliveries

All mail deliveries on rural routes 2 and 3 were not completed the last of the week due to road conditions.

The north part of the Poe valley road by the Liskey ranch on route 2 was impassable because of the mud Saturday. Burt E. Hawkins announced. Part of route 3 in the Stewart-Lenox addition was also too muddy to travel. The Shippington area near Pelican City was also bad and all deliveries could not be made to rural boxes.

Rural carriers started out as usual Monday and made as many deliveries as possible.

The condition near Poe valley is due to heavy vehicles using the road while it is soft, Hawkins said.

The day was overcast with snow and wind but the rope tow is located where it was sheltered from the full force of the wind. Hot lunch was served in the warmup shack.

An unprecedented program for long distance expansion

Thousands of miles of new circuits will be built on the Pacific Coast

During 1945, we handled more than 346 million long distance calls... an increase of some 57 million over the previous year.

That means we handled close to a million calls every day.

To meet the ever-increasing demand, we are now making an unprecedented expansion in long distance facilities on the Pacific Coast. Thousands of miles of new circuits are being built; special vacuum tube equipment is being installed to boost the number of calls existing lines can handle; new toll and long distance switchboards are being added.

Yes, we're expanding long distance facilities in many ways and preparing for the many new improvements to come. We're on our way to providing a better long distance service than you ever dreamed possible.
