

Ground School Course Will Be Outlined

LAKEVIEW, March 16 — The outlining of a complete ground school course for members interested in learning to fly will be the feature of Tuesday's meeting of the newly organized Lake County Aeronautics association, to take place in the courthouse here.

Carter Fetsch, vice president of the association and chairman of the committee in charge of the training program, in making this announcement said the entire course will be given without charge to the members.

"Our plans are," added Fetsch, "to complete all training of this kind, after which arrangements will be made to offer flight training at the most nominal cost. All instruction, both ground and air, will be carried on by qualified persons who are members of the local association."

William Strong was elected president of the aeronautics body for the coming year at this week's meeting. Other officers named: Fetsch, first vice president; Robert Welch, second vice president; Walter E. Sandquist, secretary; Dean North, treasurer; F. J. Faha, Dale Williams and Jack Mayne, advisory board members.

Strong said the association will close its charter membership on March 26, immediately after which application will be made for affiliation with the National Aeronautics association.

Hal's Sport Shop To Open

Hal's Sport shop will be the name of the new store which is scheduled to open April 1 at 523 Main.

Harold Shidler, operator of the army and navy store at 627 Main for the past two years is opening the new store. Bert Rohu, sportsman and camera enthusiast, Helen McClure and Mrs. Shidler will assist him.

The store formerly occupied by the M. C. Cassel chiropractic clinic is being remodeled. It will be finished with a knotty pine and bleached wood effect. Shidler will still handle the agency for army and navy merchandise, California and Oregon fishing and hunting licenses, surplus goods, sport and camp equipment.

There will also be tailoring service with sewing and pressing and monograms for goods.

Shidler came here from Portland two years ago. For 11 years he was athletic coach in Bremerton. He has been interested in general sports all his life.

He has just returned from a buying trip from California and Washington for the new store.

Colleges Plan Farm Courses

The state board of higher education, at its meeting early this week in Portland, appointed a committee to work out a two-year terminal course in agriculture at Southern Oregon college and Eastern Oregon college.

R. C. Groesbeck, a board member from Klamath Falls initiated the action. The course at the southern branch is to emphasize horticulture. Presidents A. Strand of Oregon State college, Roben Maaske of Eastern Oregon college, and Elma Stevenson of Southern Oregon college, constituted the committee membership. They are to present the curricula at the next meeting of the board.

This course will be two years in duration and will enable veterans and others to prepare themselves as orchardists and farmers so that they may operate more effectively their own orchards or farms, and perform more efficient work for companies.

Dance Slated At Tulelake

TULELAKE, March 16 — Ladies and gentlemen will wear overalls and gingham (if you can get them) at the annual Firemen's ball planned for Saturday night, March 23, in the Legion hall. George Pierce's orchestra of six pieces from Alturas, a dance orchestra that has built up a big following, will furnish the music. Dancing begins at 9 o'clock.

Prizes will be given away and lunch will be furnished by the firemen at midnight.

Tickets have been going like hot cakes and the two captains of the ticket sales, Johnny Cortez and Jerry Van Buskirk, are each hoping that their committees won't have to cook and serve the dinner that is promised for the winners.

Funds from the year dances go into the treasury for maintenance of the equipment used by the volunteer department.

A. G. Boyd is general chairman and his assistants are Don Webster, Clifton Hines and Floyd A. Boyd.

Tremors Still Felt In South

LOS ANGELES, March 16 (AP) — The earth continued to twitch today, but workmen planned repairs to the Los Angeles aqueduct, caved in by a massive boulder dislodged in southern California's most severe earthquake since 1933.

Settling shocks still were felt on the Mojave desert some 150 miles north of here, where occurred the only damage from a tremor scientists said was comparable to the Long Beach disaster 13 years ago this month, or the equally severe Santa Barbara quake in 1925.

But officials of the Los Angeles department of water and power said repairs would be started as soon as the earth shocks subside and would be completed 48 hours later. Meanwhile there was no danger of a water shortage here, with reservoirs nearly full and a plentiful supply coming from the Colorado river to the east via the metropolitan aqueduct.

One boulder tore a nine-foot hole in the concrete pipeline yesterday, spouting water across the arid desert at a rate of 100,000 gallons a minute before it could be shut off at an intake still further north.

Spain Claims Full Neutrality

MADRID, March 16 (AP) — The Spanish foreign office, announcing a reply to the United States white book on Generalissimo Franco's regime, declared today that Spain maintained her "independence at all times during the civil war as well as the European war."

The foreign office said only two of the 15 documents published by the U. S. state department affected the United States because the others referred to the years 1940 and 1941 when the United States "like Spain was a neutral country."

Her Mother Came From Ireland

CLEAFIELD, Utah, March 16 (AP) — Glen Orton of Peterson, Utah, said today his white duck laid a greenish colored egg last Tuesday and had duplicated the feat daily ever since.

Orton offered no explanation, except to comment that perhaps the duck, a white Pekin, probably was influenced by advance publicity on St. Patrick's Day or was warming up for the Easter egg parade.

Orton is a fireman at the naval supply depot here.
