

Full Tummies For These Youngsters

One of the lower grades in a certain school we know, the teacher asked the children to present a favorite dinner during health class. As a vegetable, potatoes predominated, and the menu was even first choice on a number of menus for both boys and girls. Here is a list of the dishes:

One fellow suggested as a well rounded meal, and a filling one might add, "5 meatballs, 6 oranges, 4 apples, 6 hotdogs" offered bowls of soup, "banners" and "hamburges with onions" to top it off.

Another fellow who likes a stout meal, proposed: "tomato chops, chop sawey, ham and chops, smahet potatoes, "pu n ch, milk, root beer, and cake" for dessert.

Don't always the men that get out for big meals, some of the little women liked a heavily loaded plate. Here's one: "chicken soup, pork chops, beef, pig head with an apple," etc. That should tide her over until the next meal.

One little fellow gave "frite" as his favorite snack and a small girl whose appetite was very well, went for "fillet without bones and lemon with fuz on top!"

Through it all, spinach was the favorite but now and then such delicacies as "bananas" cropped out to show that imagination was still working.

Mr. Frederick G. Lewis, who has been during the 11 years following his departure from duty at the Marine Barracks is packed and waiting for quarters are now available on Guam where the Marine officer is stationed. First violets of spring were brought to us Friday by Mrs. Wayne, the fragrant little purple blossoms coming in the temperamental spring weather in her garden.

Don Neal of the KFLW staff found a new word while making his way through a few of our savorly court stories this week: "My, this town gives me inspiration!"

Ensign and Mrs. Stuart Nelson (Barbara Johnson), are parents of their first child, a little girl, on late Friday night, March 2, at Klamath Valley hospital. Ensign Nelson, who was here for the week, left Thursday for his home at Corpus Christi, Tex., by plane. Mrs. Nelson arrived on the children's birthday, which makes that date very important. The parents are Dr. and Mrs. D. Johnson of this city, and Carl Nelsons of Salem. The night: 7 pounds 11 ounces.

Also arriving on March 22 was daughter, Annette Susie, to Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Thayer (Henrietta Wright). The little girl has been named for her maternal

Extravaganza Given Thursday

There couldn't possibly be a scrap of bright material left in Klamath Falls after the colorful production given last Thursday night at the KUHS auditorium, when the grade school music extravaganza was presented by students of the type of production which they wished to present, but the Latin countries redolent and bright print skirts, gaudy sashes and shawls made a gay evening of it.

Pelican school was the first on the program, presented to a packed house of proud parents and admiring friends. The "Standing Room Only" sign was long before the Pelican youngsters took over the stage.

Each school had the opportunity to choose the type of performance which they wished to present, but the Latin countries redolent and bright print skirts, gaudy sashes and shawls made a gay evening of it.

with this clever bit of acting, especially that of the barber shop quartet.

On purpose we've left out the names of the individual children who appealed to us as being outstanding in their efforts to make this one of the new highs in school entertainment. And we don't dare name our favorite performance!

The Conger youngsters held the spotlight during the second performance with their operetta "Spring," in which Jack Frost held his magic brush open the pretty little program. Third, fourth and fifth graders were in as number, the children appearing in the garb of flowers, birds and fairies.
