Pair Of Fast Service Teams AAU Favorites

DENVER, March 20 (AP)—Despite strong challenges by a number of unheralded teams, all of the original favorites in the national AAU basketball tournament still were on hand today as the real payoff battling began in the big cage classic.

Sixteen entries from the original 64-team field were left after an exciting second round in which some of the "big names" that got the "sudden death" blow from little known service and college teams.

Three of the faster service outfits remained in the meeting and all of them were given a fighting chance to survive today's third round shooting and advance into the select quarter-final circle.

The Fleet Marine Force of Honolulu will be favored to eliminate the Phillips Lee Tires of Bartlesville, Okla., and the the fast-breaking Soldiers of Oceanside, Calif., were expected to oust the Seattle, Wash., Alpine Dairy.

Facing the toughest assignment of the service trio will be the fast-breaking soldiers of Fort Sheridan, Ill., who are paired with the classy San Francisco Dardis.

Seven of the eight members of the American league, the west's dominant amateur hoop circuit, still were in the lists. The exception was the Sacramento Senators, who fell last night before Allen-Bradley of Milwaukee, 45-42.

Some of the remaining ABL members like the national champion Phillips 66 Oilers and Hollywood 20th Century Fox didn't come through, however, without narrow escapes against teams that had been regarded as breathers.

The Oilers will come up today against the Western Oil Toolers of Casper, Wyo., tallest team in the tournament.

The other ABL teams are the Salt Lake City Simplot-Deserets, Denver Ambrose Jellymakers, San Diego Dons, Kansas City M. and O., and San Francisco Dardis.

Kurowski About To Be Tossed

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20 (AP)—The holdout of George Kurowski, crack Cardinals third baseman, is beginning to look like the real article, and it would not be surprising if he were sold or traded shortly to another National league club.

The pattern is correct. President Sam Breadon of the Cards is beginning to appear irritated when Kurowski's name comes up. In the past that has proved a pretty accurate sign that some St. Louis player was about to change uniforms.

Kurowski, who led the Cards in hitting last year with a .323 average and is one of the best third-baseman playing today, is serious in his intention of not playing for the team again at the sort of pay he has been receiving. He said as much right after the '45 season ended.

It is generally thought his contract last year called for approximately $10,000. It is known he was offered an increase, but it must not have been nearly enough. Kurowski, after looking at the record, doubtless feels he is worth somewhere close to the $16,000 being drawn by shortstop Marty Marion.

He knows, too, that he could draw that kind of money, or even more, from several other National league outfits.

As for the St. Louis club's position, it probably could scrape along without Kurowski and still win the pennant, though its third basing would not be of as high calibre as it has. At the present time, speedy Al Schoendienst and Ervin Dusak are taking turns playing the position in exhibition games.

Fordham, which dropped football in 1942, is resuming the game under a new coach, Ed Danowski, one-time Fordham great and national football league star with the New York Giants.

Nitschelm Stars As Riverside Defeats Mills

Riverside defeated Mills for the second time last night, 13-8 in an overtime game, to gain a spot in the semi-finals of the grade school B basketball tourney. Mills is out of the double elimination meet now.

The Riverside squad was two points behind with but three seconds to go yesterday afternoon, when Bob Buffington of Mills fouled George Nitschelm's shooting.

Nitschelm then sank two free throws, the first of the game for Riverside, knotting the count at eight-all.

In the overtime Nitschelm and Garry Heidrich sank baskets and Jerry Johnson hit a foul shot for the margin of victory. Heidrich was high scorer with 6 points and Robert Long of Mills scored four.

Umpire Says Players Don't Know Rules

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 20 (AP)—American league Umpire Hal Weafer says he is convinced the many baseball players and even a few managers "do not know the rules."

"The only time some of them ever look one up," Weafer—a big league arbiter for four years—declared, "is when they lose an argument with an umpire."

Weafer told a reporter umpires consult the rule book often, and asserted some read the regulations four or five times each week.

Rhode Island Is Long-Shot In National Cage Tourney

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—Rhode Island State's doughty band of cagers who already have upset the dope bucket twice in the national invitation basketball tournament have been made longshots again for their championship match with Kentucky's smooth five in Madison Square Garden tonight.

The oddsmen are favoring Kentucky by 8½ points a fact which is far from displeasing to Ernie Calverley and his wild-running mates. Last team to be picked for the tourney, the Rams advanced to the final round by upsetting Bowling Green and Muhlenberg.

The Wildcats, who never got beyond the semi-final stage of the eight-team tourney before, were top-seeded this time and their play to date has justified their high rating. But to win, Kentucky will have to stop Calverley.

Hero of the 18,000 plus crowd who have jammed the garden for all games so far, the slim, 145 pound dead-eye Dick has accumulated 43 points in two contests.

Kentucky, loaded with talent, has been sparked by Jack Tingle. He broke up the contest against West Virginia Monday with three baskets in the last two minutes and has racked up 29 points in his two tilts. Along with Tingle, Jack Parkinson and Ralph Beard have drawn the cheers of the 58,419 dribble addicts who have seen the three doubleheaders. Another sellout crowd of over 18,000 is assured for tonight's contest.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20 (AP)—Spiked in his left hand in a game with the St. Louis Cardinals, jumping Joe Gordon, crack second baseman of the New York Yankees, will have X-rays taken today to see whether he suffered a fracture.

Spiked through his glove by Bob Rhawn in an attempt to head off the St. Louis player on a force play at second, Gordon was examined at a hospital and found to have sustained a completely severed extensor tendon of the middle finger of the left hand and the bone of the finger was slightly chipped.
